Third Sunday of Easter

Sentence of Scripture Psalm 118

I will exalt you, O LORD, for you lifted me out of the depths and did not let my enemies gloat over me. O LORD my God, I called to you for help and you healed me. O LORD, you brought me up from the grave; you spared me from going down into the pit. Sing to the LORD, you saints of his; praise his holy name.

Collect Prayer for the Day

Before we read we pray

Almighty Father, who in your great mercy gladdened the disciples with the sight of the risen Lord: give us such knowledge of his presence with us, that we may be strengthened and sustained by his risen life and serve you continually in righteousness and truth; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord; who is alive and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen Common Worship

First Bible Reading - Acts 3:12-18

When Peter saw this, he said to them: "Men of Israel, why does this surprise you? Why do you stare at us as if by our own power or godliness we had made this man walk? The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified his servant Jesus. You handed him over to be killed, and you disowned him before Pilate, though he had decided to let him go. You disowned the Holy and Righteous One and asked that a murderer be released to you. You killed the author of life, but God raised him from the dead. We are witnesses of this. By faith in the name of Jesus, this man whom you see and know was made strong. It is Jesus' name and the faith that comes through him that has given this complete healing to him, as you can all see. "Now, brothers, I know that you acted in ignorance, as did your leaders. But this is how God fulfilled what he had foretold through all the prophets, saying that his Christ would suffer. Repent, then, and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out, that times of refreshing may come from the Lord, and that he may send the Christ, who has been appointed for you—even Jesus. He must remain in heaven until the time comes for God to restore everything, as he promised long ago through his holy prophets. For Moses said, 'The Lord your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your own people; you must listen to everything he tells you. Anyone who does not listen to him will be completely cut off from among his people.'"

"Indeed, all the prophets from Samuel on, as many as have spoken, have foretold these days. And you are heirs of the prophets and of the covenant God made with your fathers. He said to Abraham, 'Through your offspring all peoples on earth will be blessed.' When God raised up his servant, he sent him first to you to bless you by turning each of you from your wicked ways." (This is the word of the Lord—Thanks be to God)

Second Bible Reading - 1 John 3:1-7

How great is the love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God! And that is what we are! The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Dear friends, now we are children of God, and what we will be has not yet been made known. But we know that when he appears, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is. Everyone who has this hope in him purifies himself, just as he is pure. Everyone who sins breaks the law; in fact, sin is lawlessness. But you know that he appeared so that he might take away our sins. And in him is no sin. No one who lives in him keeps on sinning. No one who continues to sin has either seen him or known him. Dear children, do not let anyone lead you astray. He who does what is right is righteous, just as he is righteous.

(This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Luke 24:36b-48

(Please stand when the reading is announced -Glory to Christ our Saviour)

While they were still talking about this, Jesus himself stood among them and said to them, "Peace be with you." They were startled and frightened, thinking they saw a ghost.

He said to them, "Why are you troubled, and why do doubts rise in your minds? Look at my hands and my feet. It is I myself! Touch me and see; a ghost does not have flesh and bones, as you see I have." When he had said this, he showed them his hands and feet. And while they still did not believe it because of joy and amazement, he asked them, "Do you have anything here to eat?" They gave him a piece of broiled fish, and he took it and ate it in their presence.

He said to them, "This is what I told you while I was still with you: Everything must be fulfilled that is written about me in the Law of Moses, the Prophets and the Psalms." Then he opened their minds so they could understand the Scriptures. He told them, "This is what is written: The Christ will suffer and rise from the dead on the third day, and repentance and forgiveness of sins will be preached in his name to all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. You are witnesses of these things. I am going to send you what my Father has promised; but stay in the city until you have been clothed with power from on high."

(This is the Gospel of Christ - Praise to Christ our Lord)

Post Communion Prayer

Living God, your Son made himself known to his disciples in the breaking of bread: open the eyes of our faith, that we may see him in all his redeeming work; who is alive and reigns, now and for ever. Amen

Hymns for Sunday (Please distribute Holy Communion Booklets and Hymn Sheet if desired)

1. Risen Lord in splendour seated
2. He is Lord, He is Lord
3. Speak Lord in the stillness
4. Tell out my soul

Commentary

Our post Resurrection readings today contain key elements of what our faith in the Risen Lord is based on, and what was and is required of those who believe in him who lived, suffered, died and rose again for all nations. Elements such as healing, repentance, forgiveness and witnessing. In Luke 2: 36 to 48 Jesus appears to the 'startled and frightened' disciples, proves to them that it was him by showing them his wounds from the nails of the cross, eats with them and 'opened their minds so they could understand the Scriptures'. Having explained all this to them he declares that they 'are witnesses to these things'. Witnesses to significant events are frequently inspired to tell others about them, it is these inspired witnesses, the disciples, that we read about in the book of Acts. Disciples, who despite their fear, had the courage to speak with conviction of the Risen Christ and act in his name.

