Ordinary 26

Opening Verse of Scripture Psalm 104:13,15

The earth is filled with the gifts of the Lord: wine, and oil, and bread, to strengthen and cheer our hearts.

Collect Prayer

Almighty and everlasting God, we offer you our grateful thanks for your fatherly goodness and care in giving us your gifts and the fruits of the earth in through the seasons. Give us grace to use them rightly, to your glory, for our own well being, and for the relief of those in need; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

First Bible Reading - Joel 2: 21-27

Be not afraid, O land; be glad and rejoice. Surely the LORD has done great things. Be not afraid, O wild animals, for the open pastures are becoming green. The trees are bearing their fruit; the fig tree and the vine yield their riches. Be glad, O people of Zion, rejoice in the LORD your God, for he has given you the autumn rains in righteousness. He sends you abundant showers, both autumn and spring rains, as before. The threshing floors will be filled with grain; the vats will overflow with new wine and oil. 'I will repay you for the years the locusts have eaten-- the great locust and the young locust, the other locusts and the locust swarm -- my great army that I sent among you. You will have plenty to eat, until you are full, and you will praise the name of the LORD your God, who has worked wonders for you; never again will my people be shamed. Then you will know that I am in Israel, that I am the LORD your God, and that there is no other; never again will my people be shamed.

(This is the word of the Lord All: Thanks be to God)

Second Bible Reading - 1 Timothy 2: 1-7

I urge, then, first of all, that petitions, prayers, intercession and thanksgiving be made for all people— for kings and all those in authority, that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness. This is good, and pleases God our Saviour, who wants all people to be saved and to come to a knowledge of the truth. For there is one God 'who gave himself as a ransom for all people. This has now been witnessed to at the proper time. And for this purpose I was appointed a herald and an apostle—I am telling the truth, I am not lying and a true and faithful teacher of the Gentiles. (This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Matthew Chapter 6:25-33

"Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body more important than clothes? Look at the birds of the air; they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they? Who of you by worrying can add a single hour to his life ? "And why do you worry about clothes? See how the lilies of the field grow. They do not labour or spin. Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendour was dressed like one of these. If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith? So do not worry, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' For the pagans run after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well.

(This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

Keep, O Lord, your church, with your perpetual mercy; and, because without you our human frailty cannot but fall, keep us ever by your help from all things hurtful, and lead us to all things profitable to our salvation; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Hymns (Please distribute Harvest Service Sheets and Hymns and Psalms)

Commentary

The words we have today from Matthew's Gospel are taken from the Sermon on the Mount. In this address of Jesus to his followers, he lays out for them a new way of living. Some of the things which Jesus says surprise us, because he teaches that happiness and blessing are found in living in a way which is completely contrary to our natural inclinations. The way of life which we might expect will bring personal gratification and reward will instead lead to deep dissatisfaction. Jesus tells his people that they will be blessed in ways that the world around will fail to understand. Of course this has never changed and the same problems which beset human life then are just the same as ever before, and we can learn much from these words of Jesus about how to live satisfied and fulfilled lives which are pleasing to God.

It is clear that the expected values of society around us must be challenged radically. Jesus teaches that happiness is not to be found in an accumulation of wealth and possessions, or working hard to achieve positions of power. Those who will receive God's blessing and find real happiness will be those who show mercy, who work for peace and care for others. Blessedness is found in poverty rather than possessions. Jesus is telling his followers that he wants them to live by a new way, in which they consider not the accumulation of things for themselves, but rather the well being of others.

Shifting our attention onto the needs and welfare of others is counter intuitive. At the time this involved a radically different kind of religion than the people thought that God was calling them to. Think, through the pages of the Old Testament, we have read that God wanted his people to conquer lands, seize territory, kill anybody who opposed them. Genocide, mass killings of anybody who stood in the way, this was what the people believed God wanted them to do. Now with Jesus comes a completely new way. And Jesus makes the point physically by taking the people up on a mountain, just like Moses and sitting down and handing out this new way of life, just as Moses had previously delivered God's commands.

