Opening Verse of Scripture - Ephesians 4:32

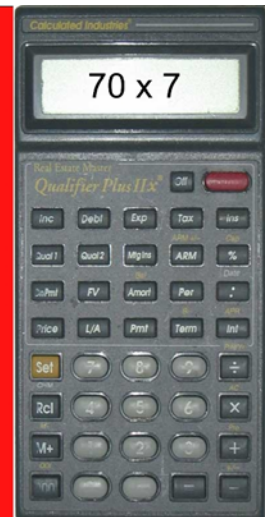

Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you.

Collect Prayer (Before we read we pray)

God our redeemer, who called your church to witness that you were in Christ reconciling the world to yourself: help us so to proclaim the good news of your love that all who hear it may be reconciled to you; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Keeping Score

Mt. 18:21-35

First Bible Reading - Genesis 50: 15-21

When Joseph's brothers saw that their father was dead, they said, "What if Joseph holds a grudge against us and pays us back for all the wrongs we did to him?" So they sent word to Joseph, saying, "Your father left these instructions before he died: 'This is what you are to say to Joseph: I ask you to forgive your brothers the sins and the wrongs they committed in treating you so badly.' Now please forgive the sins of the servants of the God of your father." When their message came to him, Joseph wept. His brothers then came and threw themselves down before him. "We are your slaves," they said. But Joseph said to them, "Don't be afraid. Am I in the place of God? ²⁰ You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives. So then, don't be afraid. I will provide for you and your children." And he reassured them and spoke kindly to them.

(This is the Word of the Lord — Thanks be to God)

Second Reading Romans 14: 1-12

Accept the one whose faith is weak, without quarrelling over disputable matters. One person's faith allows them to eat anything, but another, whose faith is weak, eats only vegetables. The one who eats everything must not treat with contempt the one who does not, and the one who does not eat everything must not judge the one who does, for God has accepted them. Who are you to judge someone else's servant? To their own master, servants stand or fall. And they will stand, for the Lord is able to make them stand. One person considers one day more sacred than another; another considers every day alike. Each of them should be fully convinced in their own mind. Whoever regards one day as special does so to the Lord. Whoever eats meat does so to the Lord, for they give thanks to God; and whoever abstains does so to the Lord and gives thanks to God. For none of us lives for ourselves alone, and none of us dies for ourselves alone. If we live, we live for the Lord; and if we die, we die for the Lord. So, whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord. For this very reason, Christ died and returned to life so that he might be the Lord of both the dead and the living. You, then, why do you judge your brother or sister? Or why do you treat them with contempt? For we will all stand before God's judgment seat. It is written:

"'As surely as I live,' says the Lord, 'every knee will bow before me; every tongue will acknowledge God.'"

So then, each of us will give an account of ourselves to God.

(This is the Word of the Lord — All: Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Matthew 18: 21-35

Then Peter came to Jesus and asked, "Lord, how many times shall I forgive my brother or sister who sins against me? Up to seven times?" Jesus answered, "I tell you, not seven times, but seventy-seven times. "Therefore, the kingdom of heaven is like a king who wanted to settle accounts with his servants. As he began the settlement, a man who owed him ten thousand bags of gold was brought to him. Since he was not able to pay, the master ordered that he and his wife and his children and all that he had be sold to repay the debt. "At this the servant fell on his knees before him. 'Be patient with me,' he begged, 'and I will pay back everything.' The servant's master took pity on him, cancelled the debt and let him go. "But when that servant went out, he found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred silver coins. He grabbed him and began to choke him. 'Pay back what you owe me!' he demanded. "His fellow servant fell to his knees and begged him, 'Be patient with me, and I will pay it back.' "But he refused. Instead, he went off and had the man thrown into prison until he could pay the debt. When the other servants saw what had happened, they were outraged and went and told their master everything that had happened. "Then the master called the servant in. 'You wicked servant,' he said, 'I cancelled all that debt of yours because you begged me to. Shouldn't you have had mercy on your fellow servant just as I had on you?' In anger his master handed him over to the jailers to be tortured, until he should pay back all he owed. "This is how my heavenly Father will treat each of you unless you forgive your brother or sister from your heart."

"(This is the Word of the Lord — All: Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

Almighty God, you have taught us through your Son that love is the fulfilling of the law: grant that we may love you with our whole heart and our neighbours as ourselves; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Commentary

Today the reading from Matthew is about forgiveness. Many people find this difficult, because it is intensely personal, most of us have people in our past that we would not want to forgive. Usually people struggle with forgiveness because they think that it implies pretending that something in the past didn't happen, or it implies condoning something bad. So this morning we will look at forgiveness and we will also think about some of these issues.

