Prayer for Sunday

Day by day, O Lord,
let us ardently seek your presence,
lovingly walk with you
and willingly spend ourselves in your service.
At the day's end let us not be found hiding our talents nor at the end of our life be unready to rise up and meet you in the feast of your kingdom;
through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Ordinary 12

Sentence of Scripture Psalm 9:8

He will judge the world in righteousness; he will govern the peoples with justice. The LORD is a refuge for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble.

Collect Prayer for the Day Before we read we pray Creator God, in the beginning your word subdued the chaos and in the fullness of time you sent Jesus, your Son, to rebuke the forces of evil and to make all things new. By that same power transform our fear into faith that we might have courage to follow in the way of your Kingdom; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen

First Bible Reading Job 38:1-11

Then the LORD answered Job out of the storm. He said: "Who is this that darkens my counsel with words without knowledge? Brace yourself like a man; I will question you, and you shall answer me. "Where were you when I laid the earth's foundation? Tell me, if you understand. Who marked off its dimensions? Surely you know! Who stretched a measuring line across it? On what were its footings set, or who laid its cornerstone-- while the morning stars sang together and all the angels shouted for joy? "Who shut up the sea behind doors when it burst forth from the womb, when I made the clouds its garment and wrapped it in thick darkness, when I fixed limits for it and set its doors and bars in place, when I said, 'This far you may come and no farther; here is where your proud waves halt'? (This is the word of the Lord—Thanks be to God)

Second Bible Reading - 2 Corinthians 6:1-13

As God's fellow workers we urge you not to receive God's grace in vain. For he says, "In the time of my favour I heard you, and in the day of salvation I helped you." I tell you, now is the time of God's favour, now is the day of salvation. We put no stumbling block in anyone's path, so that our ministry will not be discredited. Rather, as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way: in great endurance; in troubles, hardships and distresses; in beatings, imprisonments and riots; in hard work, sleepless nights and hunger; in purity, understanding, patience and kindness; in the Holy Spirit and in sincere love; in truthful speech and in the power of God; with weapons of righteousness in the right hand and in the left; through glory and dishonour, bad report and good report; genuine, yet regarded as impostors; known, yet regarded as unknown; dying, and yet we live on; beaten, and yet not killed; sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; poor, yet making many rich; having nothing, and yet possessing everything. We have spoken freely to you, Corinthians, and opened wide our hearts to you. We are not withholding our affection from you, but you are withholding yours from us. As a fair exchange--I speak as to my children--open wide your hearts also. (This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Mark 4:35-41

(Please stand when the gospel is announced—Glory to Christ our Saviour)

That day when evening came, he said to his disciples, "Let us go over to the other side." Leaving the crowd behind, they took him along, just as he was, in the boat. There were also other boats with him. A furious squall came up, and the waves broke over the boat, so that it was nearly swamped. Jesus was in the stern, sleeping on a cushion. The disciples woke him and said to him, "Teacher, don't you care if we drown?" He got up, rebuked the wind and said to the waves, "Quiet! Be still!" Then the wind died down and it was completely calm. He said to his disciples, "Why are you so afraid? Do you still have no faith?" They were terrified and asked each other, "Who is this? Even the wind and the waves obey him!"

(This is the Gospel of Christ—Praise to Christ our Lord)

Statue of our Lady made in Lebanon from the model of a seal of the abbey Notre Dame, dating from 13th century. The work of a well known Lebanese wood carver Joseph Hoveck. It was carved out of a branch of (fallen under its own weight) from the thousand year old cedars which grow on Mount Lebanon. Displayed in the Cathedral in Boulogne.

Post Communion Prayer

Eternal God, we thank you for nourishing us with these heavenly gifts: may our communion strengthen us in our faith, build us up in hope, and make us grow in love; for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Hymns for Sunday Please distribute Holy Communion booklets

1. Angel voices ever singing
2. Jesus calls us here to meet him
3. Lord of our life, and God of our salvation
4. Jesus, lover of my soul,

Commentary

The passage from Mark today shows Jesus in a storm and clearly nature is important, but so also is geography. Listen to Jesus at the start of the passage 'Let us go over to the other side.' At the start of Chapter 5 we read that when they had eventually crossed the lake and they get out of the boat they are in the country of Gerasenes and Jesus heals a man who has demons and we are told that the demons go into the pigs. They are going to a place where there will be pigs, it was a foreign place. It was different. Specifically if you were one of the disciples you would regard this as going to gentile territory. For Jesus the Jew, and the Jewish disciples this is a significant symbolic crossing as well as a literal one.

