Thank You

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Veta Hudson-Rae and her husband on the occasion of their Ruby Wedding Anniversary, and by Gwen Beswick in loving memory of her husband Peter.

A Prayer for Sunday

Stars cross the sky, wise men journey from pagan lands, earth receives its saviour in a cave.
Let there be no one without a gift to offer, no one without gratitude as we celebrate the salvation of the world, the birthday of the human race.

Now it is no longer,
"dust you are and to dust you shall return",
but, "you are joined to heaven and into heaven you shall be taken up".
Basil the Great (AD 330 - 379)

Thank You

Charlie and Sam would like to express their gratitude to all of those people who have sent cards, kind gifts and good wishes over Christmas. It has been a great pleasure to share with you all in our special services over Christmas in the Partnership.

Readings this week will be for the Methodist Covenant and Renewal of Baptism Vows

Opening Verse -John 8:12

When Jesus spoke again to the people, he said, "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."

Collect Prayer -Before we read we pray

God of grace, through the mediation of your Son, you call us into a new covenant. Help us therefore to draw near with faith and join ourselves in a perpetual covenant with you, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

First Bible Reading – A Reading from the Law Exodus 24: 3-11

When Moses went and told the people all the LORD's words and laws, they responded with one voice, Everything the LORD has said we will do. Moses then wrote down everything the LORD had said. He got up early the next morning and built an altar at the foot of the mountain and set up twelve stone pillars representing the twelve tribes of Israel. Then he sent young Israelite men, and they offered burnt offerings and sacrificed young bulls as fellowship offerings to the LORD. Moses took half of the blood and put it in bowls, and the other half he sprinkled on the altar. Then he took the Book of the Covenant and read it to the people. They responded, We will do everything the LORD has said; we will obey. Moses then took the blood, sprinkled it on the people and said, This is the blood of the covenant that the LORD has made with you in accordance with all these words. Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and the seventy elders of Israel went up and saw the God of Israel. Under his feet was something like a pavement made of sapphire, clear as the sky itself. But God did not raise his hand against these leaders of the Israelites; they saw God, and they ate and drank.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - A Reading from the Prophets Jeremiah 31: 31-34,

"The time is coming," declares the LORD, "when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah. It will not be like the covenant I made with their forefathers when I took them by the hand to lead them out of Egypt, because they broke my covenant, though I was a husband to them, " declares the LORD. "This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after that time," declares the LORD. "I will put my law in their mind and write it on their hearts. I will be their God, and they will be my people. No longer will a man teach his neighbour, or a man his brother, saying, 'Know the LORD,' because they will all know me, from the least of them to the greatest," declares the LORD. "For I will forgive their wickedness and will remember their sins no more."

Third Reading - A Reading from the Epistles Romans 12: 1-2

Therefore, I urge you, brothers, in view of God's mercy, to offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God—this is your spiritual act of worship. Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is—his good, pleasing and perfect will.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

Fourth Reading - Gospel Reading -

Reader: This is the Gospel from John 15:1-10 All: Glory to Christ our Saviour

"I am the true vine, and my Father is the gardener. He cuts off every branch in me that bears no fruit, while every branch that does bear fruit he prunes so that it will be even more fruitful. You are already clean because of the word I have spoken to you. Remain in me, and I will remain in you. No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in me. "I am the vine; you are the branches. If a man remains in me and I in him, he will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers; such branches are picked up, thrown into the fire and burned. If you remain in me and my words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be given you. This is to my Father's glory, that you bear much fruit, showing yourselves to be my disciples. "As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Now remain in my love. If you obey my commands, you will remain in my love, just as I have obeyed my Father's commands and remain in his love

Reader: This is the gospel of Christ All: Praise to Christ our Lord

4. God of the covenant Lord God Almighty

Commentary on the Epiphany reading Matthew 2:1-12

The Bible reading shown above is that set for this Sunday by churches around the world as they celebrate the Sunday of Epiphany, the revelation of who Jesus is to the Magi. It is also particularly appropriate for us today as we share in the Methodist Covenant Service at the start of a new year

After Jesus was born in Bethlehem in Judea, during the time of King Herod, Magi from the east came to Jerusalem and asked, "Where is the one who has been born king of the Jews? We saw his star in the east and have come to worship him."

