Thank You

The flowers in church at St Mark's this week have been donated by Brian Sallows in loving memory of his wife Carol.

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Lorna Button in memory of Brian, and by Lucy Hedley in memory of Bill, on their respective wedding anniversaries.

Prayer for Sunday

Let your love fall upon the altar of our hearts,
O Lord, as fire from heaven.
Teach us to guard and cherish its holy flame.
Strengthen our souls and kindle your love within our cold hearts that we may walk before you as pilgrims eager to reach their celestial home;
through Christ our Lord. Amen

Opening Verse of Scripture Psalm 71:3

Be to me a rock of refuge, a strong fortress to save me, for you are my rock and my fortress

A Collect Prayer - Before we read we pray

Merciful God, grant that your Church, being gathered by your Holy Spirit into one, may reveal your glory among all peoples, to the honour of your name; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

First Reading –Isaiah 58: 9b –14

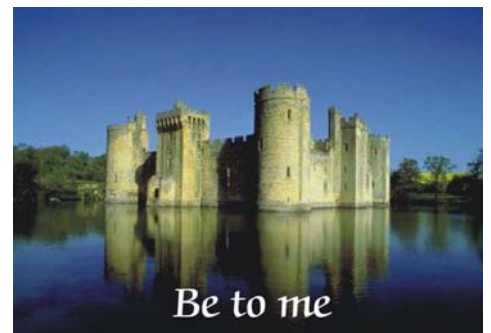

Then you will call, and the LORD will answer; you will cry for help, and he will say: Here am I. "If you do away with the yoke of oppression, with the pointing finger and malicious talk, and if you spend yourselves in behalf of the hungry and satisfy the needs of the oppressed, then your light will rise in the darkness, and your night will become like the noonday. The LORD will guide you always; he will satisfy your needs in a sun-scorched land and will strengthen your frame. You will be like a well-watered garden, like a spring whose waters never fail. Your people will rebuild the ancient ruins and will raise up the age-old foundations; you will be called Repairer of Broken Walls, Restorer of Streets with Dwellings. "If you keep your feet from breaking the Sabbath and from doing as you please on my holy day, if you call the Sabbath a delight and the LORD's holy day honorable, and if you honour it by not going your own way and not doing as you please or speaking idle words, then you will find your joy in the LORD, and I will cause you to ride on the heights of the land and to feast on the inheritance of your father Jacob." The mouth of the LORD has spoken (Reader: This is the word of the Lord—All: Thanks be to God)

Second Reading- Hebrews 12: 18-29

You have not come to a mountain that can be touched and that is burning with fire; to darkness, gloom and storm; to a trumpet blast or to such a voice speaking words that those who heard it begged that no further word be spoken to them, because they could not bear what was commanded: "If even an animal touches the mountain, it must be stoned. "The sight was so terrifying that Moses said, "I am trembling with fear."

But you have come to Mount Zion, to the heavenly Jerusalem, the city of the living God. You have come to thousands upon thousands of angels in joyful assembly, to the church of the firstborn, whose names are written in heaven. You have come to God, the judge of all men, to the spirits of righteous men made perfect, to Jesus the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word than the blood of Abel. See to it that you do not refuse him who speaks. If they did not escape when they refused him who warned them on earth, how much less will we, if we turn away from him who warns us from heaven? At that time his voice shook the earth, but now he has promised, "Once more I will shake not only the earth but also the heavens. " The words "once more" indicate the removing of what can be shaken--that is, created things--so that what cannot be shaken may remain. Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us be thankful, and so worship God acceptably with reverence and awe, for our "God is a consuming fire."

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

*Be to me
a rock of refuge,
a strong fortress,
to save me,
for you are my rock
and my fortress.*

Psalm 71.3

Gospel Reading –Luke 13: 10-17

On a Sabbath Jesus was teaching in one of the synagogues, and a woman was there who had been crippled by a spirit for eighteen years. She was bent over and could not straighten up at all. When Jesus saw her, he called her forward and said to her, "Woman, you are set free from your infirmity." Then he put his hands on her, and immediately she straightened up and praised God. Indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, the synagogue ruler said to the people, "There are six days for work. So come and be healed on those days, not on the Sabbath." The Lord answered him, "You hypocrites! Doesn't each of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or donkey from the stall and lead it out to give it water? Then should not this woman, a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has kept bound for eighteen long years, be set free on the Sabbath day from what bound her?" When he said this, all his opponents were humiliated, but the people were delighted with all the wonderful things he was doing.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord -All: Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

God of our pilgrimage, you have willed that the gates of mercy should stand open for those who trust in you: look upon us with your favour that we who follow the path of your will may never wander from the way of life, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Commentary

Terrible physical ailments can sometimes prevent us from seeing inside a person and recognising their real beauty and worth. We castigate children if they make fun of people with any kind of deformity and yet there has always been a tendency for adults to do the same thing, often with even greater cruelty. From a religious perspective there have always been and perhaps always will be, those who see any misfortune which others suffer as a punishment from God for being bad.

In the story from the gospel reading today, we are introduced to a woman who must have suffered greatly from a condition which caused her to have a bent posture. She would be known by everybody and she would not have been considered blessed by God.

