The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church have been given by Carolyn and Tim Morris to celebrate their wedding anniversary and Ron Simmonds in loving memory of Maureen on their 50 wedding anniversary

The flowers at St Mark's Church have been given by Jean and Roger Bank in celebration of their wedding anniversary.

We are grateful when people make donations towards flowers perhaps to celebrate a special occasion such as an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact Miss Marion Prior 303254 (St. Mark's) or Ann Hitt 404186 (Putnoe Heights) or add your name to the rota in the Foyers.

Prayer for Sunday

O good Jesus, brightness of the Father's glory, teach us to do your will that, guided by your Spirit, we may come to the city of everlasting day, where all are one in heart and mind, where all is safety and eternal peace, and where you live with the Father and the Holy Spirit, world without end.

Sentence of Scripture

Psalm 34:18,22

The Lord is close to the broken hearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit, The Lord redeems His servants; no-one who takes refuge in Him will be condemned.

Collect Prayer for the Day

Before we read we pray

O God, you declare you almighty power most chiefly in showing mercy and pity; mercifully grant to us such a measure of your grace, that we, running the way of your commandments, may receive your gracious promises, and be made partakers of your heavenly treasure; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

First Bible Reading Joshua 24:1-2a,14-18

Then Joshua assembled all the tribes of Israel at Shechem. He summoned the elders, leaders, judges and officials of Israel, and they presented themselves before God. Joshua said to all the people, "Now fear the Lord and serve him with all faithfulness. Throw away the gods your forefathers worshipped beyond the River and in Egypt, and serve the Lord. But if serving the Lord seems undesirable to you, then choose for yourselves this day whom you will serve, whether the gods your forefathers served beyond the River, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land you are living. But as for me and my household, we will serve the Lord." Then the people answered, "Far be it from us to forsake the Lord to serve other gods! It was the Lord our God himself who brought us and our fathers up out of Egypt, from that land of slavery, and performed those great signs before our eyes. He protected us on our entire journey and among all the nations through which we travelled. And the Lord drove out before us all the nations, including the Amorites, who lived in the land. We too will serve the Lord, because he is our God."

(This is the word of the Lord —Thanks be to God)

Second Bible Reading - Ephesians 6:10-20

Finally, be strong in the Lord and in his mighty power. Put on the full armour of God so that you can take your stand against the devil's schemes. For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms. Therefore put on the full armour of God, so that when the day of evil comes, you may be able to stand your ground, and after you have done everything, to stand. Stand firm then, with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness in place, and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. In addition to all this, take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. Take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. And pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests. With this in mind, be alert and always keep on praying for all the saints. Pray also for me, that whenever I open my mouth, words may be given me so that I will fearlessly make known the mystery of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in chains. Pray that I may declare it fearlessly, as I should.

(This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - John 6:56-69

Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me, and I in him. Just as the living Father sent me and I live because of the Father, so the one who feeds on me will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven. Your forefathers ate manna and died, but he who feeds on this bread will live for ever.” He said this while teaching in the synagogue in Capernaum. On hearing it, many of his disciples said, “This is a hard teaching. Who can accept it?” Aware that his disciples were grumbling about this, Jesus said to them, “Does this offend you? What if you see the Son of Man ascend to where he was before! The Spirit gives life; the flesh counts for nothing. The words I have spoken to you are spirit and they are life. Yet there are some of you who do not believe.” For Jesus had known from the beginning which of them did not believe and who would betray him. He went on to say, “This is why I told you that no-one can come to me unless the Father has enabled him.” From this time many of his disciples turned back and no longer followed him. “You do not want to leave too, do you?” Jesus asked the Twelve. Simon Peter answered him, “Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. We believe and know that you are the Holy One of God.”

(This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

Lord of all mercy, we your faithful people have celebrated that one true sacrifice which takes away our sins and brings pardon and peace: by our communion keep us firm on the foundation of the gospel and preserve us from all sin; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Commentary

We are at a point in the Gospel of John today where Jesus has recently healed a lame man on the Sabbath and angered the religious authorities, whom John calls "the Jews." Even more recently, Jesus fed 5000 people with five loaves of bread and two fish. The result of that great act of care and compassion is that Jesus developed a huge following of regular folks who want more miracles but he also gathered more enemies along the way as well, especially Jewish leaders.

Today Jesus is preaching in Capernaum, his adult hometown, and his listeners are disgusted by what he has to say. The words which Jesus uses are comforting to our ears, he describes himself as 'bread.' We think of him as the Bread of Life and these are comforting and familiar words. When we hear Jesus tell people to eat his flesh and drink his blood we naturally reflect upon the Holy Communion and the taking of the bread and wine. We need to take a step back to appreciate why people who heard these words who were his disciples decided that the things he said meant that he was no longer a leader they wished to follow.

For a start it is important to remember that these people were hearing these words before Jesus had died, there had been no last supper, no institution of a last meal with his disciples. Indeed the episode of the Last Supper is not even recorded in John's Gospel. The disciples heard these words only in the context of a literal understanding of eating Jesus body and blood. We can understand why the early Christians were accused of cannibalism. The shocking nature of what Jesus said is made even more acute within the religious culture of Judaism. Jesus was teaching in the synagogue, a place where the scriptures were read and taken extremely seriously. Although the crowd were enthusiastic about Jesus being a leader like Moses who could provide miraculous bread, they cannot stomach the words which Jesus uses about eating his body and drinking his blood. Even today Jews eating Kosher food will follow the food laws of Leviticus 17 which provides important rules about the way that meat is eaten and killed.

