Prayer for Sunday

Lord, let us be alert to you in the silence of our hearts.
Let us be host to you in our homes.
Let us discern you in our deeds of compassion.
Let us welcome you in the guest at our table.
Let us receive you in the intimacy of the upper room
and finally let us behold you in the glory of your kingdom;
through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Opening Verse of Scripture- Psalm 100:5

The Lord is good and His love endures forever; His faithfulness continues through all generations

Collect Prayer for the Day

Almighty God, you have broken the tyranny of sin and have sent the Spirit of your Son into our hearts whereby we call you Father: give us grace to dedicate our freedom to your service, that we and all creation may be brought to the glorious liberty of the children of God; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

First Bible Reading - Genesis 18: 1-15

The LORD appeared to Abraham near the great trees of Mamre while he was sitting at the entrance to his tent in the heat of the day. Abraham looked up and saw three men standing nearby. When he saw them, he hurried from the entrance of his tent to meet them and bowed low to the ground. He said, "If I have found favour in your eyes, my lord, do not pass your servant by. Let a little water be brought, and then you may all wash your feet and rest under this tree. Let me get you something to eat, so you can be refreshed and then go on your way—now that you have come to your servant." "Very well," they answered, "do as you say."

So Abraham hurried into the tent to Sarah. "Quick," he said, "get three seahs of fine flour and knead it and bake some bread." Then he ran to the herd and selected a choice, tender calf and gave it to a servant, who hurried to prepare it. He then brought some curds and milk and the calf that had been prepared, and set these before them. While they ate, he stood near them under a tree. "Where is your wife Sarah?" they asked him. "There, in the tent," he said. Then the LORD said, "I will surely return to you about this time next year, and Sarah your wife will have a son." Now Sarah was listening at the entrance to the tent, which was behind him. Abraham and Sarah were already old and well advanced in years, and Sarah was past the age of childbearing. So Sarah laughed to herself as she thought, "After I am worn out and my master is old, will I now have this pleasure?" Then the LORD said to Abraham, "Why did Sarah laugh and say, 'Will I really have a child, now that I am old?' Is anything too hard for the LORD? I will return to you at the appointed time next year and Sarah will have a son." Sarah was afraid, so she lied and said, "I did not laugh." But he said, "Yes, you did laugh."

Second Reading - Romans 5:1-8

Since we are justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have obtained access to this grace in which we stand; and we boast in our hope of sharing the glory of God. And not only that, but we also boast in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not disappoint us, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit that has been given to us. For while we were still weak, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly. Indeed, rarely will anyone die for a righteous person - though perhaps for a good person someone might actually dare to die. But God proves his love for us in that while we still were sinners Christ died for us.

(This is the Word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Matthew 9:35-10:8 Please Stand 'Glory to Christ our Lord'

Jesus went through all the towns and villages, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the good news of the kingdom and healing every disease and sickness. When he saw the crowds, he had compassion on them, because they were harassed and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd. Then he said to his disciples, "The harvest is plentiful but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field." He called his twelve disciples to him and gave them authority to drive out evil spirits and to heal every disease and sickness. These are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon (who is called Peter) and his brother Andrew; James son of Zebedee, and his brother John; Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus; Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him. These twelve Jesus sent out with the following instructions: "Do not go among the Gentiles or enter any town of the Samaritans. Go rather to the lost sheep of Israel. As you go, preach this message: 'The kingdom of heaven is near.' Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse those who have leprosy, drive out demons. Freely you have received, freely give."

(This is the Gospel of Christ All: Praise to Christ our Lord)

Post Communion Prayer

O God, whose beauty is beyond our imagining and whose power we cannot comprehend: show us your glory as far as we can know it, and shield us from knowing more than we can bear until we may look upon you without fear; through Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen

Hymns (Please distribute Holy Communion and Partnership News)

Awake my soul, and with the sun, 632 (Tune Tallis Canon) Will you come and follow me (on Partnership News); Thy hand, O God, has guided (Tune Thornbury), 784; Forth in thy name, 381 (Tune: Song 34)

