Thank You

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Val Peacock in loving memory of her husband Trevor, and by Barbara Whittingstall with treasured memories of her loving husband Peter.

We are grateful when people make donations towards flowers perhaps to celebrate a special occasion such as an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact Miss Marion Prior 303254 (St Mark's) or Ann Hitt 404186 (Putnoe Heights) or add your name to the rota in the foyers.

Prayer for the Week

Heavenly Father,
you taught us by your Son Jesus Christ that all our possessions come from you. Help us to be faithful stewards of our time, our talents and our wealth, and to consecrate gladly to your service a due proportion of all that you have given us. Take us and make us your own; for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen

Ordinary 29

Opening Verse of Scripture Genesis 1:27

So God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him;
male and female he created them.

Collect Prayer (Before we read we pray)

Almighty God, who alone can bring order to the unruly wills and passions of sinful humanity: give your people grace so to love what you command and to desire what you promise that, among the many changes of this world, our hearts may surely there be fixed where true joys are to be found; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen. Common Worship

The picture is of what is commonly referred to as the "Tribute Penny" from the bible, perhaps Livia seated on reverse. The coin shows an early portrait of Tiberius. Inscribed on left: Tiberius, AR Denarius, 14-37, Rome. TI CAESAR DIVI-AVG F AVGVSTVS.

First Bible Reading - Exodus 33: 12-23

Moses said to the LORD, "You have been telling me, 'Lead these people,' but you have not let me know whom you will send with me. You have said, 'I know you by name and you have found favour with me.' If you are pleased with me, teach me your ways so I may know you and continue to find favour with you. Remember that this nation is your people." The LORD replied, "My Presence will go with you, and I will give you rest." Then Moses said to him, "If your Presence does not go with us, do not send us up from here. 16 How will anyone know that you are pleased with me and with your people unless you go with us? What else will distinguish me and your people from all the other people on the face of the earth?" And the LORD said to Moses, "I will do the very thing you have asked, because I am pleased with you and I know you by name." Then Moses said, "Now show me your glory." And the LORD said, "I will cause all my goodness to pass in front of you, and I will proclaim my name, the LORD, in your presence. I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion. But," he said, "you cannot see my face, for no one may see me and live." Then the LORD said, "There is a place near me where you may stand on a rock. When my glory passes by, I will put you in a cleft in the rock and cover you with my hand until I have passed by. Then I will remove my hand and you will see my back; but my face must not be seen.

(This is the Word of the Lord — Thanks be to God)

Second Reading -1 Thessalonians 1: 1-10

Paul, Silas and Timothy, To the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace and peace to you. We always thank God for all of you, mentioning you in our prayers. We continually remember before our God and Father your work produced by faith, your labour prompted by love, and your endurance inspired by hope in our Lord Jesus Christ. For we know, brothers loved by God, that he has chosen you, because our gospel came to you not simply with words, but also with power, with the Holy Spirit and with deep conviction. You know how we lived among you for your sake. You became imitators of us and of the Lord; in spite of severe suffering, you welcomed the message with the joy given by the Holy Spirit. And so you became a model to all the believers in Macedonia and Achaia. The Lord's message rang out from you not only in Macedonia and Achaia—your faith in God has become known everywhere. Therefore we do not need to say anything about it, for they themselves report what kind of reception you gave us. They tell how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead—Jesus, who rescues us from the coming wrath.

(This is the Word of the Lord — All: Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Matthew 22:15-22

Then the Pharisees went out and laid plans to trap him in his words. They sent their disciples to him along with the Herodians. "Teacher," they said, "we know you are a man of integrity and that you teach the way of God in accordance with the truth. You aren't swayed by men, because you pay no attention to who they are. Tell us then, what is your opinion? Is it right to pay taxes to Caesar or not?" But Jesus, knowing their evil intent, said, "You hypocrites, why are you trying to trap me? Show me the coin used for paying the tax." They brought him a denarius, and he asked them, "Whose portrait is this? And whose inscription?" "Caesar's," they replied. Then he said to them, "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's, and to God what is God's." When they heard this, they were amazed. So they left him and went away.

