Pentecost

Opening Verse Acts 2:17-18

In the last days, God says, 'I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your young men will see visions, your old men will dream dreams. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days, and they will prophesy.

Collect Prayer for the Day —

Before we read we pray

God, who as at this time taught the hearts of your faithful people by sending them the light of your Holy Spirit: grant us by that same Spirit to have a right judgement in all things and evermore to rejoice in His holy comfort; through the merits of Christ Jesus our Saviour, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen Common Worship

First Bible Reading Acts 2: 1-21

When the day of Pentecost came, they were all together in one place. Suddenly a sound like the blowing of a violent wind came from heaven and filled the whole house where they were sitting. They saw what seemed to be tongues of fire that separated and came to rest on each of them. All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues as the Spirit enabled them.

Now there were staying in Jerusalem God-fearing Jews from every nation under heaven. When they heard this sound, a crowd came together in bewilderment, because each one heard them speaking in his own language. Utterly amazed, they asked: "Are not all these men who are speaking Galileans? Then how is it that each of us hears them in his own native language? Parthians, Medes and Elamites; residents of Mesopotamia, Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya near Cyrene; visitors from Rome (both Jews and converts to Judaism); Cretans and Arabs—we hear them declaring the wonders of God in our own tongues!" Amazed and perplexed, they asked one another, "What does this mean?" Some, however, made fun of them and said, "They have had too much wine."

Then Peter stood up with the Eleven, raised his voice and addressed the crowd: "Fellow Jews and all of you who live in Jerusalem, let me explain this to you; listen carefully to what I say. These men are not drunk, as you suppose. It's only nine in the morning! No, this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel:

" 'In the last days, God says, I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your young men will see visions, your old men will dream dreams. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days, and they will prophesy. I will show wonders in the heaven above and signs on the earth below, blood and fire and billows of smoke. The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before the coming of the great and glorious day of the Lord. And everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved.'"

(This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Second Reading Romans 8:22-27

We know that the whole creation has been groaning as in the pains of childbirth right up to the present time. Not only so, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for our adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies. For in this hope we were saved. But hope that is seen is no hope at all. Who hopes for what he already has? But if we hope for what we do not yet have, we wait for it patiently. In the same way, the Spirit helps us in our weakness. We do not know what we ought to pray for, but the Spirit himself intercedes for us with groans that words cannot express. And he who searches our hearts knows the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for the saints in accordance with God's will.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading John 15:26-27, 16: 4b-15 All: Glory to Christ our Saviour

When the Counsellor comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth who goes out from the Father, he will testify about me. And you also must testify, for you have been with me from the beginning.

I did not tell you this at first because I was with you. "Now I am going to him who sent me, yet none of you asks me, 'Where are you going?' Because I have said these things, you are filled with grief. But I tell you the truth: It is for your good that I am going away. Unless I go away, the Counsellor will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you. When he comes, he will convict the world of guilt in regard to sin and righteousness and judgement: in regard to sin, because men do not believe in me; in regard to righteousness, because I am going to the Father, where you can see me no longer; and in regard to judgement, because the prince of this world now stands condemned.

"I have much more to say to you, more than you can now bear. But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. He will bring glory to me by taking from what is mine and making it known to you. All that belongs to the Father is mine. That is why I said the Spirit will take from what is mine and make it known to you.

(Reader: This is the Gospel of Christ – All: Praise to Christ our Lord)

Post Communion Prayer

Faithful God, who fulfilled the promises of Easter by sending us your Holy Spirit and opening to every race and nation the way of life eternal: open our lips by your Spirit, that every tongue may tell of your glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Commentary

For fifty days we have contemplated the death and resurrection of Jesus, today the church is called to be born in the Holy Spirit and to go out to proclaim the name of Jesus. For this reason today is regarded as the birthday of the Christian church. The early Christian church was like a dead corpse, but at Pentecost the dead body was given mouth to mouth resuscitation by Jesus as he imported the life giving power of the Spirit. That is why this is the birthday of the church, because on this day the church was born. In an instant they have the life which they need to live and grow.

It is appropriate that we are able to celebrate the great colourful festival of the church when scents and colours really start to make an impact in nature around us. Pentecost is a time when we can begin to feel good about the possibilities of life. The colour of Pentecost could have been white. In English Pentecost is Whitsunday, the word coming from the baptisms which were once held around this time at which they wore white, and so it was called White Sunday. However the colour for Pentecost is red, which the church choose to make a bold statement about the power of God, the presence of Christ himself in its midst. The red symbolised the experience described in our Acts reading when something like tongues of fire came down upon the Apostles. In many parts of Europe it is called the 'Red Feast.' The peony often flowers around this time and is know as the 'Rose of Pentecost'.

With the coming of the Holy Spirit, Pentecost changed the church for ever. The Christian Church found peace when the Spirit came. It was not that the coming of the Holy Spirit made the danger go away, indeed the Apostles went on to give their lives. Instead the Holy Spirit gave the presence of Jesus to the church and with that came renewed strength and courage.

The Holy Spirit gives life to the people of God. This is challenging for us. The life to animate us as Christians and as churches is a power which is beyond our controlling. The picture of the tongues of fire, leaping around, is a good way of stressing that the Spirit is uncontrollable. The fire was not constrained within a grate, it was a fire which rendered the disciples powerless to control it. We do not like loosing control, we like to manage and legislate but the Holy Spirit is not to be controlled but to fill us and take us over. At Pentecost we remind ourselves that we must not be too busy, too tired, too poor, too spiritually apathetic —to face up to the task which God has called us to do. We must open ourselves to the Spirit of God to move us and we must all question ourselves.

