Thank You

The flowers at St Mark's Church this week have been given by Judith and Cliff Stanton to celebrate their Golden Wedding

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church have been given by Dorothy Billingham in loving memory of her husband Ridley, and by Jenny Blakely in loving memory of her Mum, Phyl Bland, and friend Ettie Cobleby.

We are grateful when people make donations towards flowers perhaps to celebrate a special occasion such as an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact

Prayer for Sunday

Blessed Lord God, be to us at all times our unending joy, our eternal bliss and our enduring comfort. Be to us light in the darkness, strength in temptation and refreshment in the desert. Grant that being penitent for our sins we may never be separated from you and longing for your face we may behold you in heaven; for your own name's sake. Amen. Margery Kempe (c.1373-c.1433)

Palm Sunday

Introductory Sentence - Matthew 21:9

Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest!

Collect Prayer

Almighty and everlasting God, who in your tender love towards the human race sent your Son our Saviour Jesus Christ to take upon him our flesh and to suffer death upon the cross: grant that we may follow the example of his patience and humility, and also be made partakers of his resurrection; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

First Reading — Isaiah Chapter 50:4-9a

The Sovereign LORD has given me an instructed tongue, to know the word that sustains the weary. He wakens me morning by morning, wakens my ear to listen like one being taught. The Sovereign LORD has opened my ears, and I have not been rebellious; I have not drawn back. I offered my back to those who beat me, my cheeks to those who pulled out my beard; I did not hide my face from mocking and spitting. Because the Sovereign LORD helps me, I will not be disgraced. Therefore have I set my face like flint, and I know I will not be put to shame. He who vindicates me is near. Who then will bring charges against me? Let us face each other! Who is my accuser? Let him confront me! It is the Sovereign LORD who helps me. Who is he that will condemn me? (This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - Psalm 118:1-2, 19-29

Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good; his love endures forever. Let Israel say: "His love endures forever." Open for me the gates of righteousness; I will enter and give thanks to the LORD. This is the gate of the LORD through which the righteous may enter. I will give you thanks, for you answered me; you have become my salvation. The stone the builders rejected has become the capstone; the LORD has done this, and it is marvellous in our eyes. This is the day the LORD has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it. O LORD, save us; O LORD, grant us success. Blessed is he who comes in the name of the LORD. From the house of the LORD we bless you. The LORD is God, and he has made his light shine upon us. With boughs in hand, join in the festal procession up to the horns of the altar. You are my God, and I will give you thanks; you are my God, and I will exalt you. Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good; his love endures forever. (This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Luke 19: 28-40

After Jesus had said this, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem. As he approached Bethphage and Bethany at the hill called the Mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, saying to them, "Go to the village ahead of you, and as you enter it, you will find a colt tied there, which no one has ever ridden. Untie it and bring it here. If anyone asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' tell him, 'The Lord needs it.'" Those who were sent ahead went and found it just as he had told them. As they were untying the colt, its owners asked them, "Why are you untying the colt?" They replied, "The Lord needs it." They brought it to Jesus, threw their cloaks on the colt and put Jesus on it. As he went along, people spread their cloaks on the road. When he came near the place where the road goes down the Mount of Olives, the whole crowd of disciples began joyfully to praise God in loud voices for all the miracles they had seen: "Blessed is the king who comes in the name of the Lord!" "Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!" Some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to Jesus, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples!" "I tell you," he replied, "if they keep quiet, the stones will cry out." (This is the word of the Lord— Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer Lord God, you have renewed us with the living bread from heaven; by it you nourish our faith, increase our hope, and strengthen our love: teach us always to hunger for him who is the true and living bread, and enable us to live by every word that proceeds from out of your mouth; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Commentary

Luke surrounds the wonderful pageant of Jesus' mounted descent from the Mount of Olives and ascent to Jerusalem with pain. It is hard to trivialise the scene with shallow triumphalism. Jesus' statement of intent was clear for all to see if they had eyes to see it. The crowd, for Luke, is no longer a populist throng, but disciples who are beginning to understand why this baby was born and why he must die. They cry out - and should they be silenced the stones around would cry out in their stead.

