Thank You

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Mr & Mrs Morrow on the occasion of their daughter's wedding, and by Pam Crouch in loving memory of her husband on his birthday.

We are always grateful for any donations for flowers, perhaps to celebrate an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact Miss Marion Prior 303254(St Mark's) or Miss Jennie Cooper 404950 (Putnoe Heights)

Prayer for Sunday

Gracious God,
your Son Jesus Christ fed the hungry
with the bread of life
and the word of your kingdom.
Renew your people with your heavenly grace,
and in all our weakness
sustain us by your true and living bread,
even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen
Methodist Worship.

Ordinary 17 Year A (Trinity 9 Green)

Verse of Scripture Romans 8:38-39

Neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

A Collect Prayer - Before we read we pray

God, you have poured the Spirit of your Son into our hearts so that we call you father. Give us grace to devote our freedom to your service that we and all creation may be brought into the glorious liberty of the children of God. For the kingdom the power and the glory are yours, now and forever. Amen.

First Reading – 1 Kings3: 5-12

At Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon during the night in a dream, and God said, "Ask for whatever you want me to give you." Solomon answered, "You have shown great kindness to your servant, my father David, because he was faithful to you and righteous and upright in heart. You have continued this great kindness to him and have given him a son to sit on his throne this very day. "Now, O LORD my God, you have made your servant king in place of my father David. But I am only a little child and do not know how to carry out my duties. Your servant is here among the people you have chosen, a great people, too numerous to count or number. So give your servant a discerning heart to govern your people and to distinguish between right and wrong. For who is able to govern this great people of yours?" The Lord was pleased that Solomon had asked for this. So God said to him, "Since you have asked for this and not for long life or wealth for yourself, nor have asked for the death of your enemies but for discernment in administering justice, I will do what you have asked. I will give you a wise and discerning heart, so that there will never have been anyone like you, nor will there ever be.

(This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - Romans 8: 26-39

In the same way, the Spirit helps us in our weakness. We do not know what we ought to pray for, but the Spirit himself intercedes for us with groans that words cannot express. And he who searches our hearts knows the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for the saints in accordance with God's will. And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose. For those God foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the likeness of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. And those he predestined, he also called; those he called, he also justified; those he justified, he also glorified. What, then, shall we say in response to this? If God is for us, who can be against us? He who did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all—how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things? Who will bring any charge against those whom God has chosen? It is God who justifies. Who is he that condemns? Christ Jesus, who died—more than that, who was raised to life—is at the right hand of God and is also interceding for us. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall trouble or hardship or persecution or famine or nakedness or danger or sword? As it is written: "For your sake we face death all day long; we are considered as sheep to be slaughtered." No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

(This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Neither death,

nor life,

nor angels,

nor rulers,

nor things present,

nor things to come,

nor powers,

nor depth,

nor anything else

in all creation,

will be able

to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Romans 8.38-39

Third Reading – Matthew 13: 31-33, 44 - 52

He told them another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed, which a man took and planted in his field. Though it is the smallest of all your seeds, yet when it grows, it is the largest of garden plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and perch in its branches." He told them still another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like yeast that a woman took and mixed into a large amount of flour until it worked all through the dough." Jesus spoke all these things to the crowd in parables; he did not say anything to them without using a parable. So was fulfilled what was spoken through the prophet: "I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter things hidden since the creation of the world." Then he left the crowd and went into the house. His disciples came to him and said, "Explain to us the parable of the weeds in the field." He answered, "The one who sowed the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world, and the good seed stands for the sons of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sows them is the devil. The harvest is the end of the age, and the harvesters are angels. "As the weeds are pulled up and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of the age. The Son of Man will send out his angels, and they will weed out of his kingdom everything that causes sin and all who do evil. They will throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. "The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field. When a man found it, he hid it again, and then in his joy went and sold all he had and bought that field. "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant looking for fine pearls. When he found one of great value, he went away and sold everything he had and bought it. "Once again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was let down into the lake and caught all kinds of fish. When it was full, the fishermen pulled it up on the shore. Then they sat down and collected the good fish in baskets, but threw the bad away. This is how it will be at the end of the age. The angels will come and separate the wicked from the righteous and throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. "Have you understood all these things?" Jesus asked. "Yes," they replied. He said to them, "Therefore every teacher of the law who has been instructed about the kingdom of heaven is like the owner of a house who brings out of his storeroom new treasures as well as old." (This is the word of the Lord— Thanks be to God)

Commentary - A Collection of Parables

From Matthew today we have a series of pictures which describe the kingdom of heaven and what our response and attitude should be to it. Matthew uses the term 'Kingdom of heaven', but it means the same as 'Kingdom of God,' it is simply that he does not want to write the word 'God' out of a respect for the holiness of God's name.

