Prayer for Sunday

Grant to us, O Lord, fullness of faith, firmness of hope and fervency of love.
For the sake of the gospel
may we sit loosely to our wealth and daily embrace you in the poor of the world.
As we rejoice in your generosity
so may we give ourselves
in the service of others;
through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Thomas More, 1478-1535

12th in Ordinary

Opening Verse - Psalm 43 v 3

Send forth your light and your truth, let them guide me; let them bring me to your holy mountain, to the place where you dwell.

Collect Prayer for the Day

God our saviour, look on this wounded world in pity and in power; hold us fast to your promises of peace won for us by your Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen

First Bible Reading—1 Kings 19: 1-4, 8-15a

Now Ahab told Jezebel everything Elijah had done and how he had killed all the prophets with the sword. So Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah to say, May the gods deal with me, be it ever so severely, if by this time tomorrow I do not make your life like that of one of them. Elijah was afraid and ran for his life. When he came to Beersheba in Judah, he left his servant there, while he himself went a day's journey into the desert.

So he got up and ate and drank. Strengthened by that food, he travelled for forty days and forty nights until he reached Horeb, the mountain of God. There he went into a cave and spent the night. And the word of the LORD came to him: What are you doing here, Elijah? He replied, I have been very zealous for the LORD God Almighty. The Israelites have rejected your covenant, broken down your altars, and put your prophets to death with the sword. I am the only one left, and now they are trying to kill me too. The LORD said, Go out and stand on the mountain in the presence of the LORD, for the LORD is about to pass by. Then a great and powerful wind tore the mountains apart and shattered the rocks before the LORD, but the LORD was not in the wind. After the wind there was an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake. After the earthquake came a fire, but the LORD was not in the fire. And after the fire came a gentle whisper. When Elijah heard it, he pulled his cloak over his face and went out and stood at the mouth of the cave. Then a voice said to him, What are you doing here, Elijah? He replied, I have been very zealous for the LORD God Almighty. The Israelites have rejected your covenant, broken down your altars, and put your prophets to death with the sword. I am the only one left, and now they are trying to kill me too. The LORD said to him, Go back the way you came, and go to the Desert of Damascus. When you get there, anoint Hazael king over Aram.

Second Bible Reading — Galatians 3: 23-29

Before this faith came, we were held prisoners by the law, locked up until faith should be revealed. So the law was put in charge to lead us to Christ that we might be justified by faith. Now that faith has come, we are no longer under the supervision of the law. You are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus, for all of you who were baptised into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

(This is the word of the Lord- Thanks be to God)

Third Bible Reading – Luke 1: 57-66,80

When it was time for Elizabeth to have her baby, she gave birth to a son. Her neighbours and relatives heard that the Lord had shown her great mercy, and they shared her joy.

On the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and they were going to name him after his father Zechariah, but his mother spoke up and said, "No! He is to be called John." They said to her, "There is no one among your relatives who has that name." Then they made signs to his father, to find out what he would like to name the child. He asked for a writing tablet, and to everyone's astonishment he wrote, "His name is John." Immediately his mouth was opened and his tongue was loosed, and he began to speak, praising God. The neighbors were all filled with awe, and throughout the hill country of Judea people were talking about all these things. Everyone who heard this wondered about it, asking, "What then is this child going to be?" For the Lord's hand was with him. And the child grew and became strong in spirit; and he lived in the desert until he appeared publicly to Israel.

(This is the Word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

Commentary

Our journeys sometimes take us to destinations we don't always expect. The further Elijah tries to travel from trouble the closer he journeys towards God. When we feel under pressure or in times of trouble or distress we often feel as if we need to get away from the anxiety that has come our way. Sometimes this is exactly the right thing to do. Other times we may need to face up to what is troubling us and deal with it 'head on'. Whatever our course of action we need to use the opportunity to allow ourselves to be drawn in the direction of God's loving and caring presence, a presence that Elijah came to realise was with him wherever he went. God was not just concerned with the Elijah who won the victory at Carmel, he was concerned with the desperate Elijah who had fled to the wilderness, petrified by his powerful enemies, not knowing where to turn and in real fear of his life. Fortunately it is often in our sloughs of despond, as Bunyan would have expressed it, rather than in our mountain top victory experiences, that we find God,

Given the bonfire competition with the prophets of Baal at Carmel, where God came down in a consuming fire, we may have expected God to speak to Elijah from the fire. Elijah himself may have expected a meeting with God to involve the three symbols of His presence during the Exodus: wind, earthquake and fire, all of which are present in this encounter. But instead of revealing himself in the fire, God chose the whisper. Not the fire, not the wind, not the earthquake but the whisper, the 'sound of sheer silence' as it is translated in the New Standard Revised Version of the Bible. The omniscient, omnipotent and omnipresent God chose to reveal himself in the paradox of the quiet silence, a concept that the mystics throughout the ages have pondered through the years, as they wrestle with trying to comprehend the enormity of God and His presence pervading every atom of the creation, including us.

