Prayer for This Week

Glorious God, give me grace to amend my life and to have an eye to mine end without grudge of death, which to them that die in thee, good Lord, is the fate of a wealthy life. Give me, good Lord, a full faith, a firm hope and a fervent charity, a love to thee incomparable above the love to myself. Give me, good Lord, a longing to be with thee, not for the avoiding of the calamities of this world, nor so much for the attaining of the joys of heaven, as for the very love of thee. (Sir Thomas More 1478 - 1535)

Opening Sentence from Scripture — Psalm 8:3-9

When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place, what are we, that you are mindful of us, humankind that that you care for us? You have made us a little than the heavenly beings, and crowned us with glory and honour. O Lord, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth!

Collect Prayer (Before we read we pray)

Almighty Father, whose Son was revealed in majesty before he suffered death upon the cross: give us grace to perceive his glory, that we may be strengthened to suffer with him and be changed into his likeness, from glory to glory; who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Common Worship

First Bible Reading — Exodus 24: 12-18

The Lord said to Moses, "Come up to me on the mountain and stay here, and I will give you the tablets of stone, with the law and commands I have written for their instruction." Then Moses set out with Joshua his aide, and Moses went up on the mountain of God. 14 He said to the elders, "Wait here for us until we come back to you.

Aaron and Hur are with you, and anyone involved in a dispute can go to them." When Moses went up on the mountain, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the LORD settled on Mount Sinai. For six days the cloud covered the mountain, and on the seventh day the Lord called to Moses from within the cloud. To the Israelites the glory of the Lord looked like a consuming fire on top of the mountain. Then Moses entered the cloud as he went on up the mountain. And he stayed on the mountain forty days and forty nights.
(This is the Word of the Lord — Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - 2 Peter 1:16-21

We did not follow cleverly invented stories when we told you about the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. For he received honour and glory from God the Father when the voice came to him from the Majestic Glory, saying, "This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased." We ourselves heard this voice that came from heaven when we were with him on the sacred mountain. And we have the word of the prophets made more certain, and you will do well to pay attention to it, as to a light shining in a dark place, until the day dawns and the morning star rises in your hearts. Above all, you must understand that no prophecy of Scripture came about by the prophet's own interpretation. For prophecy never had its origin in the will of man, but men spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit. (This is the Word of the Lord — Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading - Matthew 17: 1-9

After six days Jesus took with him Peter, James and John the brother of James, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. There he was transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and his clothes became as white as the light. Just then there appeared before them Moses and Elijah, talking with Jesus. Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here. If you wish, I will put up three shelters—one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah." While he was still speaking, a bright cloud enveloped them, and a voice from the cloud said, "This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased. Listen to him!" When the disciples heard this, they fell facedown to the ground, terrified. But Jesus came and touched them. "Get up," he said. "Don't be afraid." When they looked up, they saw no one except Jesus. As they were coming down the mountain, Jesus instructed them, "Don't tell anyone what you have seen, until the Son of Man has been raised from the dead. (This is the Word of the Lord — Thanks be to God)

Hymns (Please distribute Mission Praise, Family Worship and Baptism Booklets)

2. Who put the colours in the rainbow, On Partnership News;

Commentary

Today's gospel reading follows the declaration by the disciples that Jesus is the Messiah. Their decision about Jesus is not prompted by what they see on the mountain. It's more like what they see and hear on the mountain is a confirmation of what they have already come to believe, that Jesus is indeed the Messiah. As Jane Williams writes, "This is my Son, my Beloved' – you have made the right choice". But that vindication of choice did not mean an endorsement of the disciples' view of what they believed the Messiah to be, far from it. It was only after the cross and resurrection that the disciples would come to understand the full extent of Jesus' Messiahship. They would see that it involved suffering as well as glory, pain as well as light and life, the hard path to life, not the easy path to fame and success.

God's glory rests on the mountain for six days and then Moses enters into the cloud following his summons; Jesus waits six days and then goes up the mountain. The memory of the glorious encounter would last with Peter, James and John for the rest of their lives and into eternity. Whatever they would encounter as they followed Jesus, the joys, trials and tribulations of life as a disciple of Jesus, that experience and memory would remain with them. They would recall it at night, they would think of it as Jesus spoke to them and taught them of His Father's love for them and the world. They would hold it before them as they went out into the community in which they lived, to share what it meant to have had an encounter with the Son of God and the transformation that brought in their own lives.

It's perhaps not surprising that it is these same disciples who are with Jesus in His hour of deepest agony and darkness in the Garden of Gethsemane. In the dark, they would remember the light. In the hour of Jesus' deepest affirmation and challenge, they would remember the mountain top experience. And yet, not all the disciples experienced the transfiguration. They, like many others to follow them, would need to live off the experience of the few who had witnessed first hand the intervention of God and His voice speaking in His creation.

