The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been kindly given by Elsie Slack in memory of her husband Hartley and friends of Jennie Cooper.

The flowers at St Mark's Church this week have been given by Gill Williams in memory of David.

Prayer for Sunday

Lord Jesus: You call us to be Salt and Light; Salt in a world that is filled with your richness, yet many lead insipid lives. Help us to add flavour to the lives of others, to sprinkle all that we do with your love, so that others may savour your goodness.

Sentence of Scripture Isaiah 58

Is not this the kind of fasting I have chosen:
To loose the chains of injustice
and untie the cords of the yoke,
To set the oppressed free and break every yoke?
Is it not to share your food with the hungry
And to provide the poor wanderer with shelter -
When you see the naked, to clothe him
And not to turn away from your own flesh and blood?

Collect Prayer for the Day Before we read we pray
Almighty God, by whose grace alone we are accepted and called to your service: strengthen us by your Holy Spirit and make us worthy of our calling; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Common Worship

First Bible Reading- Isaiah 58:1-9a

“Shout it aloud, do not hold back. Raise your voice like a trumpet. Declare to my people their rebellion and to the house of Jacob their sins. For day after day they seek me out; they seem eager to know my ways, as if they were a nation that does what is right and has not forsaken the commands of its God. They ask me for just decisions and seem eager for God to come near them.

‘Why have we fasted,’ they say, ‘and you have not seen it? Why have we humbled ourselves, and you have not noticed?’ “Yet on the day of your fasting, you do as you please and exploit all your workers. Your fasting ends in quarrelling and strife, and in striking each other with wicked fists. You cannot fast as you do today and expect your voice to be heard on high.

Is this the kind of fast I have chosen, only a day for a man to humble himself? Is it only for bowing one’s head like a reed and for lying on sackcloth and ashes? Is that what you call a fast, a day acceptable to the LORD? “Is not this the kind of fasting I have chosen: to loose the chains of injustice and untie the cords of the yoke, to set the oppressed free and break every yoke?

Is it not to share your food with the hungry and to provide the poor wanderer with shelter – when you see the naked, to clothe him, and not to turn away from your own flesh and blood?

Then your light will break forth like the dawn, and your healing will quickly appear; then your righteousness will go before you, and the glory of the LORD will be your rear guard. Then you will call, and the LORD will answer; you will cry for help, and he will say: Here am I.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Second Bible Reading - 1 Corinthians 2:1-16

When I came to you, brothers, I did not come with eloquence or superior wisdom as I proclaimed to you the testimony about God. For I resolved to know nothing while I was with you except Jesus Christ and him crucified. I came to you in weakness and fear, and with much trembling. My message and my preaching were not with wise and persuasive words, but with a demonstration of the Spirit’s power, so that your faith might not rest on men’s wisdom, but on God’s power.

We do, however, speak a message of wisdom among the mature, but not the wisdom of this age or of the rulers of this age, who are coming to nothing. No, we speak of God’s secret wisdom, a wisdom that has been hidden and that God destined for our glory before time began. None of the rulers of this age understood it, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. However, as it is written:

“No eye has seen, no ear has heard, no mind has conceived what God has prepared for those who love him” – but God has revealed it to us by his Spirit.

The Spirit searches all things, even the deep things of God. For who among men knows the thoughts of a man except the man’s spirit within him? In the same way no-one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. We have not received the spirit of the world but the Spirit who is from God, that we may understand what God has freely given us. This is what we speak, not in words taught us by human wisdom but in words taught by the Spirit, expressing spiritual truths in spiritual words. The man without the Spirit does not accept the things that come from the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him, and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually discerned. The spiritual man makes judgments about all things, but he himself is not subject to any man’s judgment:

“For who has known the mind of the Lord that he may instruct him?” But we have the mind of Christ.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Let your light shine
before others that they may see your good deeds
and glorify your
Father in heaven

Jesus

Gospel Reading - Matthew 5:13-20

"You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt loses its saltiness, how can it be made salty again? It is no longer good for anything, except to be thrown out and trampled underfoot. "You are the light of the world. A town built on a hill cannot be hidden. Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven.

"Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them. For truly I tell you, until heaven and earth disappear, not the smallest letter, not the least stroke of a pen, will by any means disappear from the Law until everything is accomplished. Therefore anyone who sets aside one of the least of these commands and teaches others accordingly will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever practices and teaches these commands will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I tell you that unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - All: Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

God of truth, we have seen with our eyes and touched with our hands the bread of life: strengthen our faith that we may grow in love for you and for each other; through Jesus Christ our Lord

Hymns (Please distribute Morning Worship Sheets)

1. Come, let us worship the Lord of our birth (Tune: Slane)
2. All earth was dark until you spoke (Tune: Lights to the world)
3. Lord Jesus, once you spoke to men (Tune: Winchester New)
4. Thou whose almighty word, chaos and darkness heard (Tune: Moscow)
5. God has spoken-by his prophets (Tune: Ode to Joy)

Commentary

Today we read that Jesus draws metaphors from daily life to describe the role of his disciples.

1. Like salt, the disciples are to add zest and flavour to life.
2. Like a city, they are to be visible for others to see.
3. Like a lamp, they are to be visible enlighten others.

Jesus uses ordinary images to convey extraordinary things, the point about them is that all three stand out and all three make a difference.

