Thank You

The Flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Rita and Nigel Platt and family, to give thanks for the christening of Tariq and Curtis on 6th March, and also in memory of Justin on his birthday.

The flowers at St Mark's Church this week have been given by Margaret on the happy occasion of her eldest son—Philip Downing Standley's 50th birthday.

We are grateful when people make donations towards flowers perhaps to celebrate a special occasion such as an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact Miss Marion Prior 303254 (St Mark's) or Ann Hitt 404186 (Putnoe Heights) or add your name to the rota in the foyers.

Prayer for This Week

Gracious Father,
your blessed Son Jesus Christ came from heaven to be the true bread which gives life to the world.
Evermore give us this bread,
that he may live in us, and we in him;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Opening Sentence from Scripture — Psalm 51

Have mercy on me, O God, according to your unfailing love; according to your great compassion blot out my transgressions. Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin.

Collect Prayer (Before we read we pray)

Almighty God, whose Son Jesus Christ fasted forty days in the wilderness, and was tempted as we are, yet without sin: give us grace to discipline ourselves in obedience to your Spirit; and, as you know our weakness, so may we your power to save; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen Common Worship & Methodist Worship

Gethsemane by Michael Freeman

First Bible Reading — Genesis 2: 15-17, 3: 1-7

The LORD God took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden to work it and take care of it. And the LORD God commanded the man, "You are free to eat from any tree in the garden; but you must not eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, for when you eat of it you will surely die."

Now the serpent was more crafty than any of the wild animals the LORD God had made. He said to the woman, "Did God really say, 'You must not eat from any tree in the garden'?" The woman said to the serpent, "We may eat fruit from the trees in the garden, but God did say, 'You must not eat fruit from the tree that is in the middle of the garden, and you must not touch it, or you will die.' "

You will not surely die," the serpent said to the woman. "For God knows that when you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil." When the woman saw that the fruit of the tree was good for food and pleasing to the eye, and also desirable for gaining wisdom, she took some and ate it. She also gave some to her husband, who was with her, and he ate it. Then the eyes of both of them were opened, and they realized they were naked; so they sewed fig leaves together and made coverings for themselves.

(This is the Word of the Lord — Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - Romans 5: 12-19

Therefore, just as sin entered the world through one man, and death through sin, and in this way death came to all men, because all sinned— for before the law was given, sin was in the world. But sin is not taken into account when there is no law. Nevertheless, death reigned from the time of Adam to the time of Moses, even over those who did not sin by breaking a command, as did Adam, who was a pattern of the one to come. But the gift is not like the trespass. For if the many died by the trespass of the one man, how much more did God's grace and the gift that came by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, overflow to the many! Again, the gift of God is not like the result of the one man's sin: The judgment followed one sin and brought condemnation, but the gift followed many trespasses and brought justification. For if, by the trespass of the one man, death reigned through that one man, how much more will those who receive God's abundant provision of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one man, Jesus Christ. Consequently, just as the result of one trespass was condemnation for all men, so also the result of one act of righteousness was justification that brings life for all men. For just as through the disobedience of the one man the many were made sinners, so also through the obedience of the one man the many will be made righteous.

(This is the Word of the Lord — Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Matthew 4: 1-11

Then Jesus was led by the Spirit into the desert to be tempted by the devil. 2After fasting forty days and forty nights, he was hungry. The tempter came to him and said, "If you are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread." Jesus answered, "It is written: 'Man does not live on bread alone, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God.'" Then the devil took him to the holy city and had him stand on the highest point of the temple. 6"If you are the Son of God," he said, "throw yourself down. For it is written: " 'He will command his angels concerning you, and they will lift you up in their hands, so that you will not strike your foot against a stone.'" Jesus answered him, "It is also written: 'Do not put the Lord your God to the test.'" Again, the devil took him to a very high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendour. "All this I will give you," he said, "if you will bow down and worship me." Jesus said to him, "Away from me, Satan! For it is written: 'Worship the Lord your God, and serve him only.'" Then the devil left him, and angels came and attended him. Commentary

Lent is traditionally a time of self examination in preparation for the most significant Christian festival, Easter, when we celebrate Jesus' overcoming the power of death and rising again so we may have new life in him and through him. So it is in the knowledge of trust in the knowledge that Jesus went through the same self examination, the same agony of being tempted by the devil, but came out the other side free from sin. The difference of course between Jesus and ourselves is that we are not without sin, we will all have succumbed to temptation, and we have all fallen short of Jesus' perfect example of complete resistance to the devil's clever and subversive methods. The word 'test' may be a better understood and be a more accurate translation than 'temptation'. Temptation implies a purely negative experience. Whereas we should remember that, after being baptised in the Holy Spirit, Jesus was 'led by the (same) Spirit into the wilderness' (Chap 4; 1) in preparation for the task ahead of him. So Jesus' wilderness experience was a time of both challenge and character building. So if we enter into the Lenten wilderness bearing these two aspects in mind we may find it not so much as an endurance as an enlightenment.

Within the Matthew account of 'The Temptations' we read that in his response to the devil, Jesus draws on his knowledge of Scripture to rebuff all three of the devil's offers, which if taken up will mar his relationship with God and destroy the ministry he had come to earth to fulfill. All three of the quotes Jesus uses come from the book of Deuteronomy, which relates to Israel's' experience of testing in the desert: Matt 4: 4 from Deut: 8:3; Matt 4:7 from Deut 6:16 and Matt 4:10 from Deut 6:13.

But the cunning devil also uses Scripture to advance his cause, in verse 6 he quotes Psalm 91; 11 -12: 'He will command his angels concerning you, and they will lift you up in their hands, so that you will not strike your foot against a stone.'

