Thank You

The flowers at St Mark's this week have been given by Barbara Edwards in memory of her husband Cyril, and those in the Chapel are given by Mrs Beck and family on the first anniversary of the death of her husband Peters.

The flowers at Putnoe Heights have been given by Deborah and Kevin Wallace in loving memory of their daughter Julie-Marie on her birthday.

Mrs Sam Ware [telephone 304058] has taken over the distribution of Sunday flowers from Putnoe Heights. If you know of anyone who would appreciate receiving a bunch of flowers, please let Sam know.

Prayer for Sunday

Give us love, O God, in our thinking and our speaking; love in all our doings and love in the hidden places of our souls; help us to love our neighbours; show us how to love those we find hard to bear and those who find it hard to bear with us; reveal your love in our joys and our sorrows; in our life and in our death; now and for ever. Amen

William Temple, 1881-1944

Psalm 67:6
The Land has yielded its harvest:
God, our God has blessed us.

Opening Verses of Scripture Phil 3:14

Forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus.

Collect Prayer for the Day

(Before we read we pray)

God the giver of life, whose Holy Spirit wells up within your church: by the Spirit's gifts equip us to live the gospel of Christ and make us eager to do your will, that we may share with the whole creation the joys of eternal life; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen Common Worship

First Bible Reading - Exodus 20: 1-4,7-9,12-20

And God spoke all these words: "I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery. "You shall have no other gods before me. "You shall not make for yourself an idol in the form of anything in heaven above or on the earth beneath or in the waters below "You shall not misuse the name of the LORD your God, for the LORD will not hold anyone guiltless who misuses his name. "Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy. Six days you shall labour and do all your work, "Honour your father and your mother, so that you may live long in the land the LORD your God is giving you. "You shall not murder. "You shall not commit adultery. "You shall not steal. "You shall not give false testimony against your neighbour. "You shall not covet your neighbour's house. You shall not covet your neighbour's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbour." When the people saw the thunder and lightning and heard the trumpet and saw the mountain in smoke, they trembled with fear. They stayed at a distance and said to Moses, "Speak to us yourself and we will listen. But do not have God speak to us or we will die." Moses said to the people, "Do not be afraid. God has come to test you, so that the fear of God will be with you to keep you from sinning."

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Second Reading- Phil 3: 4b-14

Though I myself have reasons for such confidence. If anyone else thinks he has reasons to put confidence in the flesh, I have more: circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; in regard to the law, a Pharisee; as for zeal, persecuting the church; as for legalistic righteousness, faultless. But whatever was to my profit I now consider loss for the sake of Christ. What is more, I consider everything a loss compared to the surpassing greatness of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord, for whose sake I have lost all things. I consider them rubbish, that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which is through faith in Christ—the righteousness that comes from God and is by faith. I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of sharing in his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, and so, somehow, to attain to the resurrection from the dead. Not that I have already obtained all this, or have already been made perfect, but I press on to take hold of that for which Christ Jesus took hold of me. Brothers, I do not consider myself yet to have taken hold of it. But one thing I do: Forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord—Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Matthew 21: 33-46

"Listen to another parable: There was a landowner who planted a vineyard. He put a wall around it, dug a winepress in it and built a watchtower. Then he rented the vineyard to some farmers and went away on a journey. When the harvest time approached, he sent his servants to the tenants to collect his fruit. "The tenants seized his servants; they beat one, killed another, and stoned a third. Then he sent other servants to them, more than the first time, and the tenants treated them the same way. Last of all, he sent his son to them. 'They will respect my son,' he said. "But when the tenants saw the son, they said to each other, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him and take his inheritance.' So they took him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. "Therefore, when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?" "He will bring those wretches to a wretched end," they replied, "and he will rent the vineyard to other tenants, who will give him his share of the crop at harvest time." Jesus said to them, "Have you never read in the Scriptures: " 'The stone the builders rejected has become the capstone; the Lord has done this, and it is marvellous in our eyes'? "Therefore I tell you that the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people who will produce its fruit. He who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces, but he on whom it falls will be crushed." When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard Jesus' parables, they knew he was talking about them. They looked for a way to arrest him, but they were afraid of the crowd because the people held that he was a prophet.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

God our Father, whose Son, the light unailing has come from heaven to deliver the world from the darkness of ignorance: let these holy mysteries open the eyes of our understanding that we may know the way of life, and walk in it without stumbling; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Hymns (Please distribute Mission Praise and Morning Worship)

1. All creatures of our God and King 7
2. Jehovah Jireh 354
3. O thou who camest from above 525
4. Take my life and let it be 624
5. Praise to the holiest in the height 563

