Second Sunday Before Advent

Sentence of Scripture Psalm 1:1

Blessed is the man who does not walk in the counsel of the wicked or stand in the way of sinners or sit in the seat of mockers. But his delight is in the law of the LORD, and on his law he meditates day and night.

Collect Prayer for the Day

Heavenly Father, whose blessed Son was revealed to destroy the works of the devil and to make us the children of God and heirs of eternal life: grant that we, having this hope, may purify ourselves even as he is pure; that when he shall appear in power and great glory we may be made like him in his eternal and glorious kingdom; where he is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen. Common Worship

First Bible Reading - Daniel Chapter 12:1-3

At that time Michael, the great prince who protects your people, will arise. There will be a time of distress such as has not happened from the beginning of nations until then. But at that time your people--everyone whose name is found written in the book--will be delivered. Multitudes who sleep in the dust of the earth will awake: some to everlasting life, others to shame and everlasting contempt. Those who are wise will shine like the brightness of the heavens, and those who lead many to righteousness, like the stars for ever and ever.
(This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Second Bible Reading - Hebrews Chapter 10:11-14, 19-25

Day after day every priest stands and performs his religious duties; again and again he offers the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. But when this priest had offered for all time one sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God. Since that time he waits for his enemies to be made his footstool, because by one sacrifice he has made perfect forever those who are being made holy. Therefore, brothers, since we have confidence to enter the Most Holy Place by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way opened for us through the curtain, that is, his body, and since we have a great priest over the house of God, let us draw near to God with a sincere heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled to cleanse us from a guilty conscience and having our bodies washed with pure water. Let us hold unwaveringly to the hope we profess, for he who promised is faithful. And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds. Let us not give up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but let us encourage one another--and all the more as you see the Day approaching.
(This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Mark 13: 1-8

*Please stand and when the Gospel is announced we say - Glory to Christ our Saviour

As he was leaving the temple, one of his disciples said to him, "Look, Teacher! What massive stones! What magnificent buildings!" "Do you see all these great buildings?" replied Jesus. "Not one stone here will be left on another; every one will be thrown down." As Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter, James, John and Andrew asked him privately, "Tell us, when will these things happen? And what will be the sign that they are all about to be fulfilled?" Jesus said to them: "Watch out that no one deceives you. Many will come in my name, claiming, 'I am he,' and will deceive many. When you hear of wars and rumours of wars, do not be alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is still to come. Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places, and famines. These are the beginning of birth pains. (This is the Gospel of Christ - Praise to Christ our Lord)

Post Communion Prayer

Gracious Lord, in this holy sacrament you give substance to our hope: bring us at the last to that fullness of life for which we long; through Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Hymns for Sunday (Please distribute Holy Communion booklet and Mission Praise where required)

1. Praise the Lord, his glories show (On Partnership News)
2. Majesty 454
3. The kingdom of God is justice and joy 651
4. I cannot tell why He, whom angels worship 266

Commentary

The reading from Daniel addresses the problem of justice - the fates of both the righteous and the wicked and when the end will come. Verses 2 and 3 actually affirm resurrection - one of the very few parts of the Old Testament to do so; many will shine like stars - a thought echoed in a Christmas carol with the lines:

"When like stars his children crowned All in white shall wait around".

This is a lovely picture - the wise or religious leaders who have guided others in the right path receive their reward. Wise leaders are worth their weight in gold - and Isaiah 52:13 says "My servant will act wisely." So we are to have confidence, despite the time of distress, despite chaos and suffering, that God will know, and gather safely in, every scrap of goodness, all that is good and faithful.

Psalm 16, which is the psalm appointed for today, is worth studying, for it tells us that God is the place of refuge (v1) the voice of confidence (vv 2-7) and the path of life (vv 8-11). And do remember that psalm 23 concludes;

"Surely goodness and mercy will follow me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever."

Mark Chapter 13 begins with the disciples marvelling at the splendour of the temple. It really impresses them and we see a contrast between them and what impresses Jesus. At the end of Chapter 12 Jesus commends a widow who gives what little she has. She has, according to Jesus, put more into the treasury than the wealthy. She gave all she had to live on—amazing generosity - and Jesus praises this. It shows that really he is most interested in the quality of life - rather than in the quantity of material.

Having said in verse 2 that the temple will be destroyed, Jesus has a conversation with four disciples about when "these things" will happen. Now the context is clearly the destruction of the temple, but the whole chapter seems also to deal with the 'end' things. It is a very difficult chapter, containing, so commentaries say, some sayings of Jesus and other later material. It seems that they make up a "Little Apocalypse" to warn Christians in Jerusalem, at the start of the siege in AD70 to flee - and here, after verse 1 and 2 is a logical place for Mark to put it. What will be the signs, the disciples ask Jesus, that herald the end? (Though note that in Mark 8:11-13 and 17:20-24 Jesus warns against looking for signs.) Here Jesus talks about deceivers wars and rumours of wars that in those days with no Sky TV News(!) would have taken a long time to be heard about; and then earthquakes and famines. These, of course, are not - and were not - unusual events - but Old Testament prophecies of the "end" refer to these as part of the plan of God. There are people who speculate about these things today and are often led astray, distracted from following Jesus. It has been said that if all the attention in Christian history paid to the last things had been given to the first things then the service of Christianity to the world and its impact would have been greatly increased.