This quotation was quite accurate and no doubt if taken up by Jesus would have proved reliable but even a correct quotation from Scripture can be misapplied. So these examples of good use and misuse of Scripture act as both a lesson and a warning to us on the application of Scripture, in both our own rebuttal of personal 'testing' and as we explain our faith to others. However when struggling against 'testing' the use of Jesus' own words in Matt 4:10 'Away from me Satan'; or perhaps the King James version from Luke 4:8 'Get thee behind me, Satan'; have been found to be very effective. Just as Jesus was tested as he drew closer to God we need to be alert that the same can happen to us as we try to go deeper into God. We know this was certainly the case for the early followers of Jesus as in the first letter of Peter Chapter 5 verse 8, the letter writer warns the early Christians to:

'Be self controlled and alert. Your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, looking for someone to devour. Resist him, standing firm in the faith, because you know that your brothers throughout the world are undergoing the same kind of sufferings.'

That same 'prowling around' exists as much today in many disguises, be it for some the over dependence on material wealth; the attitude that we can go it alone without reliance on God; the abuse of position or power. To resist such testing we are fortunate to be able to draw on both Old and New Testament Scripture such as the passage set for today from Paul's letter 'To all in Rome who are loved by God' (Romans 1:7). In chapter 5: 12 - 19 Paul poetically teaches us that Christ's giving of himself on the cross has established a reign of life rather than death. He contrasts the condemnation of the sin of Adam with a that of God's grace given through Jesus' resistance to sin and his dying for us, so that we may 'receive God's abundant provision of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through one man, Jesus Christ' (Romans 5:17). Wendy Waters

Meditation

As Jesus was led into the wilderness by the Holy Spirit let us be led this Lenten tide into our own wilderness. Not to a barren, lifeless wilderness but one where in peace and solitude we can sense the presence of the Spirit stirring us into new life. Just as in the wilderness, with eyes open, we can spot small signs of life, let us open our eyes to stirrings of new inner life. A life lived in the presence of Jesus; a life lived in the knowledge that through the power of the Holy Spirit; walking in the steps of Jesus; we can be cleansed, refreshed and renewed. Thus refreshed we can journey on with a new spring in our step until such time as we are called to share in life everlasting. Wendy Waters

Post Communion Prayer

Holy God, we see your glory in the face of Jesus Christ: may we who are partakers at his table reflect his life in word and deed, that all the world may know his power to change and save. This we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

Protect us Lord from the silent subversive schemes of evil; guard us from our own inflated opinions of ourselves; lead us along your paths of humility, obedience, trust and love.

Search me , O God and know my heart. Sift me and know my thoughts. See if there is anything out of place in my life. Lead me in the way everlasting. Psalm 139: 23, 24

Jesus, may we journey with you, firm in the faith, loyal to your teaching, obedient to your Father's will, encompassed by the Spirit along the way that leads to life.

May each thing I do be without regret, may each minute I spend be used for the best. May each thought I have be without waste, may each moment I'm in be in God's time. Amen

Partnership Lent Course

The Lent course this year will be held at Putnoe Heights and look at the essential of Christian belief as expressed in the Apostles Creed. I believe in God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Refreshments will be served from 7.30pm with each session starting at 8.00pm and lasting one hour. Since the series will look at the foundation of Christian belief it would be particularly helpful for anybody who is considering confirmation. Please speak with one of the ministers if you would like to consider this.

I believe in the Holy Spirit
Thursday 7 April by Jane Mason

Christian Basics. There will be a series of three Lent talks at Putnoe Heights Church thinking about the basics of the Christian faith as expressed in the Apostles Creed. I believe in God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Refreshments will be served from 7.30pm with each session starting at 8.00pm and lasting one hour. Since the series will look at the foundation of Christian belief it would be particularly helpful for anybody who is considering confirmation. Please speak with one of the ministers if you would like to consider this.

Say One For Me

For many years our church website www.thischurch.com has featured an online prayer request form. You just click on the link 'let us pray for you' on the homepage. Many people use this to request prayers for many different issues ranging from illness to wanting a new girlfriend. Everyone who sends in a prayer request receives a personal confidential reply.

Now the Church of England is also operating a prayer scheme and bishops were out among shoppers and passers-by collecting their prayers to mark Ash Wednesday, the start of Lent 2011. For the next 40 days, people across the country have the opportunity to share with God their hopes and concerns, anonymously, in the form of a prayer posted at www.sayoneforme.org, a web-based prayer service.

To promote the website, the bishops collected prayers, on specially designed cards, that were prayed at church services later in the day. They also handed out 'business cards' containing the web address www.sayoneforme.org.

"Lent is a time to turn to God to tell Him about your hopes, needs and concerns," says the Right Revd David Walker, the Bishop of Dudley. "Everyone posting a prayer at sayoneforme.org will know that others are praying their prayers with them and on their behalf."

After 24 hours more than 70 prayers had already been posted on the site and its supporting Facebook page has been equally busy.

All the prayers posted online will be offered to God by various parish churches, prayer groups, and three religious communities: St Mary's Abbey, West Malling; St Peter's Convent, Woking; The Sisters of Bethany, Southsea. They will also be prayed at the retreat centre Launde Abbey, Leicester and placed on the altar at a number of cathedrals and at Westminster Abbey during services.

Having researched the content of almost 1,000 prayers from last year's Say One for Me initiative, Dr Tania ap Sion, Director of the St Mary's Centre, North Wales says, "These prayers clearly brought hope to a number of people. Sometimes the same person visited the website more than once - on the first occasion to ask for prayer and on the second occasion to give thanks for an answer to prayer."

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

Myles David Chester Parker

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'