When King Herod heard this he was disturbed, and all Jerusalem with him. When he had called together all the people's chief priests and teachers of the law, he asked them where the Christ was to be born. "In Bethlehem in Judea," they replied, "for this is what the prophet has written: "But you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, are by no means least among the rulers of Judah; for out of you will come a ruler who will be the shepherd of my people Israel."

Then Herod called the Magi secretly and found out from them the exact time the star had appeared. He sent them to Bethlehem and said, "Go and make a careful search for the child. As soon as you find him, report to me, so that I too may go and worship him."

After they had heard the king, they went on their way, and the star they had seen in the east went ahead of them until it stopped over the place where the child was. When they saw the star, they were overjoyed. On coming to the house, they saw the child with his mother Mary, and they bowed down and worshiped him. Then they opened their treasures and presented him with gifts of gold and of incense and of myrrh. And having been warned in a dream not to go back to Herod, they returned to their country by another route.

I do love the sound of the Authorised King James, version of the Bible being read out aloud in church. Especially perhaps at Christmas, those old familiar words have a special resonance. Sadly it does not serve us well in the episode from Matthew Chapter 2 which we read today in our lectionary for Epiphany. It recalls,

'Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the King, behold there came wise men from the East to Jerusalem.'

The Feast of the Epiphany, on the 6th January, remembers and celebrates the adoration of Jesus by the Magi from the East. However the original greek text just calls them 'Magi'. The story of these 'Magi' is shrouded in much legend and the description used in the Authorised King James does not help us, as the words 'wise men' are without justification. Since there were three gifts we have often thought that there were three Magi . Often we think of them as three wise men, surely their actions do show them to be wise, but there is nothing to suggest that there were only three or that they were only men. We might just as easily assume that since they brought rich gifts, they were also kings and have them wearing crowns, and we could also imagine that they travelled by ship, (I saw three ships.!) Legend has gone so far as to name them Melchior, Caspar and Balthasar.

What we do know is that pagan astrologers existed whose divinatory skills were widely respected in the Graeco-Roman world. Astrology had become popular as the 'science' of the East, and everybody agreed that the best astrologers lived in the East. The Old Testament was not kind to this interpretation of signs (Deut 18:11, Is 2:6), so it is perhaps surprising in some ways that Matthew includes the story. However the fact remains that many people are firm adherents to the notion that we can consult with astrologers to best determine our path in life. Throughout the ages we can remember famous people and world leaders such as Queen Elizabeth or the Reagan's who would not take important decisions without first being advised by astrologers.

The story of the Magi has provided material not only for countless school plays but also for centuries of prolific Christian art and paintings. The Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem is said to have been saved from destruction by invading Persians because they saw representations of the Magi on the walls and recognised them as fellow countrymen in the portrayal of them.

What we do know is that these Magi recognise Jesus for who he is, and give him their gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. Their learning leads them to the destination of their searching into the presence of the infant Christ.

Christians have understood these gifts to be profoundly symbolic and prophetic.

1. Gold represents the kingship of Jesus.
2. Frankincense is a fragrant resin which is burned as incense to symbolize the presence of God, it therefore acknowledges the divinity of Jesus.
3. Myrrh is a precious oil used for anointing the body, which serves to foretell the death of Jesus.

Perhaps that gift of gold would be used to help pay for the subsequent flight of Jesus and the holy family to Egypt.

The Greek word 'epiphany' is about 'manifestation', 'making known', and it has been used for the last two thousand years to describe God coming closer to the people, revealing himself in his Son, Jesus. At Christmas the light is born, at Epiphany that light is made known to all people. Such universalism is enshrined in the story of the Magi, Jesus is for all people not just one religious group. No longer will salvation be seen in terms of the hereditary principle 'we are children of Abraham.'