Today's reading from Acts 3: 12 - 19 is one such account. The verses we heard follow on from when Peter, accompanied by John, had healed a man who had had a disability from birth. This man was well known for sitting begging by the temple gate called 'Beautiful'. Peter had healed him by saying "Silver or gold I do not have, but what I have I give you. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk." This, naturally delighted, man had then entered the temple courts 'walking and jumping and praising God', to the amazement of those gathered there. Peter, the same Peter who had previously denied Christ, takes the opportunity to declare that he had not healed in his own power or godliness, but by faith in the name of Jesus. By faith in the very person whose death, those listening had been party to. A very brave and some might say foolish thing to do. But note in verse 17 Peter says that, those who were complicit in the death of Jesus, 'acted in ignorance, as did your leaders'. After earlier struggles, Peter seems to have come to terms with the fact that Jesus had to die to rise again, in order to fulfil God's plan as foretold through all the prophets, so instead of condemning those listening, he calls them to 'Repent and turn to God, so that their sins may be wiped out, that times of refreshing may come from the Lord'.

The first letter of John 3: 1- 7 begins very affectionately, exclaiming: 'How great is the love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God!', then goes on to remind the readers and hearers of that letter that continuing, individual acts of sin are not compatible with the 'children of God'. God's children are to live up to the highest standards as set by Jesus and to be alert to being led astray. How easy it is for us to be 'led astray'! We can get in with the wrong crowd, watch the wrong TV programmes, and misuse the internet, saying to ourselves 'It'll be alright just once'. The standard we have to set ourselves against is Christ! One way of avoiding being 'led astray' is by continually immersing ourselves in the Scripture which Jesus revealed to his first disciples and reveals to us today through the workings of the Holy Spirit. Perhaps another is to witness to the faith in the Risen and Resurrected Jesus. Today I fear many of us, me included, do not always have the courage to stand up and say that we believe in Jesus as the Son of God, who lived, died and rose again. One of the reasons, I suspect, we don't do so is for the fear of offending others or being ridiculed. On the other hand the Acts of the Apostles are full of accounts of those early, often with just cause, fearful first followers of Jesus. This model, set by Peter, may be the model we might choose to use when we find ourselves in a position where we can either keep quiet about our faith, or speak out for and about it. Not in an adversarial way, but by accepting those listening are those who they are, whose lives have taken a different path to ours, who may not yet have heard of the truth about Jesus, or who have heard about him but have not got the full facts, or those whose lives have been so marred by misfortune that to believe in a God who 'wipes out' sin, died and rose again for them may be too difficult to grasp. We are to trust that, when the children of God are called by him to witness for him, they are not left to rely on their own resources.

In the OT Jeremiah, having heard God's call to be a prophet said to the Lord 'I do not know how to speak; I am only a child'. The Lord responds: "Do not say, 'I am too young.' You must go to everyone I send you to and say whatever I command you. Do not be afraid of them, for I am with you and will rescue you". (Jeremiah 1: 4 – 10) Another, perhaps more well know example, is Moses being given Aaron to speak for him, in Exodus 4: 10 Moses protests to the Lord: "O Lord. I have never been eloquent, neither in the past nor since you have spoken to your servant. I am slow of speech and tongue." The Lord responds: "Who gave human beings their mouths? Who makes them deaf or mute? Who gives them sight or makes them blind? Is it not I, the Lord". Moses still pleads with the Lord to send someone else, but the Lord, now angry with Moses, suggests Moses' brother Aaron speaks for him. Perhaps one message we can take from Acts is that we too have a voice, a God given voice, which with discernment, with guidance from the Holy Spirit and in the name of Jesus we can develop the courage, to speak in the name of Jesus; out for the name of Jesus; speak of who he was and who he is today. Speaking from our own experience of what he means to us, what he has done for us and others we know, and what he can do for those who are willing to listen, hear and respond. Amen Wendy Waters