Commentary Putting theory into practice

There is a story of a student who being so anxious to capture everything that his lecturers would teach him at university, when the professor in his very first lecture said, 'Good Morning', he wrote it down. In Matthew's gospel there are huge chunks of teaching where it's as if Jesus is going through the theory of the Kingdom of God. But there are also large sections where it is clear that Jesus is putting into practice what He has just taught, and encouraging the disciples to do likewise. Similarly in Romans, Paul has just given a lengthy explanation of justification by faith to the recipients of his letter and in today's reading which follows that discourse; he now begins to discuss what that means and what are the implications for the believers in their lives. Whether we take the example of Matthew or of Paul the message is clear. The Christian life is about hearing and understanding the work of God and then living out the reality in our lives. Earlier on just after the Sermon on the Mount Jesus says that anyone who hears His words but does not put them into practice is like a man who builds his house on sand. Alternatively, those that hear His words and put them into practice are like the man who builds his house on rock. Putting God's word into practice is therefore tied to having a solid foundation in our spiritual lives. Failure to do so would seem to indicate the opposite, that our faith becomes dry and academic and does not empower our daily lives. Jesus was clearly aware of the temptation the disciples would have to do nothing with the teaching but to reflect on the meaning of His words. But he wanted them to get active, with the dual benefit of strengthening their own faith whilst service God and their fellow men and women. He wanted them to step out in faith and be his active ambassadors in the world. He does not want his followers to adopt the Jewish trait of the time of dissecting the minutiae of the words He had spoken, rather than trying to live out what they meant. He sent them out as workers in the harvest. Did the disciples get everything right first time? Scripture would seem to indicate otherwise but they pressed on with the task, encouraged and empowered by the Holy Spirit.

Likewise, Paul underlines that the concept of justification by faith, a key doctrine of the church, is not just an academic theory, it has a fundamental significance for our lives in that it gives us an eternal hope and future. A hope borne out of a restored relationship with God and an invitation to share in His glory. As we open ourselves to God's love being poured into our hearts, we are enabled to put our faith into action and step out in faith. Both Jesus and Paul know that the Good News would spread not just be people talking about it and debating its meaning but by the believers demonstrating God's love to the world around as justified, redeemed and empowered people, people who care for the world and those around them. And as the disciples and believers put their embryonic faith into action and stepped out into the harvest fields so they were encouraged as they saw God's promises to them fulfilled as the lives that they touched were changed. We too are challenged and encouraged to step out into our harvest fields, the places where we live, study and work, so that we can put God's words into action. As we do, so our faith is strengthened. Sam Cappleman

Meditation

The opening verse of today's gospel reading sets out Matthew's perspective on the three key strands of Jesus' ministry; firstly teaching about the Kingdom of God, often in the Jewish synagogues; secondly preaching and proclaiming by word and deed the Good News of the Kingdom; and thirdly making the Kingdom a reality on earth by healing every disease and sickness. Three facts of ministry which would turn the Jewish and Roman world upside down and each strand of which critical to the God's Kingdom breaking through on earth. How strange then that Jesus entrusted such an important mission to the disparate bunch of disciples we read about just a few verses later. The ambitious James and John, nicknamed the Sons of Thunder, not exactly the names of people you'd necessarily want on your pastoral team. Judas, the traitor, Simon Peter, enthusiastic but impetuous, Matthew, someone who had given up on his religion and people to serve the occupying Romans and make money through tax collecting. And so the list goes on. We all know when you're building a team it's critical to get the right people on the team and then get them into the right roles. But Jesus doesn't seem to care. Perhaps He was demonstrating in His words and actions that the Kingdom of God really is open to all, and all are welcome to join in the mission of making His Kingdom a reality here on earth, irrespective of their background, personality traits, strengths or weaknesses.

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

God our Father, you sent your Son to us: grant that filled with your Spirit we may be renewed in faith, and inspired in hope and love, to spread the Gospel of your kingdom to all people; through Christ our Lord. Amen

Heavenly Father, we pray for those who have gone to other countries with the good news of Jesus; when their work is difficult and tiring, make them strong; when they are lonely and homesick, remind them that you are with them; when they are uncertain what to do, guide them. Keep us all diligent in our prayer for them. Amen

When we forget you love and your grace. loving God, and live our lives as though you are not here, relying on ourselves, forgetting to be thankful; speak to us, challenge us, nudge us and help us to remember that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Amen

Christ the good shepherd, who laid down His life for the sheep, draw you and all who hear His voice to be one flock within one fold, and the blessing of God Almighty, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, be with you and remain with you always. Amen