We learn today that forgiveness must be unlimited. Peter comes to Jesus and he asks about forgiveness and he is really sharp. He knows Jesus is big on forgiveness and so instead of suggesting that we should forgive once, or twice, or three times, he really goes for it, he suggests no less than seven times ! It must be said that Jesus appears quite mean, because he takes Peter's seven and doesn't just make it a bit more, he makes it unimaginably more — seventy times seven. Jesus makes Peter's attempt at generosity seem totally lame.

Forgiveness is good for you

Remember forgiveness is about you, not the person you are having to forgive. The Greek word for forgiveness is apheemei. It means "letting go." On a purely human level forgiveness is good for you. Forgiveness is much more beneficial to the one who forgives than to the one who is forgiven. Forgiving, letting go of feelings of revenge and retribution, is a potent healing act. Forgiveness boosts your self-esteem and lowers your blood pressure and heart rate. Forgiveness also helps you sleep better at night and boosts a positive change in your attitude. Studies have found that those who forgive no longer had feelings of anxiety and depression and felt better about themselves. Forgiveness "reduces anger, hurt, depression and stress and leads to greater feelings of optimism, hope, compassion and self confidence."

Forgiveness also should not be simply equated with forgetting.

There is quite a lot of contradicting advice about whether we can forgive and forget. Forgiveness doesn't say, "it's like it never happened" -- that's amnesia. I suppose humanly speaking there are sometimes things which we can never put out of our minds, but forgiveness means that if we look back on them then they have no power to hurt us and we give them no power to hurt others. The slogan "forgive and forget" is about denial. There are some hurts and scars from our past that need to be remembered. If we don't remember some of the hurts of the past and refuse to be victim to them again, then we stand to repeat our past mistakes. But, we remember the hurts of our past not to repeatedly play the role of victim or to hold the perpetrators hostage with guilt. Instead we are empowered to make wiser choices in the present and the future. Remembering the hurts of South African apartheid, Archbishop Desmond Tutu declared that forgiveness draws out “the sting in the memory that threatens to poison our entire existence.” Tutu says, “We must forgive if there is to be a future.” Forgiveness does not require us to forget. What it does require is “release,” the release of the negativity and hostility associated with the past. Letting go. Christ compels us to forgive so the desire for revenge will not poison our souls.

Forgiveness is not condoning wrong.

Forgiveness does not require us to forget, neither does it require us to ignore injustice or injury. Sin must be acknowledged for what it is both by the victims and the perpetrators. Too often, Christians equate forgiveness with passively accepting or ignoring wrong. If we ignore the wrong and do not recognise sin for what it is, then we are dangerous people. So often the church has preached that forgiveness requires persons to be allowed second chances, this has meant that victims have been victimised.

This has been seen where priests have been relocated away from churches where they have abused children. It is seen when women are sent back to marriages with abusive partners. Forgiveness does not condone sin, or ignore wrong. Forgiveness insists that perpetrators confess, repent. Forgiveness should not be equated with reconciliation, it takes two to be reconciled, it only takes one to forgive. Today we are talking about us and what we must do, forgive. The behaviour of the one who is forgiven is quite a different story. If a person accepts forgiveness, then the assumption is that they know they are naughty, want to change. Forgiveness is about you alone. Setting yourself free from the burden of the past. Anger, vengeance these are things which burn us up. It was Gandhi, who said "an eye for an eye" leaves the whole world blind. Forgiveness on the other hand allows us all to let go and move on.

We forgive because we are forgiven

The forgiveness which we are concerned about today is not just about a psychological process which is good for us. For the Christian forgiveness has a completely different and spiritual quality. We have no choice about whether to forgive, because we have been forgiven. As we realise the cost of forgiveness shown by Jesus, so we cannot be other than forgiving. Since we know immeasurable forgiveness, how could we possibly be miserly with forgiveness towards others? There is a direct correspondence between our ability to forgive and our understanding that we too have been forgiven. As our souls are at peace with God, so we are at peace with others. To be a Christian is to be somebody who knows they are forgiven, and to be a person able to forgive. You don't just forgive because it's good for you, You don't just forgive because the Bible tells you to, You forgive because you have been forgiven. As the writer of Ephesians puts it, "Be kind to one another, tender hearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ has forgiven you"(Ephesians 4:32). Charles Royden

Meditation

“May the lives remembered, the deeds recognized, and the spirit reawakened by eternal beacons, which reaffirm respect for life, strengthen our resolve to preserve freedom, and inspire an end to hatred, ignorance and intolerance.” From the memorial to be dedicated at the former World Trade Center