Now there is a new ways of being God's people. No longer should people murder and kill, neither should they look for retribution. Instead the life of those who follow Jesus should be characterised by kindness and forgiveness. Indeed so radical was this new way of living that the believer must love enemies. In his new way of living, Jesus teaches that piety must be something done in private, just as giving must be something done not to gain attention.

Jesus summarised much of this teaching in The Lord's Prayer which he gave to his disciples. It reminds the follower of Jesus that they must only ask God for 'daily bread', not luxuries or blessings. It commits the follower of Jesus to being forgiving of others, mindful that we all stand in need of forgiveness.

The new way of living has much to say about personal wealth and possessions and in that it is very appropriate for harvest. We all realise that having lots of things does not bring any happiness. The sad and miserable lives of so many rich people is a stark reminder that our lives are just as easily damaged by wealth as enhanced. Jesus knows that looking for fulfilment in earthly things is a waste of time, these things are transitory, and he makes the point that moths and rust can destroy so many things which we imagine to be of value. If we fashion our lives on the standards of the rat race we will miss the holy things of the kingdom which have enduring value.

One of the most important things which Jesus teaches is that heaven cannot wait. We must not put off today the life of the kingdom which we wait for. We must pray, 'thy kingdom come' and as we do we ask God that this way of living would be something which we started living now, not an ideal for what heaven will be like in the future when we die.

In Chapter 25 of this Gospel of Matthew, just before the passion and resurrection of Jesus, there is a passage of warning about the last judgement. Jesus speaks about the separation of the sheep and the goats when the kingdom will be given to those the Father has blessed. Those who inherit the kingdom will be those whose lives have been characterised by acts of kindness and generosity. These people will have used their time on earth to visit the sick, they will have shared their wealth with the hungry and the suffering. Today at harvest time we look for ways in which we can share what we have in a spirit of generosity and kindness. Looking for ways in which we can share from our abundance and help the poor, the suffering and all of those who are opportunities for us to partake of God's kingdom.

Meditation A Celtic Parable St. Comgan (D 8th century) and the Jewels

St Comgan was the son of a prince of Leinster, Ireland, and the brother of St. Kentigern. Wounded by neighbouring chieftains in a battle, Comgan fled with his sister and her children to Scotland. He settled in Lochaise, near Skye. There he built a monastery. He was buried on Iona.

St. Comgan heard about a miser who owned a fabulous collection of jewels. The miser kept the jewels in a safe. Comgan called on the miser, and said: "I hear you have a fabulous collection of jewels. Would you allow me to see them?"

The miser replied: "It would be a pleasure. I haven't looked at them myself for many years, so I too shall enjoy seeing them." He opened the safe, took out a gold box and carefully placed the box on a table. He unlocked the box, and lifted the lid. Both Comgan and the miser stared with open mouths at the diamonds, rubies, emeralds, and sapphires which it contained. The miser dipped his hand in the box, and let the precious stones run through his fingers. Then after a few minutes he closed the box, and returned it to the safe.

"Thank you for giving me those jewels," Comgan said.

The miser replied: "I haven't given them to you; they belong to me."

Comgan said: "I have had as much pleasure as you from looking at them. So there is no difference between us - except that you have the expense and anxiety of buying and looking after them."

That day the miser gave away one jewel to every household in the town. There were just enough with one left over for himself.

Prayers for Sunday and the Week ahead

Almighty and everlasting God, creator of all that is seen and unseen, of all we can understand and all that is yet to be revealed. You have placed us in a universe with breath taking splendour and with an ability to constantly surprise and amaze us; and so hear us as we humbly come before you to seek your help and guidance in our lives. We come to you in simple trust and, as Jesus taught us, in the certain knowledge that you are our heavenly Father and will listen to the prayers of us, your children. At this special thanksgiving time of the year we pray for all who work so that we have food to eat and share. We remember those who work the land and sea often overcoming the extremes of weather to bring produce to market. We also remember those in the transport, distribution and the retail sectors, those involved in commerce for without them our shop and supermarket shelves would be empty. Lord bless all who labour to satisfy our needs and we pray that all trade between peoples may be done openly and fairly and with due regard for the environment and for human dignity.

