Thank You

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Christina and Maurice Halsey in loving memory of their granddaughter Davine Stuart, and by Gwen Benson in loving memory of her husband Derick.

The flowers at St Mark's have been given by Mary Stubbs in thanksgiving for John's life.

Prayer for Sunday

Receive, O Lord,
all my liberty.

Take my memory, my understanding,
and my entire will.

Whatsoever I have or hold,
You have given me;

I give it all back to You and surrender it wholly to be governed by your will.

Give me only your love and your grace,
with these I will be rich enough,
and ask for nothing more.

Opening Verses of Scripture

Fear the Lord, you His saints, for those who fear Him lack nothing.

Psalm 34 v 9

Collect Prayer for the Day

Before we read we pray

To set the earth ablaze, O God, your Son submitted to death on the cross, and from his cup of suffering you call the church to drink. When we are tempted give us strength to run the race that lies before us, and to keep our eyes fixed on Jesus; who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen. Methodist Worship

First Bible Reading- Proverbs 9 v 1 – 6

Wisdom has built her house; she has hewn out its seven pillars. She has prepared her meat and mixed her wine; she has also set her table. She has sent out her maids, and she calls from the highest point of the city. Let all who are simple come in here! she says to those who lack judgment. Come, eat my food and drink the wine I have mixed. Leave your simple ways and you will live; walk in the way of understanding (Reader : This is the word of the Lord. All: Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - Ephesians .5:15-20

Be very careful, then, how you live--not as unwise but as wise, making the most of every opportunity, because the days are evil. Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the Lord's will is. Do not get drunk on wine, which leads to debauchery. Instead, be filled with the Spirit. Speak to one another with psalms, hymns and spiritual songs. Sing and make music in your heart to the Lord, always giving thanks to God the Father for everything, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. (Reader: This is the word of the Lord. All: Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading – John 6:51- 58 (When announced ‘Glory to Christ our Saviour’)

I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. This bread is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world." Then the Jews began to argue sharply among themselves, "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me, and I in him. Just as the living Father sent me and I live because of the Father, so the one who feeds on me will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven. Your forefathers ate manna and died, but he who feeds on this bread will live forever." (Reader: This is the Gospel of Christ All: Praise to Christ our Lord)

Hymns (Please distribute Holy Communion booklet and Hymns and Praise)

1. All people that on earth do dwell 1
2. Colours of Day (On Partnership News)
3. Break thou the bread of life 467
4. Angel voices ever singing 484

Post Communion Prayer God of our pilgrimage, you have willed that the gate of mercy should stand open for those who trust in you: look upon us with your favour that we who follow the path of your will may never wander from the way of life; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Commentary

Today's Old Testament reading from Proverbs is one of the few times we have a reading from what have become known as the wisdom writings. The reading from chapter 9 is at the end of the general introduction to wisdom (long introduction!) and is followed by 6 collections of sayings, and finally and acrostic poem on the perfect wife. The process of assembling the book of Proverbs probably took more than 2 centuries, Hezekiah, who is mentioned in the book as having some of the proverbs transcribed in his court, lived some 250 years after Solomon, whose name often appears in the title of the book. In the Bible, wisdom can be defined as the ability to make the right (Godly) choices in our lives. Wisdom is not therefore something which is unattainable or an abstract concept, wisdom is open to all who think and act according to the truth in their lives, even today.

In the Old Testament, those who have dedicated their lives to gaining wisdom are called wise. Wisdom then is nothing to do with being clever or having a high IQ, it's about an orientation and openness to God and making God inspired choices in our everyday lives. Wisdom is about practical living not about theoretical choices. And because wisdom is about openness and our orientation towards God, listening to Him, it's not surprising that a few verses after today's reading the writer says, 'The first principle of wisdom is the fear of Yahweh' (Jerusalem Bible) which is often translated as 'The fear of the Lord is the beginning of Wisdom', a concept which frequently reoccurs in the Psalms.

The first step in becoming wise is knowing God; without knowing God it's obvious that it's difficult to make Godly choices. In the New Testament, James writes that God gives wisdom to all who ask for it, all those who want to make Godly choices in their lives. Wisdom is not about seeking advantage or becoming smarter and cleverer than everyone else so we can get ahead of them, its about applying God's truth to our everyday experiences, the choices we make and how we learn from our experience.

True wisdom therefore leads not to intellectual or philosophical superiority or the ability to win an argument by clever logic, but to responsible living, care for the world, servant hood and service. In that context we all have a responsibility to continually seek to be wise in everything we do. The book of Proverbs contains a number of sayings and maxims that would have been memorable, such as 'The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.' These outline basic values and focus on helping everyone make the right choices in their lives. And just as Jesus told parables, proverbs can be parabolic, pointing beyond themselves to a deeper understanding.