It seems that it was always people like this that attracted Jesus. It wasn't that he always supported the under dog, it was more that he was able to see beyond the condition which presented itself and see the real person within. How much more lovely was the woman who was bent and crippled, than the self-righteous synagogue ruler? This ruler might have had perfect physical health, but his spiritual health was clearly terminal.

So Jesus pronounces freedom for the woman, freedom from the illness which had blighted her life and made others treat her as worthless and condemned. In an instant her whole life turned around, and little wonder that when she stood up straight her first act was to praise God. Everything was going to be different for the woman and we would hope that everybody around would be able to share in her sense of release and thanksgiving to God.

However the law said that healing on the Sabbath was wrong. In a legal sense the ruler of the synagogue was correct when he shouted that Jesus should not have healed on the Sabbath. The Jews were a special people and they did special things on certain days, ate specific foods, obeyed particular laws given by God. So Jesus might be helping the woman, but he was attacking nothing less than the law of God. Why would Jesus do such a thing, why not wait until the following day, make an appointment with the woman for her to come back and be healed without disobeying the religious law?

The answer must be that Jesus is doing more than healing a woman. Jesus is trying to make the bigger point, he is bringing in a new religion and with his religion compassion is more important than commandment. The new religion of Jesus calls for much more than blind obedience to a written law. It demands that each Christian, inspired by the Spirit, learns to live according to a new principle of love. It is scary, it replaces the old rules of the Old Testament and it appears to leave so much to chance. However those whose hearts have been warmed by the mercy of God are transformed by the Spirit and led in ways that no law ever could.

Charles Royden

Meditation 'Standing up and praising God'

On this day in which we remember a woman physically bent and crippled. It is interesting to remember George Handel. In 1741 he too was a bent figure and one night he was seen to be moving slowly and unsurely along a dimly-lit street in London. He was ill and depressed and was struggling with his life, especially as he had suffered a stroke a few years before, paralysing his right side, affecting his walking and writing.

This great composer was the king's chief musician. Feeling in despair he heard some words as he passed a church: "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?". These words of a psalm touched him deeply. He returned home and began to write some music. From August 22nd, until September 14th he wrote his music almost non-stop, sleeping and eating little. What he wrote is now world famous and is called "The Messiah". On finishing this masterpiece, he slept for 17 hours. "The Messiah" is an opera in which singers present the life of Jesus from his birth to his death and resurrection, and so the music of Handel's "Messiah" is often sung, especially at Christmas and Easter.

At the first London performance, in Covent Garden Theatre on 23 March 1743, King George II attended the performance of Handel's "Messiah." He was so impressed and touched by the "Hallelujah Chorus" that he stood up accompanied by the whole assembly. This has established a tradition which is still maintained as the audience stand up throughout the "Hallelujah Chorus" .

Handel was a committed Christian, and all performances of his music whilst he was alive were in aid of charities of his choice. The "Messiah" was first performed in Dublin, in aid of some charities which included "poor and distressed people who were in prison for debt". Whilst talking about the time he was composing the "Hallelujah Chorus", Handel is reputed to have said: "I thought I saw all heaven before me, and the great God himself."

Handel was completely blind for the last 6 years of his life. He died in London in 1759, and the last musical performance he heard was a week earlier, and it was his "Messiah". Charles Royden

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

Holy God, you liberate the oppressed and make a way of salvation. Unite us with all who cry for justice and lead us together into freedom; through our Lord and Liberator, Jesus Christ. Amen.

O Lord my God, I adore you as my first beginning and I long for you as my last end. Conduct me, therefore, O gracious Lord, by your wisdom. Restrain me with your justice, comfort me with your mercy, and defend me with your power; and of your love, enlighten my understanding, enflame my will and purify my soul; for Jesu's sake. Amen Richard Challoner, 1691-1781 Merciful God, take pity on me and hear my prayer. I ask not for riches and wealth, neither for great fame or adoration. My prayer is not that I will achieve success in my endeavours or be free from physical harm. I seek only to understand the course which you have plotted for my life, that I might more closely attain to the things which you have set before me.

Riding Lights on Saturday 9 October 7.30pm At Putnoe Heights Church, Bedford.

Riding Lights Theatre Company presents the PRISON & CHURCH TOUR 2004 of ‘Hope Opera’ The Stuff of Life

Imagine a kitchen in a house down the road from you. A mismatched group of people trading tales of their great scrapes and escapes. Pushing bags of the white stuff around a table with scarred and tattooed fists. It’s flour, of course. They’re making bread.

This is a place where people live their own stories; where sharing your story could open a window on eternity. Hope Opera’s a place at that table, with the mix of heroes and hopeless cases: a boy with nothing but tattoos to his name, a girl whose curiosity got the better of her, a man made of anger. Extraordinary stories told in extraordinary ways... colourful, moving, unforgettable, Hope Opera stops you in your tracks, turns things round, and starts you off in new directions. A remarkable blend of grit and grandeur, masks and music, getting a grip on the stuff of real life.

Chorus

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'