(This is the Word of the Lord — All: Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

Merciful Father, who gave Jesus Christ to be for us the bread of life, that those who come to him should never hunger: draw us to the Lord in faith and love, that we may eat and drink with him at his table in the kingdom, where he is alive and reigns, now and for ever. Amen

Hymns (Please distribute Holy Communion and Mission Praise)

2. As we are gathered, Jesus is here 38
3. We come as guests invited 723
4. Fight the good fight 143

Commentary

In rendering to Caesar what is Caesar's and to God what is God's we are doing no more than Christ demands. We need to achieve a balance between our family, professional and community responsibilities, meet both their spiritual and temporal needs, and in so doing acknowledge the Lord's sovereignty over all. At the time Matthew was writing it was virtually impossible to separate politics and religion. The heated debate between Jesus and the Jewish authorities has come to a head. He's called the Pharisees discontented sons (they said they would work in the vineyard but then did not go), evil tenants (of the vineyard and who killed the owner's son), and ill fated guests (at the wedding feast where they did not wear the robe of Christ). In last week's readings Jesus challenged the entire religious fabric of the Jewish society. This week it's the turn of politics. Today's gospel reading sees the Pharisees in a bizarre collaboration with the Herodians as they try once more to get the upper hand. The Pharisees and the Herodians were normally in bitter opposition. The Pharisees resented the payment of taxes to Rome because it was against their religious convictions; the Herodians were the political party of Herod, king of Galilee, who owed their power to the Romans and were therefore content to pay for that privilege through taxes. But both parties saw Jesus as a threat and used the question of taxation as an opportunity to trap Him, either politically or failing that, theologically, depending on his reply. On the one hand, if he said that taxes should not be paid he would be brought before the Roman governor for sedition, on the other, if he said that taxes should be paid, he would be seen as affirming the status of Caesar and his authority, and be brought before the temple authorities by the Pharisees for blasphemy against the one true and sovereign God of the Jews. Jesus' answer is wise and perceptive, like many of his responses. Similarly, if we want to bring about God's Kingdom in our society common sense, wisdom, perception and the appropriate response will be required.

But the very question itself was loaded, and, as with many loaded questions they are not really bothered about the answer. They are asking the question to try to trap Jesus and exert their power over Him. As we know, things don't turn out as they expect. It's almost as if Jesus, rather than not knowing what to say, responds with, '...I'm glad you asked that question...' Over the past few weeks in the passages in Matthew leading up to this exchange we have been reading about people who refuse to give God His due, who will not rejoice with His Son, and who will not recognise Him for who He is. Jesus invites His hearers to give (literally restore and appropriate) to Caesar what is due to Caesar and to God what is due to God. A complex question does not always require a complex answer. Jesus' answer is wise and challenging. It forces the Herodians to question what is Caesar's that should be restored to Him, whilst at the same time challenging the Jewish authorities to restore the people of Israel and the Jewish religion itself to God and to give God His due. As last week, Jesus questions the foundations of the society to those who had posed the question to Jesus in the first place. And they had no answers, they went away speechless.

In the time of Jesus, the denarius bore the image of the emperor Tiberius, who ruled between 14 and 37 C.E., and an inscription: "Tiberius Caesar, Augustus, son of the divine Augustus, high priest." Pharisees were particularly disturbed by the attribution of divinity to Caesar but also considered possession of this graven image to be idolatrous. They devised ways to pay this tax without possessing or handling the coin. It would be very shameful if a Pharisee produced the coin. But if a Herodian in the group produced the coin, the Pharisees would still be shamed by having selected unworthy allies. In either case, the fact that someone in their group possessed and produced the coin was shameful. Jesus' first riposte to their challenge cuts deep. Jesus' concluding exhortation, "Give to God the things that belong to God," implies that neither the Pharisees nor the Herodians are doing that. This is a serious charge. The Pharisees were so devoted to observing the Torah's 613 commandments that they put a "hedge around the Torah" and Jesus challenges both their understanding and their intent.