We pray now for areas of our world where hatred and wars make the efforts of daily life even more difficult, where people pursue armed conflict and innocent lives are lost or disfigured. We pray for peacemakers who will respond to the call of our Lord Jesus for peacemakers. Help us all to learn to treat our neighbours as ourselves.

We pray for the work of all who work for peace, may a longing for peace, truth and justice be the motives of those in government. Give wisdom, strength and courage to our world leaders as they seek to resolve the disputes between nations.

We pray for this, our own, country with its cultural and ethnic diversity, for Queen Elizabeth, our head of state, her ministers and all in authority, that they will govern wisely and with due regard for the needs of all people. We pray for the work of both Houses of Parliament, Party Political Conferences, the meetings of Borough, Town and Parish Councils and for all centres of debate; that men and women will listen to and understand each others views with respect so learning more of the needs of the people they serve.

We pray for all families represented here today. Each one is made up differently and faces the normal ups and downs of family life in different ways. We pray that each family finds a place in it for the love of Jesus Christ and that special peace which it brings.

We pray especially for families known to us who are coping with illness, poverty, racial hatred or tragedy. Show us where we can lend a sympathetic ear, speak a word of comfort or offer practical help and so show your love in action.

We think of our Churches here in the partnership. We pray for all who exercise service guide all who lead, organize and contribute to the Church's vision of service and witness.

We pray for the sick, both at home and in hospital, or hospice. We think of the elderly, the housebound and those in care homes. And we pray for all who minister to their needs. Lord Jesus who responded to the needs of all those who had faith; comfort and sustain those who are in need of your grace at this time. Especially do we pray for those who mourn the loss of loved ones, whether recently or long ago. Let the knowledge of your resurrection in glory be comfort to all those who mourn.

Now that the Car Boots have been put to bed for the winter our big fundraising event is Christmas Craft Fayre. We have a number of Church Stalls that need your support, i.e. plant stall, homemade cake stall, Craft stall and of course tray-bakes for refreshments. So plant up your cuttings (indoor and out), bake your cakes and tray-bakes then come and enjoy the day with a cup of tea and a lovely ploughman's lunch. Help on the day is always needed and is very much appreciated. Any queries about the above just contact Avril via the Church Office. Thank you.

A Hymn for Harvest

We eat the plants that grow from the seed,
but it's God who gives the harvest.
Cures can be made from herbs and from weeds,
but it's God who gives the harvest.
Ev'rything beneath the sun,
all the things we claim we've done,
all are part of God's creation:
we can meet people's needs
with things we grow from seed,
but it's God who gives the harvest.

We find the iron and turn it to steel,
but it's God who gives the harvest.
We pull the levers, we turn the wheels,
but it's God who gives the harvest.
Ev'rything we say we've made,
plastic bags to metal spades,
all are part of God's creation:
we can make lots of things
from microchips to springs,
but it's God who gives the harvest.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

through the mercy of God,
rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'*

New Archbishop

The Crown Nominations Commission (CNC), met last week to choose a new Archbishop of Canterbury. Two names were not agreed to be submitted to the Prime Minister. Dr Williams remains in office until the end of December. Church House had published a special prayer on Wednesday as the Crown Nominations Commission met to decide whom to ask the Crown to nominate as the next Archbishop of Canterbury.

Almighty God,
you have given your Holy Spirit to the Church
to lead us into all truth:
bless with the Spirit's grace and presence
the members of the Crown Nominations Committee.
Keep them steadfast in faith and united in love,
that they may seek your will, manifest your glory
and prepare the way of your kingdom;
through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord.
Amen.
