his life for our example,
his word for our rule,
his Spirit for our guide,

that he may take possession of our hearts,
now and for ever. Amen.

Opening Verse of Scripture Psalm 116:1-8

I love the Lord, because he has heard the voice of my supplication, because he has inclined his ear to me whenever I called upon him.

Collect Prayer

Before we read we pray

God our Redeemer, who called your church to witness that you were in Christ reconciling the world to yourself: help us so to proclaim the good news of your love, that all who hear it may be reconciled drawn to you; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Methodist Worship

First Bible Reading - Proverbs 1: 20-33

Out in the open wisdom calls aloud, she raises her voice in the public square; on top of the wall she cries out, at the city gate she makes her speech:

“How long will you who are simple love your simple ways? How long will mockers delight in mockery and fools hate knowledge? Repent at my rebuke! Then I will pour out my thoughts to you, I will make known to you my teachings. But since you refuse to listen when I call and no one pays attention when I stretch out my hand, since you disregard all my advice and do not accept my rebuke, I in turn will laugh when disaster strikes you; I will mock when calamity overtakes you— when calamity overtakes you like a storm, when disaster sweeps over you like a whirlwind, when distress and trouble overwhelm you. “Then they will call to me but I will not answer; they will look for me but will not find me, since they hated knowledge and did not choose to fear the Lord.

Since they would not accept my advice and spurned my rebuke, they will eat the fruit of their ways and be filled with the fruit of their schemes For the waywardness of the simple will kill them, and the complacency of fools will destroy them; but whoever listens to me will live in safety and be at ease, without fear of harm.”

(This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Second Bible Reading - James 3: 1-12

Not many of you should presume to be teachers, my brothers, because you know that we who teach will be judged more strictly. We all stumble in many ways. If anyone is never at fault in what he says, he is a perfect man, able to keep his whole body in check. When we put bits into the mouths of horses to make them obey us, we can turn the whole animal. Or take ships as an example. Although they are so large and are driven by strong winds, they are steered by a very small rudder wherever the pilot wants to go. Likewise the tongue is a small part of the body, but it makes great boasts. Consider what a great forest is set on fire by a small spark. The tongue also is a fire, a world of evil among the parts of the body. It corrupts the whole person, sets the whole course of his life on fire, and is itself set on fire by hell. All kinds of animals, birds, reptiles and creatures of the sea are being tamed and have been tamed by man, but no man can tame the tongue. It is a restless evil, full of deadly poison. With the tongue we praise our Lord and Father, and with it we curse men, who have been made in God's likeness. Out of the same mouth come praise and cursing. My brothers, this should not be. Can both fresh water and salt water flow from the same spring? My brothers, can a fig tree bear olives, or a grapevine bear figs? Neither can a salt spring produce fresh water

(This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading— Mark 8:27-38

When the reading is announced All: Glory to Christ our Saviour

Jesus and his disciples went on to the villages around Caesarea Philippi. On the way he asked them, "Who do people say I am?" They replied, "Some say John the Baptist; others say Elijah; and still others, one of the prophets." "But what about you?" he asked. "Who do you say I am?" Peter answered, "You are the Christ." Jesus warned them not to tell anyone about him. He then began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things and be rejected by the elders, chief priests and teachers of the law, and that he must be killed and after three days rise again. He spoke plainly about this, and Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him. But when Jesus turned and looked at his disciples, he rebuked Peter. "Get behind me, Satan!" he said. "You do not have in mind the things of God, but the things of men." Then he called the crowd to him along with his disciples and said: "If anyone would come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me and for the gospel will save it. What good is it for a man to gain the whole world, yet forfeit his soul? Or what can a man give in exchange for his soul? If anyone is ashamed of me and my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man will be ashamed of him when he comes in his Father's glory with the holy angels."

(This is the Gospel of Christ - All: Praise to Christ our Lord)

Post Communion Prayer

God our creator, you feed your children with the true manna, the living bread from heaven: let this holy food sustain us through our earthly pilgrimage until we come to that place where hunger and thirst are no more; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Hymns (Please distribute Holy Communion and Mission Praise)

1. Tell out, my soul, the greatness of the Lord 631
2. I have decided to follow Jesus, 272
3. Healing God, almighty Father 226 (Tune Hyfrodol)
4. Onward, Christian soldiers! Marching as to war 543

Commentary

The passage from Mark today is all about recognising who Jesus really and what that means for his followers. There are three ways we can look at the passage, what it means for Jesus, what it meant for the disciples and what it means for us.

1. What it meant for Jesus

Jesus is nearing the end of his ministry, he is about to be killed and there is an evaluation of how well he has communicated his teaching.

Jesus asks directly what people are saying about him, and he is told that some see him as John the Baptist others as Elijah or a prophet.