Mystical experiences are not just the privilege of a few. Each of us in our own way can experience similar mystical experiences at different times of our lives. They can be times when we are reassured of God's personal relationship and love for us as individuals, they can assure us of God's purpose in our lives, or that can just be a mystical experience of a power other than ourselves in our lives for a brief moment. There can be times when we hear God's voice as clearly as the disciples did, even though for most of the time we struggle to hear the thunder of God through the everyday noise and clamour of the world. But just because we do not always see and hear the transforming and transfiguring light and voice of God does not mean that they do not exist, for others or for ourselves.

The gospel writers captured the story of the transfiguration so that it would become a shared experience. Shared not just with the other disciples, who might have expected to rightfully share in the experience, but shared with the many generations who would follow in the disciple's footsteps as followers of Christ. Our faith will always be a mixture of our own personal experience and spiritual journey and the reflected experience and stories of others on the same road. We may not always hear and experience God in the same way as others but we should not deny the reality of that experience just because it is not ours. God, through His Son Jesus, speaks to each one of us differently, meets with us in different ways; wants us to encounter Him not only in our mountain top experiences but in our valleys of despair. And as He does, as we acknowledge the voice that says, 'This is my beloved Son, listen to Him', as we listen to Him and let the light of the transfiguration into our lives, so Christ is able to transfigure and transform our lives. Rev Dr Sam Cappleman

Meditation

Transfiguration Sunday marks the end of the season of Epiphany. There is a lot of talk about light during Epiphany, beginning with the shining star that led the Wise Men to Jesus. Epiphany literally means 'to shine on' or 'give light to' and today's gospel reading about the Transfiguration are all about light shining, from people's faces, because they have encountered the mystery of God. Transfiguration is the culmination of the epiphany season, the grand finale, where Jesus is revealed to us as being one with God. This biggest epiphany of all comes just before Ash Wednesday and the season of Lent. There is a connection between this epiphany - the transfiguration - and what is to follow. The transfiguration is the prelude to the cross. Jesus' return trip down the mountain is the beginning of his fatal journey to Jerusalem. We too have our mountain top experiences before we are sent back down the mountain and out into the world to reflect the light we have encountered.

Post Communion Prayer

Holy God, we see your glory in the face of Jesus Christ: may we who are partakers at his table reflect his life in word and deed, that all the world may know his power to change and save. This we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

As the beautiful, dew covered rose rises from amongst its thorns, so may my heart be so full of love for you my God, that I may rise above the storms and evils that assail me, and stand fast in trust and freedom of spirit. Amen. Hadewijch of Brabant - 13th Century

Lord, in so many ways we are blind to you. We too fail to see you for who you are. Forgive us when we miss the reality of your transfiguring and transforming presence among us. Amen

Almighty God, you sent your Son to proclaim your kingdom and to teach with authority. Anoint us with the power of your Spirit, that we, too, may bring good news to the afflicted, bind up the broken hearted, and proclaim liberty to the captive; through your Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

God of dawning light, hear our prayers today and give us the strength to put aside all cares and to chose to follow you in your kingdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Christ the Son of Righteousness shine upon you and scatter the darkness from before your path; and the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit be among you and remain with you always. Amen

Partnership Lent Course

The Lent course this year will be held at Putnoe Heights and look at the essential of Christian belief as expressed in the Apostles Creed. I believe in God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Refreshments will be served from 7.30pm with each session starting at 8.00pm and lasting one hour. Since the series will look at the foundation of Christian belief it would be particularly helpful for anybody who is considering confirmation. Please speak with one of the ministers if you would like to consider this.

A Hymn for Sunday

- 1 Who put the colours in the rainbow?
Who put the salt into the sea?
Who put the cold into the snowflake?
Who made you and me?
Who put the hump upon the camel?
Who put the neck on the giraffe?
Who put the tail upon the monkey?
Who made hyenas laugh?
Who made whales and snails and quails?
Who made hogs and dogs and frogs?
Who made bats and rats and cats?
Who made ev'rything?
- 2 Who put the gold into the sunshine?
Who put the sparkle in the stars?
Who put the silver in the moonlight?
Who made Earth and Mars?
Who put the scent into the roses?
Who taught the honey bee to dance?
Who put the tree inside the acorn?
It surely can't be chance!
Who made seas and leaves and trees?
Who made snow and winds that blow?
Who made streams and rivers flow?
God made all of these!

interpretation of Pakistan's blasphemy law, but as minister for minorities he was clear that it was his obligation to promote tolerance, acceptance and justice for Pakistani citizens regardless of their religious affiliation.

"His assassination fuels fear of growing sectarian bigotry and violence, not just in Pakistan but worldwide.

"It is a cause for concern, not only because of its implications for the safety of religious minorities, but also because of the questions it raises about the will or the ability of the Government of Pakistan to defend the rights and freedoms of all its people.

"We urge the Government of Pakistan to do all in its power to bring the perpetrators of such violence to justice. It is profoundly important that we all work for a society in which respect is given and difference honoured, where people can be sure of their security.

"Meanwhile we assure the family, friends and supporters of Mr. Bhatti of our deep sympathy, praying with them in their personal distress. We continue to support all those working for justice and stability in Pakistan, whatever their faith. The Methodist Church wishes to express its admiration for those who continue to avoid the sin of silence in the face of such atrocities and urges prayer for the government and people of Pakistan."

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'