A Hymn for Sunday

- 1 Will you come and follow me
if I but call your name?
Will you go where you don't know
and never be the same?
Will you let my love be shown,
will you let my name be known,
will you let my life be grown,
in you and you in me?
- 2 Will you leave yourself behind
if I but call your name?
Will you care for cruel and kind
and never be the same?
Will you risk the hostile stare should your life attract or scare?
Will you let me answer prayer
in you and you in me?
- 3 Will you let the blinded see
if I but call your name?
Will you set the prisoners free

- and never be the same?
Will you kiss the leper clean,
and do such as this unseen,
and admit to what I mean
in you and you in me?
- 4 Will you love the 'you' you hide
if I but call your name?
Will you quell the fear inside
and never be the same?
Will you use the faith you've found to reshape the world around,
through my sight and touch and sound
in you and you in me?
- 5 Lord, your summons echoes true
when you but call my name.
Let me turn and follow you
and never be the same.
In your company I'll go where your love and footsteps show.
Thus I'll move and live and grow
in you and you in me.

Margot Partner

A service of Thanksgiving for the life of Margot was held at Putnoe on Monday. Over one hundred friends from different parts of her life attended the service.

The widow of a Methodist minister and missionary, Margot became a member at Putnoe sixteen years ago. Margot was a member of the Tuesday club, the house group that meets at the home of the Pecks and was a loyal and valued member of the Community. Margot will always be remembered as an intelligent and committed member of the Putnoe Church community and she will be sadly missed.

Church Lunch Club (alternate Wednesdays)

Would any members of St.Mark's or PutnoeHeights like to come. If you are interested, please give your name to - Margaret Standley, Jenny Emslay or Pam Kinsella. We would also welcome additional helpers, either on a regular or irregular basis. We also need drivers. With the bulding work in progress at Putnoe, our Autumn Session will not start until 1 October but don't leave it until then to let us know.

Gwen Beswick would like to thank everybody who has sent her cards and good wishes over recent weeks. They are all very much appreciated.

Yarls Wood Befrienders An increasing number of asylum seekers are being detained in custody pending the outcome of their request to be allowed to stay in the UK. About 400 women, including families, are being held in custody at Yarls Wood Immigration Removal Centre (just north of Bedford) at any one time. Some are detained for only a brief time before removal to the country they came from. A number however are kept for months; some for over a year.

Yarls Wood Befrienders are a group of about thirty trained visitors "of all faiths and none". We visit weekly on a 1:1 confidential basis as many detainees who ask for help as we can. Such comfort as can be given is mostly listening, sometimes helping them to contact families, sometimes helping to find or chase lawyers and independent doctors. Those in need of help so often feel insignificant or ignored by the authorities. Our emphasis is on caring; seeing each individual as a whole person with a right to be heard. For many, the Befriender is the one person who has taken time to support them and they are deeply grateful. But the more we do, the more we realise we need extra people and extra training to do this work better.

Although the material conditions of detention are not a major problem, the lack of a consistent quality of legal advice and health care gives cause for real concern. The detainees' ability to cope varies widely. They do not understand why the country they have turned to for help has responded by locking them up. Those with inner strength or faith can rise above the situation but many, already traumatised by the past, become depressed by the present and are very fearful for the future.

We would be so grateful for your prayers, for any financial contributions you feel able to make and for any who are interested to know more, to get in touch. Please consider making a response to this deep need God has placed with us.

'Behind Closed Doors' a play about the issue of trafficking. In place of evening service at Priory Methodist Church 13th July 6.30pm.;

Bedford Council of Faiths film night on Friday, June 20th at 7.30pm in support of Refugee Week. Light Buffet 7.30pm on Friday 20th June At Priory Methodist Church, 'Turtles Can Fly' (15) is a beautiful film, and a good turnout will help us support Save the Children and No More Landmines with our donations.

Bedford Council of Faiths Moths Count evening. An opportunity to visit Maulden Wood, join up for a picnic in our Sacred Space, then a short walk to take part in the count, which will be going on all over the UK around this time. We are meeting at 7.30pm on Saturday, June 14th in the lay-by of the north-bound carriageway of the A6 (signed To SnackBar). A fascinating event for all those interested in nature and the environment. Bring food, a torch and suitable clothing for an evening outside. Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.