In their upbringing the disciples would have been taught that this was an unclean place, the place where gentiles lived. Gentiles were not favoured by the Jews, since Gentiles were unclean, the fundamental things for a Jew was to avoid such places and such people, they were to remain uncontaminated. The thing which is perhaps most important for us to remember is that this was not just something which they had picked up from their parents. This was Jewish teaching, this was Biblical teaching, this was from God. The God fearing faithful Jew believed that the gentile was unclean. God had told them. Jesus is now crossing the lake, and he is also crossing centuries of prejudice and separation. Jesus is rewriting the rules in a way which must have seemed frightening.

The worry which we all should share is that sometimes what we think of as God's prejudice is actually just our prejudice and we justify it by convincing ourselves that God demands such behaviour. Good Christian people have done this throughout the centuries as we have colluded with racist and sexism. It was not so long ago we considered it alright for Christians to subjugate black people, marriage between blacks and whites was considered wrong by good God fearing people in this country. This would be bad enough if it were not for the fact that we use scripture to reinforce our prejudice.

The challenge for us today is to ask ourselves whether we are prepared to get into the boat with Jesus, knowing that it might take us to the other side, to foreign territory, spiritually, intellectually. The hardest journey is not a physical one, it is being able to open our minds. We know how difficult it was for the early church to come to terms with the inclusion of the gentiles into the new community. How prepared are you to cross to the other side, to meet people who you have been taught are unclean, to see them as Christ sees them?

So here are the disciples going to gentile country, a mission to new territory and they are doing so in the dark. Then there is a storm at sea and it is clear that they are frightened. The boat in which Jesus and the disciples were travelling was a little boat, and the waves were large and the wind was blowing in the night. The language used could mean a hurricane. The impression we are given is of hardened fishermen who had been through quite intense weather conditions and they were afraid because the conditions were life threatening. The waves were beating on the boat and the boat was filling with water. It is in this context that we are told the disciples use the words to Jesus 'Don't you care'

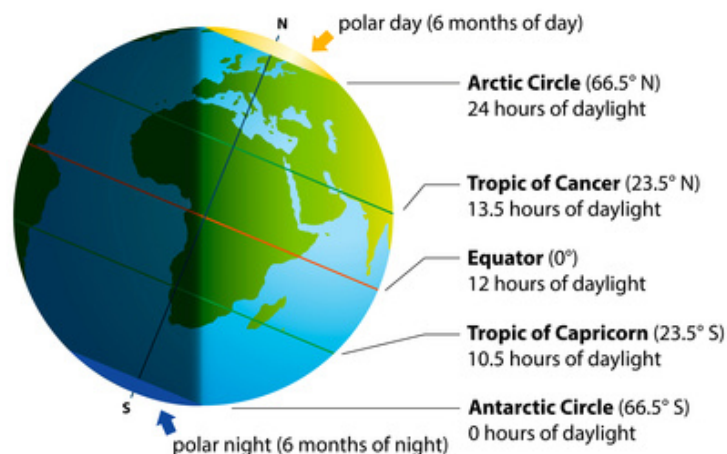

These words are considerably softened by the other Gospel writers ! Matthew has, "Save, Lord, we are perishing." Luke has, "Master, Master, we are perishing!" These words recorded by Mark sound harsh towards Jesus but we can understand them. Have you ever wondered what on earth Jesus was doing whilst people you knew suffered, or terrible things took place? Have you ever asked Jesus why he seemed less compassionate towards suffering than you? This story teaches us the valuable lesson that we cannot judge Jesus by the ferocity of the storms which rage around us. Jesus was totally present physically with the disciples and yet they encountered life threatening storms.

We are told that Jesus raised from sleep rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, "Peace! Be silent!" Jesus rebuked the wind just as he had rebuked the demonic powers (1:25, 3:12). He says to the sea, "Be silent!", which is the same thing he had said to the demon which had possessed the man in the synagogue (1:25).

This is really difficult because we could read this passage and believe that when we get into the storms of life, be they physical, spiritual or otherwise, that all we have to do is wake Jesus up and he will do something about it. This is the belief of many Christians. Millions of prayers are made which ask Jesus to stop the storm and provide a nice sunny day with calm seas. Give me a new job, give me a new girlfriend, stop the bank from taking my house, give me better exam grades than last year, make me well again. We must never lead people to believe that Jesus is like a Genie in a bottle. We all know that this is not what God is like. Jesus rebukes the disciples and the rebuke he uses is about their faith. Jesus says to the frightened disciples "Why are you so afraid? Do you still have no faith?" Faith will not protect us from the storms of life. Neither should we be in denial and pretend that storms around us do not exist. The presence of Jesus in the boat does not change the condition of the sea, neither are we protected from storms. However Jesus is clear that faith should have one important impact, it should drive out fear. His disciples will be buffeted and tossed about, they will be persecuted and tortured and killed. Yet Jesus is absolutely resolute that despite all of this they should be a people without fear.

summer solstice (June 21)

Meditation

Today the 21st of June is the longest day of the year, called the Summer Solstice. For those living in the northern hemisphere, the Summer Solstice is the day on which the earth, spinning on its axis, has its North Pole 'tipped' as far as it will go to face the sun. Because of this 'tipping' towards the sun, the northern hemisphere receives the longest hours of daylight of the year.

