Thank You

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Alan & Margaret Massey in celebration of their third wedding anniversary & Mrs Britton in memory of her husband Jeff.

The flowers in Church at St Mark's this week have been given by Mike & Audrey Elliot to celebrate their Ruby Wedding, and by Elias & Margaret Jaworsky to celebrate their granddaughters christening.

We are always grateful for any donations for flowers, perhaps to celebrate an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact Miss Marion Prior 303254 (St Mark's) or Miss Jennie Cooper 404950 (Putnoe Heights)

Prayer for Sunday

Gracious God, you give the water of eternal life through Jesus Christ your Son. May we always turn to you, the spring of life and source of goodness: through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Bible Notes

Ordinary 26 Year A Trinity 18 (Green)

Verse of Scripture Psalm 25 v 1

To you, O Lord, I lift up my soul; in you I trust, O my God

A Collect Prayer - Before we read we pray.

God, our judge and saviour, teach us to be open to your truth and to trust in your love, that we may live each day with confidence in the salvation which is given through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

First Reading – Ezekiel 18: 1-4, 25-32

The word of the LORD came to me: What do you people mean by quoting this proverb about the land of Israel: 'The fathers eat sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge'? As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, you will no longer quote this proverb in Israel. For every living soul belongs to me, the father as well as the son— both alike belong to me. The soul who sins is the one who will die. Yet you say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' Hear, O house of Israel: Is my way unjust? Is it not your ways that are unjust? If a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits sin, he will die for it; because of the sin he has committed he will die. But if a wicked man turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he will save his life. Because he considers all the offences he has committed and turns away from them, he will surely live; he will not die. Yet the house of Israel says, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' Are my ways unjust, O house of Israel? Is it not your ways that are unjust? Therefore, O house of Israel, I will judge you, each one according to his ways, declares the Sovereign LORD. Repent! Turn away from all your offences; then sin will not be your downfall. Rid yourselves of all the offences you have committed, and get a new heart and a new spirit. Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I take no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Sovereign LORD. Repent and live!

(This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - Philippians 2: 1-13

If you have any encouragement from being united with Christ, if any comfort from his love, if any fellowship with the Spirit, if any tenderness and compassion, then make my joy complete by being like-minded, having the same love, being one in spirit and purpose. Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in humility consider others better than yourselves. Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others. Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus: Who, being in very nature God, did not consider equality with God something to be grasped, but made himself nothing, taking the very nature of a servant, being made in human likeness. And being found in appearance as a man, he humbled himself and became obedient to death— even death on a cross! Therefore God exalted him to the highest place and gave him the name that is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

(This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Third Reading - Mathew 21: 23-32

Jesus entered the temple courts, and, while he was teaching, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him. "By what authority are you doing these things?" they asked. "And who gave you this authority?" Jesus replied, "I will also ask you one question. If you answer me, I will tell you

Let each of you look not to your own interests but to the interests of others.

Philippians 2:4

by what authority I am doing these things. John's baptism—where did it come from? Was it from heaven, or from men?" They discussed it among themselves and said, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will ask, 'Then why didn't you believe him?' But if we say, 'From men'—we are afraid of the people, for they all hold that John was a prophet." So they answered Jesus, "We don't know." Then he said, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I am doing these things. "What do you think? There was a man who had two sons. He went to the first and said, 'Son, go and work today in the vineyard.' " 'I will not,' he answered, but later he changed his mind and went. "Then the father went to the other son and said the same thing. He answered, 'I will, sir,' but he did not go. "Which of the two did what his father wanted?" "The first," they answered. Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, the tax collectors and the prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God ahead of you. For John came to you to show you the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes did. And even after you saw this, you did not repent and believe him.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

Commentary

Philippians 2 v 5 – 11 is probably a quotation from an early hymn of praise to Christ. It is sometimes called the Kenotic Prayer, from the Greek kenosis meaning 'to make empty'. There are clearly divisions and factions in the church at Philippi and Paul urges all parties to forget their pride and to live and work and think as one. We are urged to do the same. Anything less than this is unworthy of the Christ who came as the supreme example of humanity. It was because Jesus gave up all He had, including his life, and emptied Himself, made Himself nothing, that God exalted Him to the highest place of all. In making himself nothing and becoming human Jesus still retained the form of God, His essential nature and attributes, but effectively waived His status and accepted human limitations. He lived a life of humble obedience, limited to the resources God gives to all humans; the power of His Spirit, His Holy Word, and prayer, a constant dialogue and communication with the Father.

How strange then that this Jesus, who had emptied Himself of everything, posed such a threat to the Jewish authorities. But in maintaining the theme of this gospel, and our readings over the last few weeks, Jesus continues to redirect the tradition of Israel away from ritual legalism and a dominant priesthood towards a more personal commitment to, and relationship with, a loving and forgiving God. This approach threatened the religious authorities of the time, and anyone challenging this social and moral rigidity was automatically suspect by both Pharisees and Sadducees alike. And it's not surprising that Jesus confronts them with the question of John's authority. John had been baptising people for the forgiveness of sins. Rituals for the forgiveness of sins were largely in the hands of the priests and the temple. That was one of its main functions. While there was technically nothing wrong with John's rather novel rite, in the eyes of those properly ordained to priestly tasks, it amounted to something of a maverick enterprise. Interestingly the issue for the Jewish leaders seems to be about authority not blasphemy. Were they perhaps more interested in maintaining the status quo rather than in trying to understand the word and nature of their God? Could someone like Jesus declare God's forgiveness, pronounce absolution?

