Prayer for Sunday

The Grace of Christ
has been offered to us again today;

We receive it with thanks,
and through our kindness
we will share it with others.

The Love of God
has come to us again today;

We fill our hearts in joy,
and through our compassion
we will share it with others.

The Fellowship of the Holy Spirit has embraced us again today;

We delight in it with gratitude, and through our generosity
we will share it with others.

Go in peace and thanksgiving,
Live and work so that God's goodness
may be recognised,
and God may be praised. Amen

Sentence of Scripture -

1 Thessalonians 5:10

God did not appoint us to suffer wrath but to receive salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. He died for us so that, whether we are awake or asleep, we may live together with him.

Collect Prayer for the Day

Before we read we pray

Heavenly Father, whose blessed Son was revealed to destroy the works of the devil and to make us the children of God and heirs of eternal life: grant that we, having this hope, may purify ourselves even as he is pure; that when he shall appear in power and great glory we may be made like him in his eternal and glorious kingdom; where he is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever

Weighing the heart From Thebes, Egypt 19th Dynasty, around 1275 BC

First Bible Reading - Zephaniah 1:7,12-18

The word of the LORD that came to Zephaniah son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, during the reign of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah: At that time I will search Jerusalem with lamps and punish those who are complacent, who are like wine left on its dregs, who think, 'The LORD will do nothing, either good or bad.' Their wealth will be plundered, their houses demolished. They will build houses but not live in them; they will plant vineyards but not drink the wine.

"The great day of the LORD is near-- near and coming quickly. Listen! The cry on the day of the LORD will be bitter, the shouting of the warrior there. That day will be a day of wrath, a day of distress and anguish, a day of trouble and ruin, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and blackness, a day of trumpet and battle cry against the fortified cities and against the corner towers. I will bring distress on the people and they will walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD. Their blood will be poured out like dust and their entrails like filth. Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to save them on the day of the Lord's wrath. In the fire of his jealousy the whole world will be consumed, for he will make a sudden end of all who live in the earth." (This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Second Bible Reading - 1 Thessalonians 5:1-11

Now, brothers and sisters, about times and dates we do not need to write to you, for you know very well that the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. While people are saying, "Peace and safety," destruction will come on them suddenly, as labour pains on a pregnant woman, and they will not escape. But you, brothers, are not in darkness so that this day should surprise you like a thief. You are all sons of the light and sons of the day. We do not belong to the night or to the darkness. So then, let us not be like others, who are asleep, but let us be alert and self-controlled. For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, get drunk at night. But since we belong to the day, let us be self-controlled, putting on faith and love as a breastplate, and the hope of salvation as a helmet. For God did not appoint us to suffer wrath but to receive salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. He died for us so that, whether we are awake or asleep, we may live together with him. Therefore encourage one another and build each other up, just as in fact you are doing. (This is the word of the Lord-- Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Matthew 25:14-30

(Please stand when the reading is announced—Glory to Christ our Saviour)

"Again, it will be like a man going on a journey, who called his servants and entrusted his property to them. To one he gave five talents of money, to another two talents, and to another one talent, each according to his ability. Then he went on his journey. The man who had received the five talents went at once and put his money to work and gained five more. So also, the one with the two talents gained two more. But the man who had received the one talent went off, dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money. After a long time the master of those servants returned and settled accounts with them. The man who had received the five talents brought the other five. 'Master,' he said, 'you entrusted me with five talents. See, I have gained five more.' His master replied, 'Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things. Come and share your master's happiness!'

The man with the two talents also came. 'Master,' he said, 'you entrusted me with two talents; see, I have gained two more.' His master replied, 'Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things. Come and share your master's happiness!'