Leviticus 17:10-14

If anyone of the house of Israel or of the aliens who reside among them eats any blood, I will set my face against that person who eats blood, and will cut that person off from the people. For the life of the flesh is in the blood; and I have given it to you for making atonement for your lives on the altar; for, as life, it is the blood that makes atonement. Therefore I have said to the people of Israel: No person among you shall eat blood, nor shall any alien who resides among you eat blood. And anyone of the people of Israel, or of the aliens who reside among them, who hunts down an animal or bird that may be eaten shall pour out its blood and cover it with earth. For the life of every creature—its blood is its life; therefore I have said to the people of Israel: You shall not eat the blood of any creature, for the life of every creature is its blood; whoever eats it shall be cut off.

These views are not considered changeable. Even today when you read that meat is Kosher you will know that the animal has been slaughtered in a specific way. The animal is not stunned, it has its throat cut whilst conscious and the blood drained away from the animal.

A good portion of the Book of Leviticus concerns itself with what to do with the blood and body parts of sacrificial animals. When animals were sacrificed to God in the rituals that are carefully laid out in Leviticus, various portions of the carcass were given back to the person making the offering, given to the priests to consume, or burned on the Altar and totally given over to God. The same thing always happened with the blood: it was always given to God. Usually it was poured onto the Altar directly as it was considered holy because the blood of the animal embodied its very life. So, when Jesus says that his followers are to drink his blood, what he's saying in the ancient biblical language of Leviticus is: take my life, and pour it into your bodies, your lives, your souls.

Those who heard Jesus would have had their stomachs turned by this talk of eating flesh and drinking blood and they declare, 'This logos is difficult; who can accept it?' English translations say 'teaching' or merely 'this'" but logos is a key word in John from the start. From the outset of the Gospel we know that Jesus is the logos and, crucially, that the logos became flesh (1:14). Jesus asks them a question: 'Does this scandalize you?' Our translations often use 'offend' but the Greek word 'skandalizo' is a more powerful word. It is difficult to imagine how these disciples could have felt anything other than revulsion with all of this talk about 'chomping flesh' and 'drinking blood'. It would be provocative in any situation, but especially provocative when spoken in a synagogue.

So why was Jesus so offensive? Jesus had spoken about 'eating' the bread from heaven, using a very common word esthio. In verse 53, however, Jesus switches to a less common word, trogo, a word that has a connotation closer to 'munch, gnaw or chomping.' it is a graphic word of noisy eating, the sort of eating an animal does. The audibility of the eating, however, is not the important point; this is eating that is urgent, even desperate. It is eating as though life depends on it, because it does. The crowd wanted Jesus as the new Moses, they wanted bread. Many Jewish people believed that one day God would restore manna. The point which Jesus is making is that his people will benefit from drinking his blood which will be spilled. However it would be a spiritual feeding. For Jesus, the new Moses, not only gives bread to the people, but also in his passion, death and resurrection he gives us himself. This is why the Church has always linked the events at Easter with the celebration of Eucharist.

'Flesh and blood' means the whole person. Choosing the way of Jesus is a matter of life and death. Eating the body and blood of Christ is about taking all of Christ within us to sustain and empower us, body and soul for the Christian life. Being a Christian is not just about getting up early on Sunday morning and coming to church, it is about a change of person, a way of special living.

Meditation

This week is the feast of St Augustine who was born in 354 AD in the time of the Roman Empire, in what is now the north African country of Algeria. In his lengthy book called "Confessions", Augustine tells us that he was influenced to become a Christian when, somehow, he heard God telling him to "take up and read". Augustine started to read the Bible and discovered God. The example and prayers of his mother Monica contributed to his becoming a Christian at the age of 33. Augustine wrote these words:
"Leave the past to God's mercy, the present to his love, and the future to his providence."

Let us pray

Lord, we give you thanks, for the assurance that the past can be left to your mercy, the present to your love, and the future to your providence. Help us to grow more aware of your loving presence, that we may live more authentically and proclaim by our words and actions the good news of the fullness of your love. We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Congratulations to Mick Ovenden and his team for the excellent work in refurbishing the toilets.

Lord God, father of all people we bring our prayers knowing that you will hear us and help us. As the summer draws to a close and we approach the start of a new academic year we remember and pray for children and young people everywhere, for those children about to spend their first hours away from home in school or nurseries, those who are eager and active as they welcome new experiences and relationships and for those who are apprehensive at what lies ahead.

May the power of your presence be with all who seek to learn and we pray that they may be worthy of the best in our society and society be worth of their potential.

Lord God hear us as we pray for those who bear the heavy burden of leadership among the nations of the world. Give them in all their deliberations wisdom to know your true will, regard for your laws and respect for human rights that they may seek to lead all people in the paths of truth freedom and peace for the glory of your name.

We pray for refugees and asylum seekers, for those whose lives have been torn apart by war. We pray for the wounded and injured, those terrified and living in shock, the hungry and homeless, refugee and exile.

We pray for protection for those bringing humanitarian aid, those administering medical assistance, those offering counsel and care. For all making the sacrifice of love, give the strength of your Spirit and the joy of your comfort. In the hope of Christ we pray.

We pray for those who are ill in hospitals at home and wherever they may be. Give them courage hope and peace and the knowledge that you are present in their weakness pain and suffering. Lord God our Heavenly Father we pray for those whose hearts have been saddened by the death of someone close and dear to them. Give to them, the strong comfort which no one else can give, and let them know the comforting power of the resurrection of Jesus.

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office

Laura Patricia Heath

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'

Forthcoming Funerals

There are no funerals this week
