Prayer for Sunday

O blessed Jesus,
immortal and victorious, by the sorrow you suffered when all the powers of your heart failed you, have mercy on us and help us in our days of darkness and in our hours of weakness, that we do not lose hold of you either in this life, or in the life of the world to come; and this we ask for your own name's sake. Amen

St Bridget of Sweden, 1303-1373

Bible Notes

Ordinary 22 Year A (Trinity 14 Green)

Verse of Scripture Psalm 105

Praise the LORD and pray in his name! Tell everyone what he has done. Sing praises to the LORD! Tell about his miracles. Celebrate and worship his holy name with all your heart.

A Collect Prayer - Before we read we pray

Father of all, you gave your only Son, to take upon himself the form of a servant and to be obedient even to death on a cross. Give us the same mind that was in Christ Jesus that, sharing in his humility, we may come to be with him in his glory; for he lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen

First Reading – Jeremiah 15: 15-21

You understand, O LORD; remember me and care for me. Avenge me on my persecutors. You are long-suffering—do not take me away; think of how I suffer reproach for your sake. When your words came, I ate them; they were my joy and my heart's delight, for I bear your name, O LORD God Almighty. I never sat in the company of revellers, never made merry with them; I sat alone because your hand was on me and you had filled me with indignation. Why is my pain unending and my wound grievous and incurable? Will you be to me like a deceptive brook, like a spring that fails? Therefore this is what the LORD says: "If you repent, I will restore you that you may serve me; if you utter worthy, not worthless, words, you will be my spokesman. Let this people turn to you, but you must not turn to them. I will make you a wall to this people, a fortified wall of bronze; they will fight against you but will not overcome you, for I am with you to rescue and save you," declares the LORD. "I will save you from the hands of the wicked and redeem you from their grasp." (Reader: This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - Romans 12: 9-21

Love must be sincere. Hate what is evil; cling to what is good. Be devoted to one another in brotherly love. Honour one another above yourselves. Never be lacking in zeal, but keep your spiritual fervour, serving the Lord. Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer. Share with God's people who are in need. Practice hospitality. Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse. Rejoice with those who rejoice; mourn with those who mourn. Live in harmony with one another. Do not be proud, but be willing to associate with people of low position. Do not be conceited. Do not repay anyone evil for evil. Be careful to do what is right in the eyes of everybody. If it is possible, as far as it depends on you, live at peace with everyone. Do not take revenge, my friends, but leave room for God's wrath, for it is written: "It is mine to avenge; I will repay," says the Lord. On the contrary: "If your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink. In doing this, you will heap burning coals on his head." Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (Reader: This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Third Reading – Matthew 16: 21-28

From that time on Jesus began to explain to his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things at the hands of the elders, chief priests and teachers of the law, and that he must be killed and on the third day be raised to life. Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him. "Never, Lord!" he said. "This shall never happen to you!" Jesus turned and said to Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! You are a stumbling block to me; you do not have in mind the things of God, but the things of men." Then Jesus said to his disciples, "If anyone would come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me will find it. What good will it be for a man if he gains the whole world, yet forfeits his soul? Or what can a man give in exchange for his soul? For the Son of Man is going to come in

If any want to become my followers, let them deny themselves and take up their cross and follow me.

Matthew 16.24

his Father's glory with his angels, and then he will reward each person according to what he has done. I tell you the truth, some who are standing here will not taste death before they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom (Reader: This is the word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

Commentary

I always feel really sorry for Peter when Jesus bites his head off as he does in this passage. Naturally Peter can't bear the warning that the beloved Lord Jesus might be abused and killed – no friend would relish the idea. I think that Jesus' sharp words to his friend suggest that Jesus also felt the strain of the approaching crisis. Jesus knew what was very likely to come. He accepted suffering, he was willing to sacrifice himself, but it doesn't mean that he was looking forward to pain and death. It is helpful for us to recognise that Jesus was not someone who was tired of this earthly life or who despised it. All we know of Jesus suggests that he had a healthy enjoyment of the things that make our lives valuable: love, warmth, the pleasures of companionship. In the final part of the passage, Jesus was reminding his followers that they were caught up in a spiritual struggle between good and evil. Anyone who wasn't willing to accept the reality of that war, who did not accept that some of the Christians might die, was betraying the cause of good. Peter, by desiring a peaceful and quiet life, was playing into the hands of the opposition, the forces of evil and complacency. The passage starts off by being extremely grim, speaking of death and the battle against evil, but it finishes triumphantly, promising the brave, the faithful and the self-sacrificial a reward in the reality beyond this life. Christians must always remind themselves that sweet though this world seems, the one to come, where we will live in the presence of God, will be infinitely sweeter. Rev Dr Joan Crossley

Meditation

Being a Christian is hard work because it demands that we try and live in a way which is not natural for humans. If you watch most animals or very small children they show us what we are at our core. If an animal is hurt it lashes out at anyone who gets too close. If food is scarce then the strongest will grab from the weak. If a small child wants something it will automatically make a grab for it. The Bible, and most particularly the teachings of Jesus, show us a way of being which can help us transcend these baser instincts. It is an optimistic view of human nature that shows that the powerful can be willing to give way to the more fragile; that the hungry should be fed; that all creation has value in the eyes of God. It is a truly exciting creed and we must not lose sight of all that it has done to civilise the culture in which we now live. But Christian values are not easy to maintain, because even the best all humans have the possibility of being selfish somewhere at our core. At the very worst, humans can be vicious on a scale unknown in the animal kingdom, at our best we can attain wonderful generosity and self-sacrifice. Rev Dr Joan Crossley

Prayers

Heavenly Father, we give you thanks for the men and women of faith, who down the centuries have taught us how to be your children. We give you thanks for the inspiration of their lives and ask that we may grow to be worthy of joining the company of the saints in Heaven. Amen

My Father, how blind and deaf I am – to miss your voice as you speak within my own being! You call to me in my restlessness and discontent, You guide me by my own confusion....out of myself into you. Keep me faithful while I grope my way along – as one who searches blindly along a wall – until I understand that there is a door... always open. And the door is you. Amen (Julian of Norwich)

Almighty God, whose only Son has opened for us a new and living way into your presence: give us pure hearts and steadfast wills to worship you in spirit and truth: through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God now and for ever Amen.

Post Communion Prayer

Lord God, the source of truth and love, keep us faithful to the Apostles teaching and fellowship, united in prayer and the breaking of bread, and one in joy and simplicity of heart, in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

Diocesan Support Group for HIV/Aids Suffers. A publication of the Crescent Group in St Albans, Ubuntu-Hunhu in Hertfordshire, shows an increase in the numbers of Black African HIV/Aids Suffers in the region. Following a request to the Diocese, a consultation attended by representatives from the Mothers Union and the Board for Church and Society was organised in order to explore the reality of the situation. Representatives of two HIV support organisations located in the Diocese were invited to present an overview of the work they do and the challenges they face in trying to provide a comprehensive and caring service to clients affected by HIV/AIDS. Both groups called on the Diocese to support the work of the charities through education on sexual health issues, providing befrienders to clients, and supporting them spiritually as well as socially. If you are interested in supporting the HIV/AIDS work in the Diocese contact: Kemi Akinruli, Social Responsibility Officer on 01727 851 748