Epiphany Eve is twelfth night and we are encouraged to make sure that we have removed the Christmas decorations. As Jesus, the light, has been born into the world, so that light is surrounded by darkness. In a sense this is a time for getting back to reality. If they haven't already, then now the tinsel and the glitter must give way to real life. ;

The gifts remind us of the wonder of who Jesus is, but they also proclaim that his life is one of suffering and death. Soon the holy family must flee an attempt on the life of the child and innocent babies will be slaughtered by Herod, jealous of the one born to be King of the Jews.

At Epiphany the light of the world is made manifest in Christ, visible to good and bad alike, to the wise men and to Herod. Each of these reacts differently one with joy and one with confrontation. Each of us must measure our own reaction and the gifts which we bring.

Jewishness had been the principle upon which salvation rested until Jesus. The children of Abraham were marked by circumcision to show that they belonged to the chosen few. This symbol of exclusiveness set them apart as belonging to God's family. This circumcision was soon to be replaced with a new symbol, baptism would proclaim to the world that a person had died to sin and was alive in the new kingdom which Jesus proclaimed and established. This would no longer be restricted to a certain people by birth, it would be available freely to all people.

The visit of these Magi at Epiphany is the beginning of this new understanding of the wideness of God's revelation of himself. The Magi were gentiles and they would be the first to represent the new inclusion of the many nations of the world. Just as the Magi were guided by a star that was brighter than all of the others, from this time on all the nations would see in Jesus a revealing of God's love which was greater in magnitude than had ever been seen before. The Magi might have been very wise, they might even have been men, we will never know. However in the very mystery of their background lies some of their most enduring attraction, for they have come to symbolise not only the opening of the entire geographic world to the revelation of Jesus, but also the entire intellectual world as their astronomy, science and learning brings them close to Christ. Charles Royden

Prayers for the week

Holy Jesus, before your infant form sages bowed the knee and acknowledged your Lordship over all power and wisdom. Grant us also clear vision and courage, that in the light of your light, we may devote our power and potential to your service even when that requires us to go home by another way. Amen.

Church of Scotland

Almighty and everlasting God, you have revealed the incarnation of your son by the bright shining of a star, which the wise men saw, and offered costly gifts in adoration; let the star of your justice always shine in our hearts; that we may give as our treasure all that we are and all that we possess, to your service; through Jesus Christ our lord. Amen. Gelasian Sacramentary

Hymns for Sunday

1 Hail to the Lord's Anointed,

Great David's greater Son!
Hail, in the time appointed,
His reign on earth begun!
He comes to break oppression,
To set the captive free,
To take away transgression,
And rule in equity.

He comes, with succour speedy,
To those who suffer wrong;
To help the poor and needy,
And bid the weak be strong;
To give them songs for sighing,
Their darkness turn to light,
Whose souls, condemned and dying,
Were precious in his sight.

He shall come down like showers
Upon the fruitful earth;
Love, joy, and hope, like flowers,
Spring in his path to birth;
Before him, on the mountains,
Shall peace the herald go;
And righteousness, in fountains,
From hill to valley flow.

Kings shall fall down before him,
And gold and incense bring;
All nations shall adore him,
His praise all people sing;
To him shall prayer unceasing
And daily vows ascend,
His kingdom still increasing,
A kingdom without end.

O'er every foe victorious,
He on his throne shall rest;
From age to age more glorious,
All-blessing and all-blest.
The tide of time shall never
His covenant remove;
His name shall stand for ever,
His changeless name of Love. Cruger (204 MP)

2 Father God, I wonder how I managed to exist

Without the knowledge of Your parenthood and Your loving care.
But now I am Your child,
I am adopted in Your family,
And I can never be alone,
'Cause Father God, You're there beside me.

I will sing Your praises, I will sing Your praises,
I will sing Your praises, forever more.
I will sing Your praises, I will sing Your praises,
I will sing Your praises, oever more.