Those Glorious Scars – Ken Taylor, 'Sunday by Sunday

His coming is almost 'played down': they are talking quietly, incredulously together, and then they realise he is there. There is an amazing restraint about the Resurrection; no blast of trumpets heralds the new creation. This is the way God usually works – quietly, unobtrusively, almost unnoticed, often unrecognised, and with great humility. What sort of body is this? He cannot be touched by Mary 'until he is ascended', but invites the touch of Thomas, and those he met in this room; he is no ghost but 'flesh and blood' and can eat fish; he can pass through walls and locked doors (so no need to move that Stone except to show he was gone); and he can appear and disappear at will. Seen only by those who love him, is it only because he is unexpected that he is so hard to recognise?

What kind of body is this? Easter faith asserts that Jesus lives but claims nothing specific about a resuscitated corpse or defines what a 'resurrection body' is. How can we understand life in another dimension or this glimpse of new creation? We are facing mystery.

When he held the bread at Emmaus, and in the upper room, and especially with Thomas, the marks in his hands and feet, wounded for our transgressions, bruised for our inequities, are the signs by which he is recognised. We need to explore more fully how the presence of the living Christ is best identified by the marks of suffering Love. A living Church, alive to Christ, alive in Christ, will show the same marks of Love.

'Bearing in our body the dying Lord Jesus' means living the way that Jesus died.

Annual Congregational Meeting

Please complete a Church Membership Form

Our Annual General Church Meeting takes place on 26 April after the church services. It is really helpful and sometimes quite important for us to have accurate membership information for this meeting. Our churches pay a financial contribution to the Church of England or the Methodist Church for every member over 16 years of age. It is therefore important to have an accurate record of membership to enable us to pay our church share to the Church of England and the Methodist Church. It is also helpful to have up to date details if we need to make contact with you, perhaps when a pastoral situation arises.

If you consider yourself to be a member of this church, please would you kindly complete this form and return it to the church office, a minister or a member of the Leadership Team. You can also fax or Email your details to vicar@thisischurch.com. Please be assured we do not release your details to any other organisations.

It is becoming increasingly helpful to have a record of email addresses so please do let us know. It is helpful and cost effective to communicate in this way and we will can send you a copy of Partnership News each week which is helpful if you are unable to come to church for any reason. We will not share your details with anybody else.

Nomination Forms for Church Council

Nomination forms for the Church Councils are printed in Partnership News this week and anyone who attends our churches can join the church council at either St Mark's or Putnoe Heights. Becoming a member of the church council is a great way of having your say and becoming more involved with the running of the churches. As you know, to maintain its Charity status, St Mark's has recently become a Charitable Incorporated Organisation called St Mark's Church Community Centre, Bedford and Church Council members at St Mark's therefore become members of that charity. Just as the members of the Church Council, they then have a degree of responsibility for the decisions that are made at the church. Needless to say, everyone who comes to either church whether on Church Council or not is always welcome and it's great to know that all who come can benefit from all the activities that happens every day in our churches.

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

Heavenly Father we thank and praise you that you call us your children and brought your own son into this world for our sakes, to live, die and rise again so that we might be forgiven and have new life in you.

Risen Christ, we are weak and fallible, help us to follow the standards you set us, standards that in our own strength so often seem unattainable, when we are in danger of being led astray guide and direct us into your ways of right living.

Risen Lord you inspired and gave courage to your first disciples which transformed them from fearful to brave people of faith and trust in you. Inspire us, we pray, to be so transformed by our own experience of you that we too have the courage to speak out in your name, for your name, whilst remaining sensitive to who those listening might be.

Living Lord we pray earnestly for the many thousands of those, in our own time, who refuse to deny you even in the face of extreme adversity, danger and death. May their faith and trust in you give them continuing courage and strength to be a witness to those who persecute them, such that they may be transformed into knowing you.

Healing Lord we pray for your healing touch on all who find life a struggle at this time, those struggling with physical or mental illness; those whose faith in you is stretched to the limit by their circumstances; those who watch as their loved ones suffer; those whose committed caring of a loved one takes its toll on them, meet them at their point of need.

May God be gracious to us and bless us and make his face shine upon us. (Psalm 67:1) Amen

Rest In Peace

If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office