The triumphant entry of Jesus into Jerusalem marked the real beginning of the way of the cross for him. Although his life had been edging that way for some time, Palm Sunday was the beginning of the final count-down to the events of Easter. His manner of entry was carefully chosen. Perhaps He was making a statement about being one of the people, ordinary, yet very different. Riding on a donkey, not a horse. Different enough to make a calculated entry into the city, an entry designed to announce his arrival to the world. This mode of entry chosen by Jesus perhaps foreshadowed his act at the Last Supper, of washing the disciples' feet, the act which showed the servant nature of this particular leader. It demonstrated the great gospel paradox that strength is made perfect in weakness.

What must Jesus have thought when He saw the crowds and their actions when He rode into Jerusalem. The Jews in the crowd would have also been familiar with the writings from Kings (2 Ki 13 v 9) where the Israelites had laid their cloaks on the steps for Jehu after he had been crowned as King by Elisha. The Jews in the crowd that welcomed Jesus would know what they were doing. And 200 years before Jesus rode into Jerusalem, Judas Maccabaeus, when had overcome the pagan armies oppressing Israel, had been greeted by crowds waving palm branches as he rode into the city. The Jews in the crowd knew what they were doing. They even sang royal chants, 'Hosanna to the Son of David'. David has made Jerusalem his capital over 1000 years earlier. Everything that the crowd did gave the message to the authorities loud and clear. Here is another king riding into Jerusalem, another all-conquering king, like Judas Maccabaeus or Jehu, would sort out those who oppressed Israel, this time once and for all. Jesus was coming into the city, His city, not to be enthroned as David, or in great glory as Judas Maccabaeus, but to be killed.

He knew it, perhaps the disciples feared it, but the crowds appeared to be oblivious to what was about to happen. Many in the crowd would be deeply disappointed and disillusioned over the next few days – things would not turn out as they expected. They wanted God to act in a way they wanted. They wanted to be in control and God's not like that - for them or for us. Cosmic powers were at work and for the next few days they would be observers and spectators, not the main actors on the stage, or even the directors making things happen. The people wanted a prophet and a prophet came – but they did not recognise Him. The people wanted a Messiah and a Messiah came – but they did not recognise Him. The people wanted to be rescued from evil powers and oppression – and Jesus did just that but they did not recognise it.

The crowd were disappointed, but only superficially. Once they understood the fullness of Christ unfolding over the days, weeks, months and years ahead they would realise that their prayers had been royally answered. Ironically, their praise was indeed justified, but not for the reasons they expected. By way of His entry into Jerusalem, Jesus lays down a challenge to the authorities, and the authorities have to respond. The people who lined the streets of Jerusalem to cheer for Jesus on Sunday were silent by Friday. They expected a triumphant king but found instead a powerless prisoner. The exuberance and celebration of the entry is followed by the pain of Jesus' unjust trial, the cries for crucifixion and His death on the cross. The authorities had acted. A Palm to Passion tragedy? Or would God intervene to bring about a happy ending? He did, through the resurrection and ascension. An ending that was the beginning of new life. An ending that saw Lordship and Kingship in servant hood, His strength made perfect in weakness, and an ending that saw our weakness made perfect in His strength. An ending that revealed why the baby was born and why He had to die for each one of us. An ending which revealed why we worship the Servant King. It's not a tragedy. For God hears our cries of 'Hosanna' (Save us!) yet forgives our metaphorical shouts of 'crucify' each time we turn away from Him and go our own way. We cry Hosanna today, what are the words on our lips when the Good Friday's come in our lives? Sam Cappleman