"Then the man who had received the one talent came. 'Master,' he said, 'I knew that you are a hard man, harvesting where you have not sown and gathering where you have not scattered seed. So I was afraid and went out and hid your talent in the ground. See, here is what belongs to you.' His master replied, 'You wicked, lazy servant! So you knew that I harvest where I have not sown and gather where I have not scattered seed? Well then, you should have put my money on deposit with the bankers, so that when I returned I would have received it back with interest. Take the talent from him and give it to the one who has the ten talents. For everyone who has will be given more, and he will have an abundance. Whoever does not have, even what he has what he has will be taken from him. And throw that worthless servant outside, into the darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'

(This is the Gospel of Christ - Praise to Christ our Lord)

Post Communion Prayer

Gracious Lord, in this holy sacrament you give substance to our hope: bring us at the last to that fullness of life for which we long; through Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Hymns (Please distribute hymn sheets)

1. Come let us worship the Christ of creation
2. My Jesus my Saviour

Commentary

I think I have told some of you about my journey to France and the visit to the Louvre to the Egyptians exhibitions and the magnificent 'Book of the Dead.' In the picture opposite we see a scroll from the British Museum From Thebes, Egypt 19th Dynasty, around 1275 BC. This is the Book of the Dead of a man called Any and it is full of spells and rules to help Any travel safely on his journey through the Afterlife.

Here he is shown facing his last and most important test – the weighing of the heart. On the left Any and his wife enter the area where he is to be judged. The Egyptians thought that a person's heart showed all their good and bad deeds. Any's heart is placed on scales and weighed by the god Anubis (with the black jackal head) against the feather of truth. If it is lighter than the feather he will survive and continue into the next world. If it is heavier then he will be eaten by the Devourer, the monster on the right who is part-lion, part-hippopotamus and part-crocodile. Next to the Devourer stands Thoth, the god of truth (with an ibis head). He is checking that the weighing is fair. If you look carefully at the scales you can work out if Any make it through to the next world !

Weighing is part of judgement and reckoning and in the Parable of the Talents today it is all about this same process of weighing up what we have done and giving an account of ourselves. We probably all know the parable of the talents off by heart but the name is a bit of a problem. When we think of talents we tend to think of things like the ability to play the flute or to draw or sing. When Jesus told the story it was not about those things, a talent was literally weight, of 60 - 90 pounds. It meant a lot of money, so today whilst this parable might have come into our language with the meaning of being good with our hands or something else, there is much more going on.

Jesus tells the story of a master who goes away. In those days there were no phones, no email, no faxes, so he had to leave things in the hands of somebody else. In the Roman Empire slaves were often left in control of estates, they could earn bonuses by managing affairs well. The master gives them talents, a talent was the equivalent of 6,000 denarii and a denarii was a days wages. We can think a talent as being equivalent to 6,000 days labour, 15 - 20 years work! So Jesus is making the point that even the slave with the least amount of money was given a lot, equivalent to perhaps about half a million pounds.

When the master returns from his journey there is a reckoning, just like Any in the story there is a weighing up and an accounting process which takes place, to judge the way that the slaves had used the talents that had been given to them. Jesus tells that the two slaves who had been given much had made much more and they were rewarded with even more. However the third slave had failed. Unlike the others he had been gripped by fear of failure and had buried his money in the ground. Burying things was common in those days and was considered to be a safe way of preserving what you had.

Burying the money is a wonderful picture of what is wrong with the servant because of course the most important thing that you have to do when you bury treasure that you have to make sure you don't tell anybody about it ! The one thing which they follower of Jesus most not do it to keep the good news to themselves, the Gospel is for sharing. Preserving what we have is not considered a satisfactory way of living. Therefore doing nothing and playing safe ends up with the servant being punished.