- What gifts do I have?
- With whom do I share them?

- What are the gifts that I don't share as freely as I could or should?
- Why am I reluctant to get involved in sharing those gifts?
- How can God help take away any fear that might hold me back? Charles Royden

Meditation

The disciples behind locked doors were "gathered in fear." They were afraid that what had happened to Jesus would happen to them. They were huddled together in failure and without a future. When things couldn't look any worse, Jesus appears.

Jesus appears to disciples who abandoned him in his hour of need; denied him when they were asked about him and, when Mary Magdalen brought news of his resurrection – they didn't believe her. So, that's how we find them; gathered together behind a locked door, with no hope and afraid. Jesus appears to them in their failure and fear. But instead of giving them a tongue lashing for their past behaviour, calling them cowards and miserable failures, he opens up a whole new future for them. The first word from his mouth is, "Peace." One word that tells them things are ok between them and him. One word that puts aside the past. One word that opens a future for them.

Then Jesus says it again, "Peace be with you." This time it isn't about the past, that's over. Now it is about the future. Peace – because they have to unlock the doors and go out into the world that made them afraid; the world that was so rough on Jesus and was going to be rough on them for their belief in Christ. He was sending them, as he sends us again on this Pentecost, not to seek revenge for past offences, but to practice forgiveness. In a world that clutches and hangs on to past hurts and looks for ways to get even, Jesus sends out his disciples to practice forgiveness.

If they do become known for their ability to forgive, the disciples are going to attract attention, because forgiveness is a rare commodity in our world – internationally and nationally; but also in our own close circle of family and friends. If we practice forgiveness we too will attract people to Jesus' way and to our community or, it will stir up resistance, ridicule and rejection, just as it did for Jesus.

Jesus gives them and us his Spirit: the source of his life; the force that energized him and the strength that enabled him to say and do what he said and did. He breathed on them his own Spirit. Which is what he does for us, now, today and each and every day, when we need the words, courage, determination and strength to live as Christians in the world. He says to us, "Peace," and breathes his Spirit into us at this communion time, and we respond, "Come Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of thy faithful and kindle in them the fire of thy divine love."

Prayers for Sunday and week ahead

O God, send forth your Holy Spirit into my heart that I may perceive, into my mind that I may remember, and into my soul that I may meditate. Inspire me to speak with piety, holiness, tenderness and mercy. Teach, guide and direct my thoughts and senses from beginning to end. May your grace ever help and correct me, and may I be strengthened now with wisdom from on high, for the sake of your infinite mercy. Amen. Saint Anthony of Padua

Breathe into me, Holy Spirit, that my thoughts may all be holy. Move in me, Holy Spirit, that my work, too, may be holy. Attract my heart, Holy Spirit, that I may love only what is holy. Strengthen me, Holy Spirit, that I may defend all that is holy. Protect me, Holy Spirit, that I may always be holy. Saint Augustine

Breathe in me, Holy Spirit, that all my thoughts may be holy. Act in me Holy Spirit, that all I do may be holy. Draw my heart Holy Spirit, that I may love that which is holy. Give me strength Holy Spirit, to defend all that is holy. Guide me than Holy Spirit, that I may always be holy.

"...may I show thy Spirit within/ Which purges me from every stain;/ Unspotted from the world and sin, /The truth mf my religion prove/ by perfect purity and love. (Charles Wesley)

Statement from Church leaders: vote next week, vote positively

“We call on UK Christians to give voice to their values by voting at next week’s European Parliamentary Elections on June 4. “In a world grappling with global financial meltdown, climate change and poverty it is more important than ever that UK citizens choose their representatives carefully.

“Voting is a right, but it’s also the right thing to do. It is a chance to make our voices heard in the midst of the current political turmoil. Many feel disillusioned with mainstream political parties, and the scandal over MPs’ expenses has emphasized the need for our politicians to be held accountable.

“But we must hold our representatives accountable for more than just their expenses. They are accountable for enacting policies that promote justice and seek the common good. Extremist parties promoting values and policies which are incompatible with Christian beliefs need to be faced down with a high voter turnout.

“We implore all Christians around the UK to vote next week and to use their vote positively for the values and interests they believe in.

“This week the Church will be celebrating Pentecost, when God’s Holy Spirit was poured out on God’s people. In the coming days we hope that people across the European Union will discern the Spirit’s leading, and after prayerful consideration will use their vote to support peace, justice and the integrity of creation.”

Revd Jonathan Edwards General Secretary of the Baptist Union of Great Britain

Revd Stephen Poxon President of the Methodist Conference

Revd Dr Kirsty Thorpe Co-Moderator Elect of the United Reformed Church General Assembly

Statement from Anglican Bishops

The Bishop of Hertford, the Rt Revd Christopher Foster, and the Bishop of Bedford, the Rt Revd Richard Inwood, have also produced a poster for clergy to put up in churches and vicarages.

Church leaders are not publicly backing any particular party. They are just reminding voters that the Euro Elections’ regional voting system means every vote counts and asking them to be vigilant about any party or individual candidate seeking to use people’s fears for their own well-being to stir racial or religious hatred.

In the statement, they ask voters to remember that “All human beings are created equally in the image of God. That is why racism is a sin.” They continue:

“The East of England has a notable history of welcoming people fleeing persecution elsewhere in Europe, sometimes on religious grounds. As Christian Leaders in this generation, we believe that hospitality and living together with mutual respect remain the foundation of a civilised society.”

Posters are being distributed to clergy to display on church noticeboards or in Vicarage windows and the A3 and A4 colour posters can also be downloaded from the Diocese of St Albans website. The poster can be seen at:

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

'May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'