The image on the coin was Caesar's; we are created in God's image. If we are to give the coins to Caesar we are to give ourselves to God. But perhaps part of the problem for the hearers of this story is that whilst it was possible to give taxes to the Romans and have done with it, wasn't the same with giving themselves to God. Many would give taxes as it was a pragmatic way of coexisting peaceably with the Romans whilst maintaining a degree of religious independence. Even today, giving taxes is something of a one off transaction, even though we might pay monthly; giving ourselves to God, whilst it might start with a transaction like encounter, is a continuous process. One is a finite commitment and obligation, the other is an infinite invitation and an offer of a relationship with a bounteous God.

Sam Cappleman

Meditation

At the beginning of our services, we will all say in response to the words, 'The Lord be here', 'His Spirit is with us'. It is at one and the same time a statement of fact and a statement of faith. How we experience His being with us, through the power and presence of the Holy Spirit, may depend on how much we care to acknowledge God in our own lives. When Jesus was answering the question of the Herodians and the Pharisees He was answering their question with both fact and faith. Giving to Caesar was a fact. Taxes had either been given or not. Giving to God was faith. It is only by faith that we can give ourselves to God and believe that He has received us into a restored relationship with God through the forgiveness of our sins. Sometimes in our fact oriented and deterministic world we can lose sight of the fact that our spiritual experience is based on faith. A faith that is underpinned and enabled by knowledge and understanding, but a faith nonetheless. The law that the Pharisees espoused seemed to have been more about facts than faith, the knowledge and description of the rights and the wrongs, rather than an enabling framework to allow people to come to know God better. God's presence was with the Israelites if they would but acknowledge it. It was with them in the pillar of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night when they were in the wilderness. It was with them in the Tabernacle and the Temple and through the gift of the Holy Spirit it is with us all now. And even though the Israelites may not have always acknowledged Him, He would God would continue to lead and to guide them, in all their uncertain times and beyond, in the desert and in the Promised Land. When we look out on the uncertainty in the world today we too need to remember that God will continue to lead us, His presence is with us wherever we are, even if we feel we don't have the commandments and the word of God in tangible form with us. Sam Cappleman

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

Heavenly Father, you taught us by your Son Jesus Christ that all our possessions come from you. Help us to be faithful stewards of our time, our talents and our wealth, and to consecrate gladly to you service a due proportion of all that you have given us. Take us and make us your own; for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen

Almighty God, as we stand at the foot of the cross of your Son, help us to see and know your love for us, so that in humility, love and joy we may place at His feet all that we have and all that we are, through Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen

Stir up, O Lord, the wills of your people, that richly bearing the fruit of good works, they may by you be richly rewarded, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

I know what must be done. Only now am I beginning to be a disciple. May nothing of powers visible or invisible prevent me, that I may attain unto Jesus Christ. Amen Ignatius of Antioch

BeCHaR

Thank you for all those who have already supported our Autumn Mission project through both the harvest gifts of food last week and by returning envelopes, giving much needed financial support. Rob Huddart, who is the Chairman of the BeCHaR trustees, will be joining us on 27 November to give us an update on BeCHaR activities and highlight current priorities. We look forward to welcoming Rob in November. Thank you once again for your continued support of our Autumn Mission Project.