Meditation

Jesus' entry into Jerusalem looks like a real celebration. The people who know - the disciples, not the crowds, as in the other gospels - praise God for the miracles they have seen. They have seen the deeds of liberation which Jesus announced in his home synagogue. Their acclamation includes, as in the other gospels, the allusion to our reading from the Psalms this morning, Ps 118 v 26, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord'. But Luke adds: 'the king'. We are not to forget the kings! Previous kings, especially Archelaus had not brought peace. Here is the real king who would bring real peace. 'Peace in heaven and glory in the highest' (Lk 19 v 38). We are transported back to the time of Jesus' birth and the hillside where the shepherds heard the cry, 'Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace among people of his favour' (Lk 2 v 14). The kings of the earth had brought no peace. The people of Jerusalem refused the way of peace. Jesus offered the way to peace. Peace hailed as heavenly is also peace made for earth. By recalling this scene Luke is recovering for us the cries for liberation among God's favoured people, Israel, and all who belong to her.

Prayers for Sunday and the Week Ahead

The Lent Collect

Almighty and everlasting God, you hate nothing that you have made and forgive the sins of those who are penitent: create and make in us new and contrite hearts that we, lamenting our wretchedness, may receive from you, the God of mercy, perfect remission and forgiveness; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen

Jesus, poor, unknown and despised, have mercy on us, and let us not be ashamed to follow you. Jesus, accused, and wrongfully condemned, teach us to bear insults patiently, and let us not seek our own glory. Jesus, crowned with thorns and hailed in derision; buffeted, overwhelmed with injuries, griefs and humiliations; Jesus hanging on the accursed tree, bowing the head, giving up the ghost, have mercy upon us, and conform our whole lives to you spirit. Amen

Adapted from John Wesley

Teach us, O God, so to use this season of Lent that we may be drawn closer to our Lord, and in fellowship with Him may learn to hate sin, to overcome temptation, and to grow in holiness that our lives may be strengthened for your service and used for your glory. We ask this in Christ's name. Amen

Holy Father, you have shown us that the brave bearing of your cross is the beginning of wearing your crown: help us by your grace to bear patiently our pains and disappointments, as your beloved Son bore His; and to offer them to you as a pure gift of our faithfulness to our crucified Lord. Amen

God our saviour, who's Son Jesus Christ entered Jerusalem as Messiah to suffer and to die, let these palms be for us signs of His victory; and grant that we who bear them in His name may ever hail Him as our King, and follow Him in the way that leads to eternal life; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, now and for ever. Amen

May the cross of the Son of God, who is mightier than all the powers of evil, abide with you in your going out and your coming in; and the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, be among you and remain with you always. Amen

Telecare. From time to time people go into hospital, or are not able to come to church because they are poorly and we don't get to know about it. Please help us keep in touch by registering for Telecare. One of our pastoral team will call every fortnight to just make sure all is well. This is an important part of pastoral care and it is especially important if you are one of our 'senior' church members. We can then ensure that you get a visit if you want one and copies of Partnership News etc.

Stay Safe and Say No To Callers

There has been a recent spate of 'cold calling' in the Borough, particularly around Brickhill. Affected consumers have claimed that 'builders' were pressurising them into agreeing to have building work carried out on their home. It has also been alleged that the completed works have been of poor quality. Agreeing to pay for any service on the basis of a door step visit is extremely risky and you are strongly advised not to do this. You can use traders on the Trading Standards Approved list. If you think you may have been the victim of doorstep crime or would like further advice, please contact Environmental Health & Trading Standards on the Citizens Advice consumer helpline 08454 04 05 06.

Visit To St Albans Cathedral Charlie will be installed as an Honorary canon of St Albans Cathedral on Saturday 27 April at 4.00pm. You are all invited and welcomed to the service. However we do need to tell the cathedral how many people might be expected. If you would like to come please telephone either church office or send an email.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

Eileen Tarr

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'

Forthcoming Funerals

Please remember these families and friends in your prayers.

There are no funerals this week