Commentary

The Old Testament reading is the Exodus version of the Ten Commandments. I am always struck how it was when the Israelites were lost and wandering in the desert, at a time of immense need, that God met them and spoke with them in such a profound manner. They have been fed with the manna and the quail, they have drunk water that has come from a rock and now they are given the precepts on which so much of our modern society depends upon. Shortly after God gives these commandments to the people of Israel Moses approaches the thunder and lightening and the 'thick darkness where God was'. It's a salutary reminder that even in the darkness God is there, ready to meet with us however dire our apparent circumstances. Sometimes it can be easy to think about God and to pray when all is right with the world and ourselves. It's another thing when times are difficult and we seem to have all the cares and worries of the world on our backs. Exodus reminds us that God is with us in our darkness and that He will lead us through into the lightness of His freedom and salvation. We have a hope and a confidence in Christ. And as strong as this hope and confidence is, Paul reminds us that our challenge can sometime be to put our trust in Christ alone. By Jewish and Roman standards Paul had every reason to be confident. He lists His Jewish credentials in the today's Epistle. The Jews would see Him as a 'good boy, from a 'good family', from a 'good tribe' with a 'good education'. He'd make a 'good catch' for someone you can imagine the mothers all saying. He also has good Roman credentials which gives him a status in the society in which he lives. But he lays aside all these Jewish and worldly credentials to take hold of 'that which Christ took hold of for Him', a restored relationship with the Father. He wants to press on to know Christ and the power of His resurrection and even sharing in the fellowship of His sufferings so that He too can come through the darkness of the world into the light of Christ.

The gospel reading brings to a head the debate which has been occurring throughout Matthew's gospel, the exchanges between Jesus and the Pharisees and scribes where the Pharisees and scribes question the authority of Jesus and Jesus is questions their understanding of the Law, and by extension, of

God. Landowner and vineyard would be understood by the listeners, and certainly by the chief priests and Pharisees as God and Israel. The wall symbolises the Torah, the law given to Moses so that the Jews could be God's special people and a light to the world. The present tenants, the current Jewish religious leaders, know that the Messiah will take away their primacy. They must kill Him in order to retain the inheritance for themselves. Jesus makes it clear that He, as the stone the builders rejected, is the Messiah and that the Kingdom of God is now being taken out of their hands and given to those who will know what to do with such a privilege and responsibility and produce fruit and share in the harvest. In Hebrew the word for son is 'ben' and the word for stone is 'eben'. The stone of Isaiah is linked to the Messianic stone in Daniel (Dan 2 v 31 – 45), the Kingdom that will never be destroyed, and both are linked to the son and stone and the coming of His Kingdom in this gospel story. For the Jewish listeners it's a chilling tale. Paul sees himself as being one of the vineyard tenants and understands the importance of trusting in the Messiah alone. He realised that along with others he was not the perfect tenant of the vineyard and needed the salvation that the Messiah could bring. We too may not be the perfect tenants of the vineyard, God's Kingdom on earth, but we too have a responsibility to hear God's calling on our lives and respond to Him as Paul did, caring for His Kingdom and trusting in Christ as our saviour alone. That is the responsibility we have today as Christ's church. And whatever state we or the church may be in, our Old Testament and New Testament readings reminds us that our confidence is in the God who meets with His people, sometimes in the darkness, and offers us all eternal life through the resurrection of His Son. It's a reminder too that we are to take our responsibilities seriously, whatever they may be. In the recent news we have heard and read about what may be seen by some as a lack of responsibility in the financial markets which has certainly led to many people being in tough and difficult places at the current time. As the Jews found in the wilderness, God meets with His people in the dark places of the world. Indeed, sometimes it seems like we need to be in those dark and desperate place before we are desperate enough to meet with Him. As Paul's life would testify, our security is not in the financial markets but in God alone and He meets with us whenever we turn to Him, in the dark places and the light, in good times and in bad, as we put our trust in Him alone as our Lord and Messiah. Sam Cappleman

Meditation

The Gospel of Matthew shows one of the components of Jesus' ministry was specifically to the people of Israel, the Jews, to call them back to their original experiences of God's saving love and their genesis as God's chosen people. Through Matthew both the people of Israel and the people of Christianity are reminded of just who they are in God's eyes and how they are to respond. History has shown how, at one time or another, all of us can be resistant to the call of God and the mission of Jesus. The Gospel reading, which echoes and quotes a similar story in Isaiah 5, is a stark reminder that we need to be always open to the call of the Lord, open to hear His voice and obedient to His commands. Neither should we undervalue or waste the gift of the vineyard, which He has given us. We are holy stewards of His good news and His Kingdom and we are to share generously with all who share His creation with us.