The mustard seed and the yeast - parables of growth

These two short parables contrast the small beginning of the kingdom with the greatness of its effects. Our faith came out of the birth of a baby in a manger, failed disciples who ran away and death on a cross. We need to remind ourselves of this fact when we are tempted to feel small and insignificant. God's kingdom has secret power which confounds the wisdom of the world. The parables remind us that in humility God's kingdom is established. Jesus disciples faced daunting odds, you would not have thought it was possible for them to achieve the promises of Jesus.

We need to consider why Jesus choose a mustard seed. The mustard seed is tiny, but is not, in fact, the smallest of all seeds. The shrub that grows from the tiny seed is great by comparison with its beginnings, the mustard shrub typically grows to between 8 and 12 feet, but this is hardly comparable to the mighty cedars of Lebanon, with which Israel preferred to liken itself. Why would Jesus not compare the kingdom of heaven to a great tree instead of a shrub that a farmer might consider a weed? Perhaps the lesson of the mustard shrub is that Christians should live expectantly, knowing that God brings great things out of small beginnings, but that we should not expect the kingdom to be great as the world counts greatness. The parable of the leaven also encourages us to avoid seclusion and to be involved in the world. Leaven works as it is worked into the dough. So as Christians we are encouraged to go into all the world and have an effect for good.

Treasure and Pearls - The Kingdom is worth everything

The Parable of the Hidden Treasure and the Parable of the Pearl are parables which underscore the unique value of the kingdom. The discovery of things of great value produces joy and a willingness to give up everything for that which is best. The merchant is actively looking for pearls, while the other man just stumbles onto treasure in a field. Both, however, recognize the overwhelming value of their discovery, and sell everything so that they might buy it. In neither case is there any hint of sacrifice -- of giving up something precious -- of having to make a difficult decision. Neither man is sad to sell everything, because they are both overwhelmed with the joy of discovery and the prospect of possessing such treasure. They are like the disciples, who left everything to follow Jesus (4:18-22; 19:27-30). It is worth remembering the rich young ruler who "went away grieving," because he could not bear to part with his many possessions (19:16-26). This young man understood how radical the demands of following Jesus were. He begrudged losing what he already had, he had become attached to other things than Jesus and was not overwhelmed by a spontaneous gesture to give it all up and follow..

We have to decide whether the price is worth paying and make the appropriate response of total commitment. We cannot serve two masters (6:24). If we are unwilling to pay the price of commitment then we will not gain the treasure. The men who gain the treasure do not sell everything and buy the treasure because they feel it is something which they should do out of duty. Rather they are prompted by the conviction that it is worth it the sacrifices. They are so overjoyed at the prospect of what will be theirs that they freely give everything.

The parable of the net - Judgement will follow

This parable is very similar to the parable of the weeds which we read last week. The message is that judgment belongs to God and nobody else. In this parable, a dragnet scoops up all sorts of fish, both good and bad. Jews were prohibited (Lev. 11:9-12) from eating certain types of sea life, creatures without scales or fins, so the fishermen would discard unusable fish. The message for the disciples is clear, the net will be sorted but not yet. The timetable for God's judgement is not ours, and be careful, the measure of God's judgement is not ours. God will decide not us. Be careful in judging others, if we really want somebody to judge then we can have a full time job dealing with ourselves. Charles Royden

Meditation

Forgiveness is understanding and holding the pain of another; it is compassion.

Forgiveness is the acceptance of our brokenness, yours and mine.

Forgiveness is letting go of unrealistic expectations of others, and of the desire that they be other than they are.

Forgiveness is liberating others to be themselves, not making them feel guilty for what may have been...

Forgiveness is peace-making:

struggling to create unity, to build one body, to heal the broken body of humanity.

Jean Vanier, 'Forgiveness in Community'

Post Communion Prayer

Holy Father, who gathered us here around the table of your Son to share this meal with the whole household of God: in that new world where you reveal the fullness of your peace, gather people of every race and language to share in the eternal banquet of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Prayers for Sunday and the Week Ahead

Lord God, Your Son left the riches of heaven and became poor for our sake: when we prosper save us from pride, when we are needy save us from despair, that we may trust in you alone; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. Common Worship additional collects

Almighty God, who sent your Holy Spirit to be the life and light of your Church: open our hearts to the riches of your grace, that we may bring forth the fruit of the Spirit in love and joy and peace; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen

Most gracious God, you are mindful of us through all the years of our life. Pardon our sins and fashion in us those virtues which are acceptable to you. Grant that in serenity and we may serve you faithfully in the days to come, that our lives may be a reflection of your infinite love.