Let us pray:

Lord God, Creator of light, at the rising of your sun each morning, let the greatest of all lights - your love - rise, like the sun, within my heart. (from the Armenian Liturgy)

Prayers for Sunday and the Week ahead

Lord Jesus, help us not to be afraid of people, things or ideas just because they are new or different. Forgive us when our desire to feel comfortable causes us only to travel along familiar roads. Help us to be open to new ideas and to be willing to share with people who see things differently.

May our faith and trust in you anchor our souls amidst the turbulence of life and hold us fast in the assurance of your love. May we never be afraid or lonely, but always seek your presence in whatever situations we may find ourselves. By faith help us to put our trust in you and never judge your love for us by either the tranquillity or ferocity of the world around us.

Our Father, who dwells in Heaven, we pray for all fathers. Strengthen and bless fathers to be faithful, loving and present; and for those fathers who you have brought into your Kingdom ahead of their children, and children ahead of their fathers, enfold them with your Holy Light and enfold us with your comfort. Now and forever, we pray. Amen.

Proposed Changes to the North Bedford Methodist Circuit

Putnoe Heights Church Council last week discussed proposals from the Methodist Circuit for a reorganization of ministry across the circuit from 2016 as follows. A Methodist Minister living at the Coles Close Manse (Rev. Gayne Worgan is currently invited to 2016) would be responsible for Priory Methodist Church, Howard Memorial Church, Cardington, Putnoe Heights (LEP) Church and St. Mark's (LEP) Church. Deacon Jane Mills, invited to 2017 would do a missional role across the circuit 2016/17, then part time lay Mission/Evangelism Enabler. Following a meeting of the Partnership Council and a request from them Sam and Charlie have made an alternative proposal to the circuit for the Partnership. The proposed circuit changes for the Partnership are only a small part of a much wider deployment of staff across the circuit which tackles the wider issue of serving 28 Methodist Churches with a decreasing number of Methodist Ministers whilst at the same time as maintaining the current circuit focus on youth. The circuit proposals were confirmed at the circuit at Putnoe Heights 22 June, with the possibility that there may be some changes. In the meantime if you have any questions the please feel free to speak with any member of the Church Leadership Teams who have been discussing this in some detail.

Encyclical by Pope Francis, Laudato Si' - Care of our common home. A letter circulated by the Pope to Catholic churches worldwide and addressed to all people of good will addresses care for the environment and environmental justice. In Laudato Si' Pope Francis speaks openly about the devastating effects of climate change on people and the planet. He says that climate change is real, urgent and it must be tackled. He also describes the climate as "a common good, belonging to all and meant for all". It highlights the greatest threats facing the human family today: climate change, growing global inequality and the destruction of nature. This is not the first time Pope Francis has spoken about climate change. During his trip to the Philippines earlier this year, journalists asked him whether he thought that mankind was responsible for climate change, to which he replied: "I don't know if it is all [man's fault] but the majority is, for the most part, it is man who continuously slaps down nature". He has also expressed relief that there is a growing movement to tackle climate change. He said, "Thank God that today there are voices that are speaking out about this."

Pope Francis urges society to move away from the myth of perennial progress at the expense of the Earth's resources, and calls on us to recognise that development which fails to respect the Earth is a false economy. Far from telling us how we must live, he calls for an open dialogue in society about how best to tackle the global issues we face, including climate change, and a bottom up approach that puts care for the very poorest at the centre of the way we live our lives.

Pope Francis' encyclical emphasises the connection between environmental degradation and poverty, between the love for creation and poverty reduction and the interconnection between human dignity, human development and human ecology.

Message sent to African Methodist Episcopal Church

The President and Vice-President of the Methodist Conference have sent a letter of solidarity to the African Methodist Episcopal Church following the killing of nine people at a church in Charleston, South Carolina. In their letter the Revd Kenneth Howcroft and Ms Gill Dascombe express their horror and sadness over the killings. The full message and a prayer follow:

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ

We are horrified and deeply saddened to hear of the vicious killing of nine people at Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston, South Carolina. The hearts of the members of the Methodist Church in Great Britain go out to the families and friends of those killed; to the Church; and to the wider communities in Charleston. We thank God for the lives of those who have died.

We thank God and pray for you all in these difficult times; and will try to pray for the killer and any of similar mind. We will stand alongside you all in bewilderment, grief and, above all, prayer. May God bless you all.

Prayer

Gracious God, When sudden death makes the world go dark, help us to mourn with those who mourn, to hunger and thirst for righteousness with them, and to be peacemakers in a violent world. Where our minds seem confused, our spirits disordered, and the world in chaos, may your Spirit bring order, and the blessing of hope. In the name of Jesus Christ. Amen