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

Faithful God, we need your forgiveness, constantly renewing our lives, freeing us to be a people of faith, hope and love made whole by your grace. We pray for those struggling to forgive others; people who have had great wrongs done to them or to those they love. Loving God, help us to forgive from our hearts. Amen

We pray for those who cannot forgive themselves; people who cannot live with the knowledge of what they have said or done. We pray for those in desperate need of forgiveness; people torn apart by guilt or regret, their lives in need of rebuilding. Loving God, help us to forgive from our hearts. Amen

We pray for ourselves, learning to offer forgiveness by absorbing hurts and not returning them; learning to offer to all the forgiveness made known in Christ upon the cross. Loving God, help us to forgive from our hearts. We pray for ourselves, learning to accept forgiveness as we give our lives in faith to you our loving Father, learning to accept the forgiveness offered by others as we live in humble love with one another. Loving God, help us to forgive from our hearts. Amen Christine Odell

May you experience the breadth and length and height and depth of the forgiving love of the trinity, and the blessing of God Almighty, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, be among you and remain with you always. Amen

“O God, how much we value your mercy! All mankind can gather under your protection.” Ps. 36, 8

Harvest

'A time to give thanks, for things we take for granted'

Our Harvest this year will support BeCHaR.
(Bedford Concern for the Homeless and Rootless)

Every year at Harvest our churches gather together to give thanks for the many good things which we are able to enjoy. We thank God for the basics like food and water, and we also remember those who work hard to provide all the things we need.

To show our gratitude for how fortunate we are, we always use Harvest as an opportunity to raise funds and give towards a charity. This year we are remembering the most vulnerable and homeless in our own community, those who haven't even got a roof over their heads.

Our chosen charity is BeCHaR (Bedford Concern for the Homeless and Rootless) a local Bedford charity based in Prebend Street Day Centre. They desperately need funds and resources. They need things like tins of food to feed the hungry, they also need our financial support. Please come and join us for harvest, give thanks for what we have and remember those who have nothing.

Over the next few weeks please drop off any tins or gifts for BeCHaR at the churches in the foyer. These will then be taken to BeCHaR

For more information about BeCHaR call our church offices or visit the website www.prebendcentre.org.uk

Messy Church starts again on Wednesday 21 September. We are delighted with the response we have had from children and their carers who have joined 'Messy Church' at St Mark's. We began in October 2010 with just 6 children and 4 parents; 31 children and 17 carers came to our last session in June. Between October and June a total of 49 children and 26 carers have come to Messy Church; children have to be accompanied by an adult. Over nine monthly sessions, these have included mums, dads and grandparents. All fully participated in the teaching, worship, activities and the meal with which each meeting finishes. In the sessions we have covered a range of Bible stories: The feeding of the 5000; David and Goliath; The Nativity; Zacchaeus; The Good Shepherd; Saint Patrick; Easter, The Wedding at Cana and the Creation. On the 3 August we had a 'Messy Church' crafts area at the Waveney Green Family Day, 'Gathering on the Green', where making animals out of 'junk' materials proved especially popular. We have built up an excellent Messy Church team who continue to enthusiastically to give, their time and talents, enabling us to deliver fun and high quality 'Church' to children and adults who might otherwise not hear the Good News. We also benefit from the help of two Pre School staff who bring a few of the children to the sessions. You can see a photograph of some of the 'team' on the Messy Church notice board. This was taken in July at a 'Bring and Share Meal' we enjoyed to celebrate the success of the previous 9 months team effort.

However we do need a few more people to help, especially if some of our regular, team members are unable to be at session. Messy Church is held from 3.45 to 5.30pm on the 3rd Wednesday of the month. The next session will be on 21 September. If you are interested in helping please speak to Jean Bank or Wendy Waters.

Footprints Walking Group We were due to do this walk last Sunday but, sadly, rain stopped play, so we are offering the same walk today, Sunday 11th September, since several people have expressed an interest. All are cordially invited to join us on a 3½ mile walk from Tempsford along delightful paths beside the River Ivel and through the village of Blunham – plus a fascinating, but optional, extra bit at the end on return to Tempsford! Paths may be muddy after rain, so appropriate footwear is advised, as are long trousers as this is a bit of a jungle jaunt in places. Don't let that put you off, because the walk is worth it. We will meet in Tempsford in time for a 2.30pm departure. Park beside the road opposite the Wheatsheaf pub; we will begin our walk along Mill Lane. If you have any queries, please contact Alison and Warwick Holden at St Mark's.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

Michael Kenneth Eaton

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'