Parts of the book of Proverbs are specifically focused on the younger generation so that they will develop the attitudes and behaviour that will lead to responsible adulthood, underlining the importance of Godly based Christian teaching for our young and youth. And throughout the book of Proverbs, a stark contrast is drawn between choosing the life of wisdom and the life of folly, often personified as two different women with vastly different characteristics. Our reading from chapter 9 shows the wise woman as a hostess inviting all to come her way and to leave the ways of foolishness behind. It's reminiscent of the Wedding Banquet that Jesus describes, where all too are invited, often those we least expect. Indeed, Proverbs chapter 9 distils much of the wisdom of early chapters of the book: the women of Wisdom and Folly both invite a man to a feast: Wisdom sets before him life, but the menu Folly offers leads only to death.

Paul in his letter to the Ephesians picks up the theme of wisdom in today's reading. He too makes the link between wisdom and making the most of every opportunity by being immersed in God and knowing His will and ways. He shows that for Christians we have the Holy Spirit within us to help us make God oriented choices in our lives.

Over the last few weeks in the Gospel readings we've been reading about Jesus as the Bread of Life. We started with the feeding of the 5000, where Jesus provided physical bread for the multitude and they followed Him for what He had done. It was followed by Jesus walking on the water, demonstrating who He was, the one who is over all creation and the need to accept him not just as observers who are fed but people who are prepared to have their lives changed by Him eternally by inviting Him into their lives and inner beings. Those passages were then followed by a long discourse in the synagogue at Capernaum where the supposed wise of the day try to work out what this all means. Ultimately too, they have a choice to make, the way of Wisdom or of Folly.

The choice is stark. If we and they eat and drink of Christ then we live in Christ and Christ lives in us. 'As the living Father sent me and I draw life from the Father, so whoever eats me will also draw life from me' Jn 6 v 57, (Jerusalem Bible). If we choose not to live the life of Christ then we will die, just as the ancients ate manna and died. In a world where we have so much data and information, literally at our fingertips, true wisdom continues to be at a premium. Many seek after knowledge to better themselves, which in itself is not necessarily wrong, but lack the orientation towards God which turns this knowledge and experience into true wisdom. Similarly many are seeking after a deeper meaning in life, acknowledging that all our increased learning and knowledge has not led to a world which is more fair, equitable and peaceful. Sadly many are deluded by false teachings and shallow spiritualities which lack the truth, depth and holiness of worshiping the one true God. God's desire is that we all are wise, earnestly seeking after Him and His truths, continually opening our lives to have Christ at the centre of our very beings, that we can have life in all its freedom and abundance. Through the bread the Israelites ate in the desert they caught a glimpse of that freedom and life. Through the living bread which Christ continually offers to each one of us we have the invitation to the real thing. Day by day we too have a choice to make, a choice to be wise, a choice to be more oriented towards God and to grow in His wisdom; a choice which then underpins all the choices we ever make everyday of our lives, week by week and year by year into eternity. Sam Cappleman

You cannot find wisdom if you look only through your human eyes... you must look through God's eyes..." Gibran

Meditation

John 15:13: Jesus said: "No greater love can anyone have than to lay down their life for their friends."

It was 1941, and one of the prisoners had escaped from Auschwitz, the Nazi Concentration Camp in southern Poland. The punishment on the whole camp was that ten other prisoners would die. The camp commandant walked up and down between rows of prisoners. The tenth man he selected was a Polish soldier. The sergeant broke down and begged for mercy because of his wife and young family who would have no support without him. A thin figure moved forward, took off his cap, and asked if he might take that man's place in the death cell. "Who are you?" he was asked. "I am a Catholic priest," he replied. He was Prisoner 16670, Maximilian Kolbe, a Franciscan priest. The exchange was agreed. Now that the group was 10 in number, they were marched off to Block 13 - the deathblock. They were not to be shot or gassed. They were to die very slowly by being starved of even the very little food that the prisoners were normally given. Their very slow death was designed to put others off from trying to escape. In the following days, the guards observed the condemned men dying slowly. They also saw that the men were gathered round Father Maximilian, laughing together, praying and singing hymns. One by one the men died - a slow death over 14 days. The last one alive was Maximilian Kolbe and on August 14th - in 1941, a guard injected him with phenol into his left arm. He died almost immediately. The Polish sergeant - Franz Gajowniczek - survived Auschwitz and the war itself. Each year he visited that dreadful place and laid a wreath beside Block 13 where Maximilian Kolbe died instead of himself.