Then Jesus asks them directly what they think. Peter was always quick to respond and in the words of our reading today he calls Jesus the 'Christ' The word "Christ" is a Greek translation of the Hebrew word "messiah." The expectation of a "messiah" in first century Israel was that the messiah would sweep in and bring about the promised Golden Age. The messiah would be like King David, and would destroy Israel's enemies and bring peace and prosperity to the land. We could understand Peter stating this very traditional Jewish teaching. The Messiah was one who would usher in a climactic day of God's deliverance as a mighty warrior. One capable of returning Israel to independence, free from Roman oppression.

He would understandably be shocked that Jesus interpreted Messiah as meaning somebody who would instead see the role as meaning one who suffered. Jesus speaks of himself as the "Son of Man" one who would suffer and be killed.

Peter will have nothing of it and reprimanded Jesus for having said it. Peter wants to hear nothing about the Son of Man being rejected and killed. He is still fixed on the idea of a triumphant and strong Messiah who would overpower the authorities; not suffer and die. It didn't fit his view of how God would save the world.

Peter rebukes Jesus for not being the kind of saviour that he wanted. In return Jesus uses the strongest language and calls Peter "Satan." The disciples had failed miserably to understand Jesus teaching. God's presence would not be found in powerful deeds and military might. The power of Jesus would be revealed in his risen life, but this only came through a life lived in weakness, suffering and death.

2. What it meant for the disciples

Note that Jesus calls the disciples and the crowds to gather round and makes clear that he is giving instructions which are for everyone. If they wish to live his risen life then they must follow his life of service. They must learn to copy him and deny their own selves, take up crosses, and follow. The words at the time would have had stark meaning. Having seen hundreds and thousands who had received the death sentence the crowd knew well the sight of individuals walking the roads carrying their own wooden crosses upon which they would be nailed and killed.

The message at the time would have been chilling, there were no cute songs 'the old rugged cross,' if you followed Jesus you should expect to go to the same fate as the condemned Jesus, literally carrying their cross for their own crucifixion.

3. What it means for us

We won't most likely be asked to carry a cross, or to literally die for our faith. However we are called to be radically different in our lifestyles, to live in a counter intuitive ways to the norms of society. Like Jesus, like the disciples, we are required to deny our own needs and desires. To put ourselves aside for the sake of greater values. It is giving up ourselves for others, in the way of sacrifice and unselfishness. It is giving up particular interests or time or possessions when the purposes of God require it. It is letting the will of God take the place of our own will. It is putting God, not ourselves, at the centre of life.

There were those who like the rich man had understood the cost of following Jesus and the sacrifices which needed to be made, and who decided that they were not prepared to pay that sort of price. It is interesting that Jesus finishes this teaching by using monetary terms of profit and loss. What good is it for a man to gain the whole world, yet forfeit his soul? Jesus is using the language of economics to boil it down to very materialistic terms which we all understand. Following ourselves and our own desires is a path leading to ruin, following Jesus is the only good investment.

Meditation

About this time of year people of the Jewish faith will celebrate the feast of 'Rosh Hashanah'. The words in Hebrew mean "beginning of the year". On the feast of 'Rosh Hashanah', people celebrate God's creation. During a festive meal, pieces of apple dipped in honey are eaten. It is an expression of hope for a sweet and pleasant year ahead. 'Rosh Hashanah' is also the first day of a ten-day period of reflection, asking God's forgiveness for faults of the past, promising to approach things in a better way in the year ahead. On this day, a ram's horn - called the 'shofar' - is blown.

Prayers for Sunday and the Week ahead

Blessed are you, Lord, God of all creation, for having made us all different. What I don't know about you I need to learn from others because they reflect your image and likeness in a different way. I ask you to lead me to seek to understand the many people of good will who are different from me. Blessed are you, Lord, God of all creation. I am grateful for all that is good in my life. I know that you look on me with tender love, and invite me to assess and renew my attitude and direction in life. Be with me in my determination to live in a positive way. Amen.

Wonderful God, Almighty Redeemer - you have declared your love for us not only in words, but in deeds. We thank you for the love you have revealed through Christ Jesus, our Lord and for how you have granted us by his death and resurrection victory over the sin that is in us and in the world. We praise you for inviting us to be a part of your family and for reaching out to us when we have wandered from the path. Be with us this day as we worship you and listen to your word. Grant that we may be renewed in body and spirit that we might more worthily serve and adore you. We ask it in Jesus' name.

We are on the way again Lord - the time of busyness. The time of new schooling, Of new activities in church and in the community. We ask you to bless our activities - our special services - our ways of doing things, our volunteers - and those who continue to serve as faithfully as they have for many years.... Amen.

We have a number of Church Stalls that need your support, i.e. plant stall, homemade cake stall, Craft stall and of course tray-bakes for refreshments. So plant up your cuttings (indoor and out), bake your cakes and tray-bakes then come and enjoy the day with a cup of tea and a lovely ploughman's lunch. Help on the day is always needed and is very much appreciated. Any queries about the above just contact Avril via the Church Office. Thank you.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.