Bridge Cottage We have decided to cancel the skip at Bridge Cottage Great Barford on 28/29/30 July, thank you for offers of help which will not be needed. Alan Cooper

NCH House to House Collection (Brickhill)

NCH, the children's charity, works with disadvantaged and disabled children, and their families, through its family centres located throughout the country. It is an independent charity working with other groups in partnership including the Methodist Church. The annual house-to-house collection to support the vital work of the NCH will take place as usual in the first 2 weeks in September. St. Mark's Church has the responsibility for covering most of Brickhill and last year we raised over £770; including gift aid. If you could spare a few hours during early September to put out and collect envelopes in the Brickhill area or would like more information contact Mike Elliott (Tel. 342507)

Storybox Plus starts at St Marks

Following the growing success of Storybox Plus at Putnoe we are very pleased to announce that we will be starting the group at St Marks. We will begin on Monday 12th September 3.30 start for refreshments and a chill out with a 4.00 start and 5.00 finish. During that hour we will read, study, and rehearse a Bible based story in preparation to perform at the Family Service on the 1st Sunday. We will also spend time making props for the play. Anyone between 4 (at school) and 10 can join us to make friends and have fun. As always the groups success will need volunteers if you can help with any aspect of our activities or have a child that would like to see what we are all about please phone Liz Spavins on 302349.

Storybox St Mark's The draft rotas are in the foyer. All corrections in Joan's drawer asap, please. More volunteers needed.

Wanted Please could anyone lend me a travel cot for the 1 August. Donation to church funds. Thank you. Delia 273628

Mission Coffee Morning Saturday 13 August 10-12 noon at the home of Derrick Stoneham, 5 Braeside, Cakes and a raffle. In aid of Mission Funds.

Welfare of pedestals! Thank you to anyone who waters the church flowers during the week. However, sometimes water gets into the black container which supports the flower bowl and then the pedestals rust very quickly. Could any kind souls, who do watering, only put water in the flower bowl and ensure you don't overfill and cause a puddle in the pedestal bowl. If you do overfill, please dry up with kitchen roll. Many thanks, Flower team.

Putnoe Church Council. There will be a special meeting of Church Council on Sunday 14 August immediately after the service. One item on the agenda.

Cards. There will be no card sales during August but if you would like a special one please see Marion.

Rest In Peace

The following funeral will be conducted by clergy from our Partnership.

The funeral of Mark Davies Barnwell will take place at Bedford Crematorium at 1.45pm on Friday 29 July Royden

The funeral of Mr Frank William Solly will take place at St Mark's Chapel on Thursday 28 July at 2.00pm Royden

The Funeral of Mrs Mabel Selina Johnson will take place at 10.00am on Wednesday 27 July Royden

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

Daphne Hilda Simons

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'

Methodist Church response to the G8 summit

The Methodist Church has welcome the news from the G8 summit that an additional $50 billion in aid has been secured for Africa. The Church also hailed the pledge of $3 billion in aid for the Palestinian Authority. But Church leaders said that some of the news from the summit was disappointing. Anthea Cox, Methodist Co-ordinating Secretary for Public Life and Social Justice, said "although we are pleased by the aid packages for Africa and Palestine this is only a step in the right direction and more is needed, and sooner, if we are to really see alleviation of poverty in the world's poorest countries. We would also have hoped for the G8 to build upon the recent deal on debt agreed by the G8 finance ministers. We are sorry that the G8 leaders could not reach agreement on fairer trade, especially regarding agriculture subsidies. Perhaps most disappointing is the lack of progress on climate change, remembering that that the poorest countries are often the most disadvantaged by global warming. Nonetheless, at the halfway point of the Make Poverty History Campaign, the G8 leaders have begun to listen to what people are saying, and if we continue to keep the pressure on our leaders then we can hope for more movement in the second half of the year." Anthea Cox added "the first six months of Make Poverty History have shown that people can make their voices heard. The aid packages announced at Gleneagles are good news for poorer countries, but there is still much more that can and must be done. In particular, we need to see real movement on trade. I hope that all our supported will continue to keep up the call for the end of unfair trade barriers and subsidies. As the UK holds the presidency of the EU until the end of this year, our government has a real chance to effect change on trade. Fair trade is key to the long-term eradication of poverty, and with better aid and dropping the debt will make a fairer and kinder world."

Kirsty Smith, director of the Methodist Relief and Development Fund, said "it is clear that the message is getting through. For too long we have ignored the death toll caused by poverty, but I hope that people now understand that ending poverty is something that we can all play a part in, by pressing our leaders for the policies that affect so many people. I want to thank everyone who has supported the campaign so far, and encourage them to keep the pressure on as we move ever closer to our goals. The news on aid is encouraging, and we agree that governance is an important part of the deal. Aid must be given on the understanding that it will be well-managed. However, all of this will not achieve anything if there isn't also a seismic shift in trade policy, and we expect significant changes at the WTO talks in the autumn."