Jesus' final thrust that the tax collectors and prostitutes may have an advantage over these religious authorities must have been especially difficult to accept! It underlines the fact that the irreligious can sometimes respond to the words and prompting of God, and His forgiveness, more readily than those whose self-deceiving moral superiority makes them impervious to its appeal. How strange to us too sometimes that God does speak to people who are very different to ourselves. Stranger still, He sometimes chooses to speak to us through them. Ultimately, however, the principle involved in all of today's readings is not words but actions. Just like 'the chief priests and the elders of the people', we will be judged, not by what we say, but by what we do. Sam Cappleman.

Prayers for Sunday and the Week Ahead

Praise to you, God, for all your work among us. Yours is the vigour in creation, yours is the impulse in our new discoveries. Make us adventurous, yet reverent and hopeful in all we do. Amen.

Lord, help us to empty ourselves that we may serve you. Help us to serve you that we may do your will. Speak to us, that we might listen, speak through us so that others may hear. Amen

Lord God, we thank you for calling us into the company of those who trust in Christ and seek to obey His will. May your Spirit guide and strengthen us in mission and service to your world; for we are strangers no longer but pilgrims together on the way to your Kingdom. Amen Prayer of the Inter Church Process (The Swanwick Declaration)

God the Sender, send you; God the Sent, go with us; God the Strengthener of those who go, empower you, that you may go to do His will; and the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, be among you and remain with you always. Amen

Meditation

In the Gospel reading the tax collectors and the prostitutes are like the first son. Initially they said no to God, but on hearing John the Baptist's preaching they accepted the word of God and started doing that which pleases God. The chief priests and elders, on the other hand, are like the second son. They too heard John's preaching, and even witnessed the responses of the tax collectors and the prostitutes. But they only feigned acceptance, and refused to accept John as a true messenger from God because he seemed such an unlikely character. Are there people in our lives who perhaps sometimes speak the word of God who we ignore, or only pay lip service to, because they too are unlikely characters?

Post Communion Prayer.

We praise and thank you, O Christ, for this sacred feast: for here we receive you, here the memory of your passion is renewed, here our minds are filled with grace, and here a pledge of future glory is given, when we shall feast at that table where you reign with all your saints for ever. Amen

Hymns (Please distribute Morning Worship and Mission Praise—at St Marks we also require baptism booklets)

Partnership Council Meeting

Review. The Partnership Council Meeting took place last week at St Mark's Church. The main discussion concerned the Partnership Review Draft Document prepared by The Reverend Stephen Heap. The report was fully examined and comments made prior to the completion of the final document which will be sent to our sponsoring body the Beds Ecumenical Committee. The Council felt that the report was affirming and highlighted the many positive features of church life. Stephen Heap had also made many helpful observations. When received the report will be published in our churches.

Clubhouse. The Council heard that St Mark's Clubhouse has been shortlisted to receive a European Social Fund award for the quality of the Clubhouse project which has been achieved in such a short time.

Youth and Children. The Council formally welcomed Liz Spavins to her new role as Children and Youth worker. We heard that Storybox Plus at Putnoe now has 14 children involved and work is in progress to attract support for a club at St Mark's.

Circuit and Deanery. The Council were advised that new Vicars were to be inducted within a week at St Mary's Goldington and St James Biddenham and All Saints Kempston. A new minister will also be sought for Priory Methodist Church for August 2006. There will be a special Circuit Service at St Mark's to celebrate the 50 years of John Stubbs as a Local Preacher.

Pastoral Support. The Council approved the suggestion by the Pastoral Support Group that all names entered in the Book of Remembrance at St Mark's will be included in intercessions at Wednesday Holy Communion. If requested by family these names will also be read out when a candle is lit at Sunday Services together with the names of those whose funeral has been held the previous week.

Bridge Cottage Update

We have been delayed in our sale of Bridge Cottage due to difficulties in obtaining planning permission. However we are pleased to report that it has now been formally placed onto the market by Barfords of St Neots who are the appointed agents. Offers will be invited for the cottage with the expectation of a final offer in six weeks time. By this time we expect to have a final judgement on the planning application which allows for conversion of both barns on the site into additional dwellings and accommodation. Any requests for information regarding the sale should be directed to Barfords Estate Agents 01480 213811

Forthcoming funerals to be taken by our Ministers
The funeral Mollie Joyce Reece will take place at Bedford Crematorium at 10.00am on Tuesday 27 September

Rest In Peace

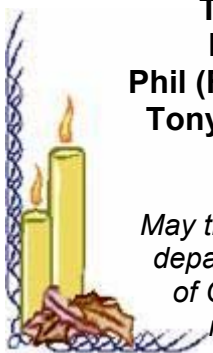

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.