Accommodation is urgently needed for a Bedford University student. He is a 43 year old PhD student from Malawi. He would need inexpensive accommodation - preferably including all bills and with wifi/internet access for up to 3 months. It is very difficult to get accommodation with the letting agencies for a short term. He works for a Christian Charity in Malawi that specialises in HIV and Aids work. Accommodation with a couple or with a single male professional or in a shared house would be good. If anyone knows of suitable accommodation or can offer accommodation please contact Cass Howes 079208 49742 Chaplain Samaritan's Purse Operation Christmas Child Shoebox Appeal Choosing gifts to put in a shoebox is a really fun part of getting involved in Operation Christmas Child. There is something very rewarding about giving to a child you will probably never meet in this world – especially when you know your simple act of kindness will be felt and appreciated in more ways than you can ever imagine. As the 2012 London Olympics are only just around the corner, the Samaritan's Purse has suggested that, to be a part of the Olympic spirit, this year's Operation Christmas Child campaign can have sports-themed shoeboxes. As well as giving us the chance to do something a bit different with our shoeboxes, this is also a chance to send sporty items out to needy children in our world – children who might otherwise not have the chance to experience the joy of sport for themselves. There is a full list of items that we can and cannot accept on the Children's and Youth notice board in the welcome area at Putnoe Heights. If you would prefer to make a monetary donation we do have some gift aid envelopes for your use. Each shoe box costs £2.50 to send. Empty shoeboxes will also be appreciated. We are starting to collect from 3 October until 23 October so please leave any donations in the office by Sunday 23 October 2011 for our Children's and Youth groups to pack. Thank you. Carolyn and Emma.

Thought for the day

'Christianity had no tradition of impressive buildings at the time Constantine became Emperor in the fourth century. This changed with Constantine, who lavished many favours upon the Christian faith, including some great buildings and opulent digs. Said St. Jerome at the time: "Parchments are died purple, gold is melted into lettering, manuscripts are dressed up in jewels, while Christ lies at the door naked and dying.'

St Mark's Church Christmas Craft Fayre Saturday 19 November

There are only 5 weeks left to our Annual Christmas Craft Fayre on Saturday 19 November 2011.

Amazing how quickly it comes around. We would be grateful for any help with the following:-

Tombola: Any new unwanted gifts\Christmas present etc. for our Tombola stall.

Cake Stall: Millie is kindly co-ordinating the cake stall again this year. She would be very grateful for any offers of cakes. If you are able to bake a cake for this stall please contact Millie via the Church Office.

Refreshments: We would very much appreciate donations of traybakes to sell with tea and coffee. Ploughman's lunches will be on sale at lunchtime as usual. Volunteers to help in the kitchen on the day would be very much appreciated. To put your name down please see Avril Williams. Any help gratefully received.

Secondhand Book Stall: Delia has agreed to coordinate the secondhand book stall again this year so please have a look in your cupboards for any unwanted books. We do ask that they be in good condition please Indoor Plant Stall: After the success of last year's plant stall we are doing the same again this year. If you have any indoor plants or have split any plants and would like to donate them to our stall we would be very grateful. Marion would be pleased to receive gift of either indoor or outdoor plants, also small carrier bags.

All donated items for the above stalls can be bought up to Church anytime week beginning 15 November.

We will need lots of help on the day especially when the Fayre finishes at 3.30p.m. Many hands make light work and it would certainly be appreciated. This is one of our main fundraising events of the year and we are hoping to make it an even bigger success than last year, with your help I am sure we can achieve this. Many thanks

Avril Williams

Putnoe Harvest Lunch many thanks to all who supported and helped with the lunch on the hottest day of the year! £290 has been added to the BECHAR appeal.

Solar Power. Over the first twelve months the Solar panels at St Mark's have generated over £2,000 in electricity and feed in tariffs. It appears that they will have covered the cost of their installation on or before seven years. After this there will be a further 18 years of tax free guaranteed income under the government scheme.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'

On going to church

T.S. Eliot wrote a poem inspired by his visits to Little Gidding in his "Four Quartets". It is a long mystical poem but he describes a visit to the church in these words...

"...You are not here to verify,
Instruct yourself, or inform curiosity
Or carry report. You are here to kneel
Where prayer has been valid...
Here, the intersection of the timeless moment
Is England and nowhere. Never and always."

Forthcoming Funerals

The funeral of Mrs Denise Coates will take place on Tuesday 25 October at 10.45am
