Thank You

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Veta Hudson-Rae in memory of her parents, and by the family of Mima Noble to celebrate her 90th Birthday

The flowers in church at St Mark's this week have been given by Mary Hall to welcome her first Great Grandson Alexander.

We are grateful when people make donations towards flowers perhaps to celebrate a special occasion such as an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact Miss Marion Prior 303254 (St Mark's) or Ann Hitt 404186 (Putnoe Heights) or add your name to the rota in the foyers.

Prayer for Sunday

O God, who did prepare of old the minds and hearts of people for the coming of your Son, and whose Spirit ever works to illumine our darkened lives with the light of the Gospel, prepare now our minds and hearts that Christ may dwell in us and ever reign in our thoughts and affections as the King of love and the very Prince of Peace. Grant this, we pray for his sake. Amen.

Second Sunday of Advent

Opening Verses of Scripture—Luke Chapter 3

'Prepare the way for the Lord, make straight paths for him.'

Collect Prayer for the Day -

Before we read we pray

O Lord, raise up we pray, your power and come among us, and with great might succour us; that whereas, through our sins and wickedness we are grievously hindered in running the race that is set before us, your bountiful grace and mercy may speedily help and deliver us; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord., to whom with you and the Holy Spirit, be honour and glory, now and for ever. Amen. Common Worship

The people who were honoured in the Bible were the false prophets. It was the ones we call the prophets who were jailed and driven into the desert. Noam Chomsky, 20th century

First Bible Reading - Malachi Chapter 3:1-4

"See, I will send my messenger, who will prepare the way before me. Then suddenly the Lord you are seeking will come to his temple; the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, will come," says the LORD Almighty. But who can endure the day of his coming? Who can stand when he appears? For he will be like a refiner's fire or a launderer's soap. He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; he will purify the Levites and refine them like gold and silver. Then the LORD will have men who will bring offerings in righteousness, and the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem will be acceptable to the LORD, as in days gone by, as in former years.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Second Reading— .Philippians Chapter 1:3-11

I thank my God every time I remember you. In all my prayers for all of you, I always pray with joy because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now, being confident of this, that he who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus. It is right for me to feel this way about all of you, since I have you in my heart; for whether I am in chains or defending and confirming the gospel, all of you share in God's grace with me. God can testify how I long for all of you with the affection of Christ Jesus. And this is my prayer: that your love may abound more and more in knowledge and depth of insight, so that you may be able to discern what is best and may be pure and blameless until the day of Christ, filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ--to the glory and praise of God.

This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Luke 3: 1-6

In the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar--when Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, Herod tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and Traconitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene--during the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John son of Zechariah in the desert. He went into all the country around the Jordan, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. As is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet: "A voice of one calling in the desert, 'Prepare the way for the Lord, make straight paths for him. Every valley shall be filled in, every mountain and hill made low. The crooked roads shall become straight, the rough ways smooth. And all mankind will see God's salvation.'"

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

O Lord our God, make us watchful and keep us faithful as we await the coming of your Son our Lord; that, when he shall appear, he may not find us sleeping in sin but active in his service and joyful in his praise; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Meditation

The people who were honoured in the Bible were the false prophets. It was the ones we call the prophets who were jailed and driven into the desert. Noam Chomsky, 20th century

Hymns (Please distribute special service sheet, Mission Praise, and baptism sheets at Putnoe)

1. O come o come Immanuel 493,
2. There's a sound on the wind, 681
3. What child is this 749
4. Down from his glory 116
5. Lo, He comes on clouds descending, 424

Commentary

We do not know huge amounts about John the Baptist, the cousin of Jesus. We know that he ate insects and that he conducted his ministry 'on the other side of the Jordan.' This means Perea, one of the territories controlled by Herod Antipas. Josephus the Jewish historian tells us that John was later imprisoned in the fortress Machaerus in the same region. So we find that John is arrested in the same place in which he conducts his faithful ministry.

This fact would not be lost on people who knew about John the Baptist. We are told by Matthew that Jesus said 'John did not blow with the wind'. The point that Jesus was making was that John was a man of principle. He told the truth as he saw it and he was not prepared to water it down to avoid offending anybody.

He is clearly not an ambitious man, he had no designs on one of the top jobs back in Jerusalem. Instead he spoke his mind freely without fear or desire for favour and the people flocked out to hear him, attracted by his honesty and integrity. Subsequently he was killed by Herod for this very fact.

John called for obedience to God and he demonstrated that this was a costly commitment. The Christian community came to know that the way of the Lord was the 'via dolorosa', a way of the cross. Many of the Christians who read this Gospel would also be executed for their message and mission.