Jesus tells his disciples not to be led astray by preoccupation with the end of all time. The answer is not a date in the calendar, but God. We are called to have faith in a dependable God who acts in his own time. "A thousand ages in Thy sight are as an evening gone ." God wants us to focus on him; to do justice, love mercy and walk humbly with him: to love God with all our heart, soul and mind, and our neighbour as ourselves.

Jesus says

"Do not be alarmed."

He often said that to people - for we can trust God. He is dependable.

The letter to the Hebrews emphasises that, because of who Jesus is and what he has done we can have confidence (v19) and assurance - full assurance - of faith (v22).

God says to Isaiah,

"Fear not. I have redeemed you, I have called you by name, you are mine."

I reckon that it is love - however buffeted and battered by chaos and suffering - whether this is on a global scale or in our individual experiences of life - that will last for ever. God wants to enfold us all in arms of love that are both gentle and strong, and at the end_(whether it is the end of all time or the end of our lives) we can trust Him for all that's to come. Because as Clive Simmonds wrote in the hymn "I want to walk with Jesus Christ", "He has conquered death, He is King of Kings."

It is not so much the power, but the love of God which must conquer at the end when there will come a universe in which Jesus is supreme. But when this will be - well Jesus said that even he didn't know. In the meantime we are to hold fast to this hope for

"he who promised is faithful." (v23).

Meditation

Eternal God, who committest to us the swift and solemn trust of life; since we do not know what a day may bring forth, but only that the hour for serving thee is always present, may we wake to the instant claims of thy holy will, not waiting for tomorrow, but yielding today.

Collect from the Book of Common Prayer.

Prayers for Sunday and the Week Ahead

O God, grant us in all our doubts and uncertainties the grace to ask what you would have us do; that the spirit of wisdom may save us from all false choices, and that in your light we may see light, and in your straight path may not stumble, through Jesus Christ our Lord. William Bright (1824-1901)

Lord God Almighty, shaper and ruler of all creatures, we pray for your great mercy to guide us to your will, to make our minds steadfast, to strengthen us against temptation, to put far from us all unrighteousness. Shield us against our foes, seen and unseen, teach us so that we may inwardly love you before all things with a clean mind and clean body, for you are our maker and our redeemer, our trust and our hope. King Alfred (849-901)

Lord of the Universe look with love upon your people. Pour the healing oil of your compassion on a world that is wounded and dying. Send us out in search of the lost, to comfort the afflicted, to bind up the broken, and to free those trapped under the rubble of their fallen dreams. Sheila Cassidy

Father, I cannot bring about justice worldwide, but help me to begin where I am. Make me honest and just in all my dealings, true in my words and actions. I cannot alter the course of a suffering and unjust world, but help me to light candles in the darkness in the name of Jesus Christ, who will bring the dawn of righteousness and peace at his glorious Day of Justice and Judgement.

The poor of the world are thirsty for justice and for peace; their journey is unending till hate and oppression cease.

The Lord of Heaven is thirsty for justice and for peace; his battle is unending till hate and oppression cease. Pastoral team of Bambamarca

To God the Father, who first loved us and made us accepted in the Beloved: To God the Son, who loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood; To God the Holy Ghost, who sheds the love of God abroad in our hearts, Be all love and glory, From time and for eternity. Thomas Ken (1637-1711)

Community Coffee Mornings at Putnoe Heights Church at 10am on Wednesdays November 25, with the final one this year on December 9.

Thank you

"I felt privileged to join with you for the All Souls service.....all the candles at the front of the Church gave such a blaze of light, collected together on the little table. I could really appreciate the symbolism of the flames, ..like the memories of the people they represented, glowing brightly in times of sadness.. These words were shared with me by a friend and with Delia's sermon, it really was a super service.
Pat Mitchell

Christmas Carols in Harpur Square 4pm Sunday 6 December

Hope is organising a Christmas Carol event in the centre of our town in the lead up to Christmas. The Borough have kindly agreed to our being able to use Harpur Square for this. We would like to encourage as many as possible from our churches to come and bring praise to God and join in witness to the wonder of the Christmas story. As well as singing traditional Christmas carols, we will also have a few short drama presentations relating some of the events of the Christmas story and a short preach from Gavin Calver, the new director of Mission at the Evangelical Alliance. Towards the end of our time (we will run for a maximum of 1 hour) we plan to pass candles across the square and have a blaze of light and heat (from the candles!!) across the square as we sing our final carols. Volunteers of those who could help with stewarding would be most welcome. Please contact Simon Mushonga