This is the troubling part of the teaching of Jesus which makes it different from just the normal judgement and afterlife stories. For the Egyptian Any, he would have had to account for his behaviour in his life and whether he had been guilty of crimes such as stealing. However Jesus is saying that God's judgement is not just about keeping out of trouble, God treats lack of action as a terrible thing. The Christian disciple has been entrusted with the wonderful truth of the Gospel and because of this much is expected of them. They are in a privileged position and the idea of just preserving what you have got and keeping quiet about it is not an option. Burying it in the ground and not telling anybody about it will get you into trouble ! The servant might well have been afraid of failure like the lion in the Wizard of Oz, too frightened to achieve anything. But Jesus is saying clearly to those who would follow him that they must not waste the opportunity to make a difference. Charles Royden

Meditation

In today's society, growing older is often seen as a reason for sadness or regret. But the Church of England and the Methodist Church have published a new resource which urges Christians to celebrate and affirm the 'second half of life'. Through creative discussion material 'Seasons of My Soul' offers people a chance to explore and share with one another key aspects of their lives and experiences. It focuses on eight themes for discussion; identity, memories, transition times, wisdom, roles and relationships, forgiveness and reconciliation, death and dying, and the celebration of life.

"As I approach retirement, I become ever more conscious of the importance of Christians having constructive conversations about this potentially creative stage of life," said the Rt Revd John Pritchard, Bishop of Oxford. "This invaluable resource could help turn the tide in enabling creative discussion about the second half of life - or, in my case, even the last third!"

"Often when we talk about the demographic of church attendance, we concern ourselves more with those who are not within our church communities than with celebrating and resourcing those who are," added Doug Swanney, Connexional Secretary for the Methodist Church. "Seasons of My Soul is a creative way of redressing this balance. It offers us an opportunity to explore themes which can often be avoided but which, when unpacked, can lead to the most amazing possibilities for us all."

The resource's themes are opened up for discussion and exploration using interactive conversation tools, Bible texts, creative activities, social action topics, prayer and worship. It contains facilitator guidance and helpful templates to accompany each session. The book can be purchased at the price of £8.99 (plus p&p) from Methodist Publishing online or by calling 0845 017 8220.

Prayers for Sunday and the Week Ahead

Lord Jesus help us to be good with the Good News which you have entrusted to us. Give us courage to share what we have with others, help us to be your presence in a world which so desperately needs to know the wonder of your love.

Day by day, O Lord, let us ardently seek your presence, lovingly walk with you and willingly spend ourselves in your service. At the day's end let us not be found hiding our talents nor at the end of our life be unready to rise up and meet you in the feast of your kingdom; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Richard Baxter (1615-1691)

Loving God, obedience can be a high price to pay for blessing; obedience can be a real test of faith: when the world depended on an Ark, did Noah ask "Will it float?"; when a nation waited to be blessed, did Abram still say, "But Sarah's barren?"; when Jesus called, did Matthew say, "Who will run the office?". Lord, give me childlike trust that your promised blessings are greater than my sacrifices; give me the love for you from which obedience flows naturally, as it did for Jesus, who never asked, "Why a Cross?". Colin Harbach, supernumerary minister, Carlisle Circuit

Samaritan's Purse Shoe Boxes

Thank you very much to all who contributed, in any way, to the 56 Shoe Boxes we are donating to this year's Operation Christmas Child. At our October Messy Church we watched a video of delighted children receiving and opening their boxes, it was most humbling to see what happiness these gifts bring to children around the world. Open House This Wednesday, Open House, the weekly drop in for adults with learning difficulties held a coffee morning for Children in Need. There were guessing games, lucky dip, homemade cakes and produce for sale as well as necklaces and bracelets made by members of Open House. A special highlight was a surprise visit from Pudsey Bear who was warmly welcomed. The coffee morning raised £670 on the day with more sales of goods expected. Thank you to everyone who attended or gave donations to support us. Special thanks to Sue & Richard for all the cakes and produce that they made and their help on the day. Also to Anj, Harry, Julie and Jill without whose help on the day was invaluable. But most of all congratulations to members of Open House who run the stalls so well and were very good at persuading people to spend money! If you would like to donate to Open House's Children in Need fundraising you can do so via St Marks Church office. Regards Cheryl

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office