Kolbe was aged 47 at his death. Fellow-Pole, John Paul II, canonised him on 10th October 1982. - Franz Gajowniczek later said: "At first I felt terrible that another man was dying in my place. But then I realised that he had done this not just to save my life, but to be with the other nine in their terrible agony of dying. His nearness to them in those dreadful last hours was worth more than a lifetime of preaching."

Prayer Lord Jesus, you said that no-one could have greater love than to give up their life for someone else. Remind us in our personal circumstances today that care and compassion and love and sacrifice can change everything. Amen.

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead.

God our Father, may we love you in all things and above all things and reach the joy you have prepared for us beyond all our imagining. We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

You brought me up, O Lord, from the dead. Lord, you hide your face when we trust in ourselves; strip us of false security and re-clothe us in your praise, that we may know you as the one who raises us from death, as you raised your Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen Daily Prayer, Refrain from Psalm 30

Loving God, who chose to send your Son into our world, be with us today as we make our daily choices. Help us keep our eyes fixed on you, that in your eyes we may be wise, that we may grow in wisdom and reflect the glory of your incarnation, Jesus Christ who is with us always in the power of your Spirit. Amen

Risen Christ, whose absence leaves us paralysed, but whose presence is overwhelming, breathe on us with your abundant life; that where we cannot see we may have courage to believe that we may be raised with you. Amen

The God of all grace who called you to His eternal glory in Christ Jesus, establish, strengthen and settle you in the faith; and the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit be among you and remain with you always. Amen

Action for Children -House to House Collection

Action for Children (formally NCH) works with disadvantaged and disabled children and their families, through its family centres located throughout the country. It is an independent charity working with other groups in partnership including the Methodist Church. Her Majesty the Queen is its patron. The annual house to house Collection to support the vital work of the NCH will take place as usual in the first 2 weeks in September. St Mark's Church has the responsibility for covering most of Brickhill and last year we raised over £950. If you could spare a few hours during early September to put out and collect envelopes in the Brickhill area, perhaps near to where you live, or you would like some more information, then please contact me. Mike Elliott (Tel: 342507)

Do you have any memories of Brickhill in the 60s and 70s?

Brickhill Parish Council is planning to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Brickhill over a 12 month period from late 2009 to late 2010 which coincides with the 50th anniversary of the time when the first houses were occupied and when Brickhill Lower School was first opened as a new infants school. The Council is looking for photographs and press cuttings of Brickhill during the 1960s and 1970s to copy and use to illustrate a display to develop interest in this project. If you can help please contact Delia Shephard, Clerk to the Council on 01234 271703 or email clerk@brickhillparishcouncil.gov.uk.

Thursford Christmas Spectacular

Priory has some tickets available for their trip on 15 November leaving at 2.30 and stopping for tea with Neil Harper at Kings Lynn Methodist Church.

The producer and director, John Cushing indulges his own belief in creating a magical Christmas of yesteryear – a time of love, hope and giving. And in his opinion, the one element that encapsulates the spirit of Christmas more than any other is music. The ultimate Christmas musical experience is simply one of the most exciting Christmas Spectacular shows ever. It is the most popular Christmas show of all time in England and is a blend of exciting Christmas entertainment, with Christmas songs, carols, dazzling dancers, beautiful costumes, outstanding music and singing from a cast of over one hundred. Each show is a pageant of spectacle and colour – the music a seamless transition from an up-beat dance routine to a choral rendition of a Christmas carol, a show which would not be out of place in any London's west end theatres.

It is a night to remember.

If anyone is interested in joining the trip please speak to Eileen Davis 01234 215057 who can give details of the cost and availability.

Opening the book of bible stories in lower schools. That is what over 100 people in Kempston and Bedford have been doing for the past ten years through Open the Book Project. Now we need some new story tellers to join existing teams or go into more schools. For more information email Ruth Robbins, rrobbins545@hotmail.com mentioning Open the Book in the subject line

A Hymn for Sunday

Colours of day dawn into the mind,
The sun has come up, the night is behind.
Go down in the city, into the street,
And let's give the message to the people we meet.

*So light up the fire and let the flame burn.
Open the door, let Jesus return.
Take the seeds of his Spirit, let the fruit grow.
Tell the people of Jesus, let his love show.*

Go through the park, on into the town;
The sun still shines on, it never goes down.
The light of the world is risen again;
The people of darkness are needing our friend.

So light up the fire

Open your eyes, look into the sky,
The darkness has come, the sun came to die.
The evening draws on, the sun disappears,
But Jesus is living, his Spirit is near.

So light up the fire....

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

Tony Allen
John Stubbs

'May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'

Forthcoming Funerals

The funeral of Mr Stanley George Nagus will take place at 12-15 pm on Friday 21 August at Bedford Crematorium