God is indeed so great that, like Elijah, we experience Him when we least expect him to appear. He reveals himself to us. We do not demand or expect him to answer on our terms. Even when we are under pressure, if we wait on God, He will answer. Although God's voice may have been quiet, when God answered Elijah, the message was loud and clear. Elijah was to return from where he had come from and anoint Hazael as king, continuing his ministry under the divine protection of God Himself. Not only was the manner of God's speaking a surprise to Elijah, the message itself was not what he was expecting to hear.

However God chooses to speak to us, through the great noise and tumult of life or through the 'sound of sheer silence', like Elijah, we should follow His command and allow God himself leads us on and through our times of trouble, protected by His mighty presence, into the times of peace and glory which lie beyond. Sam Cappleman

Meditation

In the Elijah narrative, people are in the habit of making vows. Elijah said in chapter 17: "As the Lord the God of Israel lives, before whom I stand, there shall be neither dew nor rain these years, except by my word" Now it is Queen Jezebel's time to make a vow: "So may the gods to do me, and more also, if I do not make your life like the life of one of them (i.e. the dismembered prophets of Baal) by this time tomorrow". Elijah swore by Yahweh, God of Israel; Jezebel by the unnamed "gods." Nevertheless, her vow sparked fear in Elijah. He was terrified and ran for his life. So fearful was he that he not only left the area of Jezreel, in the Northern Kingdom of Israel, but he ran until he came to Beersheba, the southernmost settlement in the Southern Kingdom of Judah. Fear often sparks an overreaction. Instead of just locking the door, we bolt it with a double lock, carve a moat around the home, put alligators in the moat and drop the portcullis in front of the door. We will make ourselves so secure that even friends, who may want to help, have no means of entering.

After Bill Long

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

God of all Holiness and hope, cleanse the church from all that is selfish, complacent and worldly, that we might reflect your glory and bring hope to those who seek direction and meaning to their lives. Amen

God of all wisdom and honour, give our leaders integrity and our world the openness to listen and the courage to forgive. We pray for fair and free democracy to grow, remembering especially those countries where oppression and persecution remain. Amen

God of all healing and wholeness, give to those who are in pain or suffering all that they need both physically and spiritually. We pray for those in the caring professions, Heavenly Father, whose Son came not to be served but to serve; bless all who follow in his steps, give themselves to the service of others; that with wisdom, patience and courage, they may minister in His name to the suffering, the friendless and the needy; for the love of Him who laid down His life for us all. Amen

God of eternity, as you welcome into your Kingdom those who have endured to the end, we thank you for the example of their lives. Jesus Christ is the light of the world, a light which no darkness can quench. We remember before God those who have died and light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. We remember any known to us who we no longer see. You turn our darkness into light, in your light shall we see light. Amen

God of power, may the boldness of your Spirit transform us, may the gentleness of your Spirit lead us, may the gifts of your Spirit be our goal and our strength, now and always. Amen

The Spirit of truth lead you into all truth, give you grace to confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, and strengthen you to proclaim the word and works of the God; and the blessing of God almighty, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, be among you and remain with you always. Amen

The exact title is to be decided but Colin will talk about some of the principles of good practice in handling diversity. He is a man of huge experience and a great communicator, so I am sure this will be a very profitable evening. All welcome. The Rt Revd Christopher Herbert, Bishop of St Albans, recently spoke in the House of Lords in support of a bill on the advertising of junk food on television. The Bishop, who is one of 26 Church of England Bishops who sit in the House of Lords, said, "we bombard them in supermarkets and on billboards, the internet and TV with suggestions that what they need is to learn how to consume. 'Open your mouth and we will fill it', we say." The Bishop argued that the UK should follow the Swedish example of banning everywhere all advertising with anything aimed at the under-12s. Emphasizing the importance of spirituality for children, the Bishop said, "Surely, childhood is a place where things of the spirit need to be given room to grow, because at that stage children are spiritually delicate. If we do not enable virtues relating to truth, gentleness, compassion and care for others to take root, we treat them simply as dustbins." comments are part of a wider debate about the effect of consumerism on children. Today the pressure group, Compass, said that all advertising to children under 7 should be banned, that product placement in children's films and television programmes should also end, and is calling for a speed limit of 20 miles per hour in residential areas to encourage children to play outside.

St Mark's Noticeboard. The main noticeboard at St Mark's is now missing, having been destroyed by a windy night. A new board has been ordered and will be fitted soon.

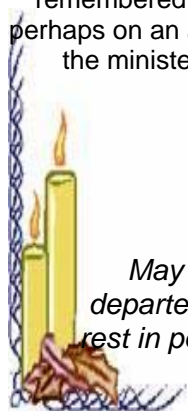

St Mark's Leadership Team - Meets this Tuesday at 7.30pm at the home of Linda Parry.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.