Prayers

God, our light and our salvation: illuminate our lives, that we may see your goodness in the land of the living, and looking on your beauty may be changed into the likeness of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
Common Worship Shorter Collect

Blessed are you, O lord, and blessed are those who observe and keep your law. Help us to seek you with our whole heart, to delight in your commandments and to walk in the glorious liberty given us by your Son, Jesus Christ, in whose name we make our prayer. Amen Methodist Worship

God of all Holiness and hope, cleanse the church from all that is selfish, complacent and worldly, that we might reflect your glory and bring hope to those who seek direction and meaning to their lives. Amen

I know what must be done. Only now am I beginning to be a disciple. May nothing of powers visible or invisible prevent me, that I may attain unto Jesus Christ. Amen Ignatius of Antioch

May God grant that we who have worshipped Him may be witnesses to Him in His world, and the blessing of God Almighty, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, be with you and remain with you always. Amen

Help us today, Our God, to look very closely at what we have done, with your most precious gifts to us. Make us aware of and grateful for, the ways you have blessed our lives. As we bring these gifts, bless us with the joy only "givers" can know. John Jewell

"Friends For Life" requires a secretary/co-ordinator to provide IT and Secretarial services and assist the management team with the co-ordination of the North Bedfordshire Anglican/ Methodist ministry to Care Homes in the area.

Good communication skills and IT competence [data base/spread sheets etc] are essential with the ability to work from home and be self-motivating. The ownership/use of a PC and telephone are necessary and the use of a car would be helpful. This position is on a self-employed basis with up to 20 hours per month at varying times and periods in the month as convenient, with occasional evening meetings. The position can be fully paid at an agreed hourly rate, or be part or totally on a volunteer basis. Knowledge of local Methodist/Anglican church structures would be helpful. Some experience of Care Homes and /or the care of the elderly a big advantage. Please contact Chris Izzard if you wish to apply . 01234 212164. Autumn Mission Project After evaluating a number of options for projects to support it has been agreed that both churches will support Mission Aviation Fellowship for our Autumn mission project this year.

Goldington Family Centre is holding a Charity Gala Evening on Thursday the 30 October 2008. We will be showing the new Bond movie Quantum of Solace at Cineworld, Aspects Leisure Park Bedford. This will be our major fund raising event of the year and we hope it will be a glamorous and successful evening. The evening begins at 7pm with a free glass of champagne and a light bite with a showing of the movie at 7.30. Once the movie ends an auction will be led by one of Peacock's fine auctioneers with lots of great things to bid for. We will be awarding a prize to the best dressed lady and gentleman. Tickets only £20 (over 18s only) If you would like to purchase tickets please contact Luisa at the centre on 01234 341977

The Macmillan Coffee morning held at the Littleford's house on 26th September raised £126.00. Very many thanks to all who were able to come, donate and support. Valerie and Peter.

Woodland Burial Trust Trustees meeting 12.30pm, 12 October at Putnoe Heights.

Thank you to all friends who have sent cards, flowers and good wishes during my stay in hospital. Your thoughts and prayers are so much appreciated. I started my chemotherapy treatment this week so I am looking forward to Spring 2009. Maureen Simmonds

Putnoe Heights Church Community Centre opens new hall and kitchen facilities

Thank you to all who worked hard to bring to a conclusion our fantastic new facilities at Putnoe. We are grateful to WREN (Waste Recycling Environmental Ltd) for the generous gift of £80,000. We are also grateful to our superb architect, Mr John Creasey and Meadsway Construction for their expertise. Special thanks to Barry Snelson for his hard work over the past months, supported by our excellent team of volunteers.

The official opening of our new facilities. We appreciated Sue Allen and the wonderful ladies of our Putnoe Catering Team who provided refreshments to celebrate the happy occasion.

Anjulita Court The new building is now under construction by The Ibbett Trust for Methodist Homes for the Aged in Brickhill. It is hoped that this complex will be opened during 2009 and information leaflets will be available in the New Year. If there are any members of our congregations who would like to be put on the mailing list, please let Pam Kinselly 354480 know and she will make sure you get all available details when they are published.

Christmas Craft Fayre There are only 7 weeks left to our Annual Christmas Craft Fayre on Saturday 22nd November 2008. We would be grateful for help with the following:-

Raffle – Raffle books are now available as from Sunday 5th October. It would be really appreciated if you could take a few books to sell to family, friends and work colleagues. They will be on the hymn book table after the service.

Tombola – Any new unwanted gifts/birthday presents etc. for our Tombola stall. Please bring any items up to the Church Office in the week beginning 17th November 2008.

Cake Stall - Millie is kindly co-ordinating the cake stall again. If you are able to bake a cake for this stall please contact Millie via the Church Office. If anyone is interested in helping on the day, please speak to Avril Williams or the Church Office. When the Fayre closes around 3.30 we would be grateful for helping in clearing up and getting the Church ready for Sunday Worship. Your support would be very much appreciated.

As this is one of our main fundraising events of the year and we are hoping to make it an even bigger success than last year. Your support in helping us achieve this is very much appreciated.

Thank you Avril

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

John Harold Place