3 Come, let us use the grace divine,

And all, with one accord,
In a perpetual cov'nant join
Ourselves to Christ the Lord:

Give up ourselves, through Jesu's power,
His name to glorify;
And promise, in this sacred hour,
For God to live and die.

The cov'nant we this moment make
Be ever kept in mind:
We will no more our God forsake,
Or cast his words behind.

We never will throw off his fear
Who hears our solemn vow;
And if thou art well pleased to hear,
Come down, and meet us now.

To each the cov'nant blood apply,
Which takes our sins away;
And register our names on high,
And keep us to that day.
Charles Wesley (1707-1788) Tune: Dundee

4 God of the covenant, Lord God Almighty

Marvels of mercy adoring we see;
Calling from sin and from darkness a people,
Bonded to Christ by a timeless decree.

Not now by words bringing death to transgressors,
Life giving grace the new covenant brings;
Jesus our surety, our kinsman redeemer,
Round us the robe of his righteousness flings.

Blessings on blessings through ages unending,
Covenant fulness in glorious flood;
Ours is a hope which no mortal can measure,
Brought in by Jesus and sealed in his blood.

God of the covenant, changeless eternal,
Father, Son, Spirit, all-blessing, all-blessed;
Yours is the greatness, the power and the glory:
Lord God on you we forever shall rest.
Jessie F Webb Epiphany Hymn 11 10 11 10

Joan and her family send Christmas and New Year Greetings to all their friends at Putnoe Heights and St Mark's. I wanted to thank everyone who sent us lovely cards and notes this Christmas. I am settling well into my new job at Westminster School. The boys and girls are very clever and fun and I have a huge number of delightful and interesting colleagues (though no-one as delightful as Charlie and Sam, naturally!). In addition to the School, I have a great deal to do with the life of Westminster Abbey, which is an unexpected privilege. The Dean and Chapter have been most welcoming and I have been presented with a very smart red cassock to wear in Abbey services! Bishop Christopher and I are now taking bookings for our art gallery tours company and it is nice to keep seeing him in his retirement. The family are all well. I am enjoying being in London with Paul during the week and we are back home in Bedford for some weekends and holidays. Kate is studying English and History at Goldsmiths College in London and Nick is in his second year at UCL. I am hoping to see you in 2009. My thoughts and prayers are often with you and I send my love. Joan Putnoe Tablecloths Putnoe Heights are missing six of their peach cotton tablecloths (possibly borrowed for an event and not returned) - these will be needed for next week's New Year Dinner. Please contact Putnoe Office if you have any ideas as to where they are?

2008 sees the "Year of the Child" marking the 30th anniversary of the United Nations International Year of the Child in which we celebrate children and young people in the church and community. We will be joining with many other churches through out Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire on Saturday 8th May at St Albans Cathedral for a day of worship, stories, music and crafts as we invite our children to "travel around the world" There are many more exciting things booked such as a planetarium and is going to prove a great day for the young and not so young. I have been representing Putnoe and St Marks with this project and together with St Mary's we are going to cover the Europe crafts so now I am looking for anyone who can support us on the day as we are expecting up to 500 children. Thank you.. Liz

Diary Date. We are planning an after Christmas Table Top Sale at Putnoe on Saturday 28th February. Tables can be pre booked if you would like to sell your own items or there will be a church table. Please come along and support us and enjoy some lunch refreshment. Help on the day would be appreciated. Further details to follow please see Liz or Linda, thank you.

Putnoe Winter Grapevine. Following the success of the summer edition I am looking for articles for the next issue please let Liz have your news by Sunday 25th Jan.

Stella Brooks was in hospital for some time before Christmas and is now in Lloyd Lodge Residential Home, 2 St George's Road. Her sister Alwynne and friend Connie have sent cards and letters to the people listed in Stella's address book and apologise if church members have been inadvertently missed out. Stella has asked us to pass on her thanks for all cards and good wishes sent to her and to send her best wishes for the year ahead to all at Putnoe Heights and St Mark's Churches. Correspondence should still be sent to her Little Headlands Address

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.