John is the first to proclaim God's kingdom. He announces it not in the Temple but in the desert the place where the faith of so many before had been tested and a place where people like Moses had encountered God. The Jewish people had built a Temple but they were called back to the desert across which they had come into the promised land. The average person can only go a couple of day in the wilderness without water. The prophets use the desert as a metaphor for estrangement from God, it is frightening, lonely and dangerous, yet it is to here that John calls the people for renewal. Perhaps that is where God still wants to meet us, in the place where we are stripped of distractions and ready and anxious to listen. In the desert all our facades are removed.

There was confusion as to who John was. People asked him "Are you Elijah?" That might seem a strange question. The prophet Elijah had lived around 900 years previously, and tradition had it that he never actually died, but was taken up to heaven in a whirlwind. (2 Kings 2:9-12). In the last verses of the Old Testament, the prophet Malachi prophesied his return (Malachi 4:5-6), so people might have suspected that this was some miraculous return. Jesus said John was a prophet, 'This is the one about whom it is written:

'I will send my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way before you.'

This Sunday in Advent is a time in which we should all hear the words of John the Baptist and search within ourselves and ask the difficult questions which he posed. Are we prepared to be challenged about ourselves and our ideas and our behaviour. When John the Baptist told people to make straight paths for God, he meant that we should be constructing a different type of society, and that we should be constructing within ourselves hearts which care for others.

We have a natural tendency to grow complacent with what we are. John asks us to be able to question ourselves. So is yours a heart which is really under construction, or have you decided that now you are fine and need no more attention?

We all have roads which need to be made straight. So John calls afresh to change the landscape of our personal lives and more importantly of our communities.

Quite rightly people asked John to give them specific concrete examples of the kind of lifestyle changes he was preaching about. 'what shall we do' they said.

He told them -

- If you have two coats share one of them with somebody who has no coat.
- The same with food, share it around
- He told tax collectors not to take more than was their due, stealing and taking too much money was bad.
- They were told not to be violent or make false accusations against others.

These are not specific to the time of John the Baptist, they are eternal values of justice and compassion. Not one of the people who came out to John, apart from Jesus, was ready for the coming of the Messiah, they all had work to do on their lives. You and I are just the same.

And so preparing for Advent means facing introspective questions about whether our religion is skin deep, to what extent we are devoted to ourselves or to others, whether we are living good or bad lives, how much we care for the poor, the weak, the sick or the stranger, the old. Am I a compassionate person, a caring person, how can I do more to contribute towards the needs of others?

Prayers for Sunday and the Week Ahead

God, when we pray for peace, show us again and again that there can be no peace without justice and the renewal of integrity. When we are tempted to retreat into sentimental peace of mind, stir within us the passion of the prophets. The sense of justice of Amos, the social vision of Isaiah, the internal courage of Jeremiah and the personality of Hosea. The God, within the struggle for righteousness and equality, for wholeness and honesty, come to us with a special greeting which you alone can provide, dispelling our fears, cancelling our guilt, refreshing our spirits; the welcome, the peace, of your son Jesus Christ our Risen God.

Out of meaninglessness, God calls us, Out of brokenness, God calls us to wholeness Out of division, God calls us to community Out of tears, God calls us to laughter Out of self-centredness, God calls us to love Out of death, God calls us to life....

Putnoe Heights Church invites you to join our mini Christmas Tree Festival Collect a cardboard Christmas tree from the youth team and as an individual, family or church/community group decorate the tree for us, telling us who you are, and we will display them in the church during December. Trees must be left at the church office before Sunday 6th December. More details for collecting your tree from Liz on 01234 302349 youth @ thisischurch.com

Nativity Scenes. On Saturday December 19 we are holding a nativity festival at Putnoe Heights, that is if there are nativities to show! So far I have one from South Africa, the promise of another African one and a huge banner, designed by a good friend of mine. But I'd like more! This is where you come in, if you have a nativity scene that is special to you or your family in some way, and you are willing to lend it to us for the weekend before Christmas, please could you let me know! It doesn't matter what it looks like, is there one someone knitted for you? Is there a slightly tatty one with teeth marks of a over enthusiastic child in (or maybe a character is missing)? Is there one that has been part of your families for so long it wouldn't seem like Christmas without it? Is there one from a particular holiday, or maybe there's one from a difficult time in your life that you'd be willing to share? Whatever the story I think it would be great to share it, I hope to be able to display a wide variety, and produce a 'programme' which has a little 'story' about each one. Although I don't need them until the day, I'd like to have any stories ASAP and idea of numbers by the previous week, to enable the production of the programme! Jane Mason