Salt Some theologians have suggested that salt cannot lose its savor, but this is not true. Impure salt, dug from the deposits of the Dead Sea could lose its saltiness as the sodium chloride is dissolved or evaporated. Jesus is also using a play on the Aramaic words here, Tabel means salt and Tapel means foolish. The point Jesus is making is not about the chemistry of salt but rather by using a play on words he shows that a disciple who is not bearing witness appropriately in the world is worthless and might as well be thrown out in the street - where they tended to throw their rubbish before there were bin collections !

Light The purpose of being a disciple is to bear witness in word and deed, just as obviously as the reason for a lamp is to give light. The disciples are to give light to the world, the entire world. Jesus uses the word Kosmos, which shows that he sees himself as being not just for Israel but for all nations, all people.

So we are supposed to ask in what ways we are different because we are Christians. How is your life different because of your Christian faith? Christians we know believe certain things and that is really important. However we spend so much time fussing over the details of belief, rather than questioning what difference, if any, our belief makes. That is in itself interesting because most of the time people outside the church do not really bother about what we believe, they are more interested in how we behave. So today Jesus asks us how our belief actually makes a difference. Are you changing your environment or just reflecting it ? Jesus tells us that our task is to allow others to see, in the brightness of our lives our heavenly Father at work. It is to God, and not to ourselves that our lives must point. This might sound more like a job for the Pope, the Archbishop of Canterbury, another Mother Theresa or the Dali Lama - someone with clout and a big voice. Someone who speaks, or makes a visit to foreign lands and the world sits up to take notice. But - Jesus challenges us to seriously consider our calling to the world. For better or worse, we have been chosen by God to address others with the message we have received. We may communicate the message with words, but as the ending of the passage suggests, we are also to do it by our good works. Our good deeds are to witness to what we believe. When people see them they are to be drawn to their source- our God. We disciples are, like it or not light of this world. To put it another way, we are fingers that point to God. Our lives are to be such that when people see us they look to the direction we are pointing.

Even though many of us have been told to "watch our salt," nevertheless, salt, in moderation, is a very good thing. It makes food tasty. What's encouraging is that salt is such a seemingly insignificant and tiny element. It's a good metaphor for the ordinary Christian. We may feel insignificant, but in the divine scheme of things, we have a part to play. Salt may not change or affect the whole world, but it certainly affects the smaller world with which it comes in contact. We have to be more than just fitting in with what is around us, we are supposed to make a difference as we act and speak. We are called not just to reflect society but to change it. If we simply absorb the prevailing attitudes around us, then we are like thermometers. Christians should not be simply indicators of what is happening around. Instead we are called to be like thermostats, we are supposed to be able to change the temperature of society, not just measure it.

Liberal optimism supposed that given the right conditions humankind could change itself. However, humankind is not evolving into a better species. Dawkins recently embarked on an aggressive crusade to rid the world of religion which he has described as 'impoverishing and limiting, not enriching'.

However the world without religious faith is not better, education has not brought an end to violence, instead we build better weapons and devise more skilful means to kill. Human endeavour has manufactured machines that are capable of producing amazing results, yet we use them to make people redundant, poor and without food, dignity or jobs.

Jesus is clear that the world cannot simply be left to turn out right, it requires treatment. We are lights in this world in that we have the one true light. Humankind has searched for answers, which it is doomed never to find. And yet we have the one true light and it is our task to make Him known to others. There is a way to God and a very simple one. It is to know one person, Jesus Christ of Nazareth, He is the Son of God and He came from heaven to earth to seek and to save that which was lost. He came to illuminate the darkness, to expose the cause of darkness and to make a new way of living. If we feel daunted by the task of being salt and light. If we think that we won't measure up, then fear not. For all we are really asked to do is to walk with Christ. It is not ourselves that we proclaim, it is Jesus that we take to our world. Charles Royden

Meditation

A survey by the Bible Society has shown a growing ignorance among both children and parents about the contents of the Bible. Three in 10 young people were unaware the story of the birth of Jesus came from the Bible.

Almost half did not recognise the story of Noah's Ark as coming from the Bible. A similar number of children had never read or heard about tales of the Crucifixion or Adam and Eve. Many confused Biblical stories with plotlines from well-known films such as Harry Potter. A quarter of adults think that Superman is in the Bible! The report was based on a poll of 800 children aged eight to 15 and about 1,100 parents. The study revealed a generation of children with little knowledge of the most important stories forming the basis of Christianity, and parents who often knew little more. Dr Richard Chartres, Bishop of London said 'Sharing Bible Stories is as vital now as it has ever been. Too few children have the opportunity to hear and reflect on what this life-changing book contains.'

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

Let the fragrance of your glory draw us into your presence, O Christ. Let the perfume of your love be our salvation and let the scent of your sacrifice bring us your blessing. Amen. Aelred of Rievaulx (1110-1167)

God our Father, in this centenary year, we thank you for the life and witness of your Church in this Diocese of St. Albans, for making us your pilgrims and disciples in our own day. May we always be valiant for truth and ready to live your love in our lives, for Jesus' sake. Amen

Lord Jesus Christ. You are the Light of the World: Light up our lives when we are in darkness. In the darkness of our uncertainty — When we don't know what to do, when decisions are hard to take: Lord, give us light to guide us. In the darkness of our anxiety - When we are worried about what the future may bring, When we don't know where to turn: Lord, give us the Light of Your Peace. In the darkness of our despair — When life seems empty, when we feel there is no point in going on: Lord, give us the Light of Your Hope, In Your Name we ask it. Amen. Jean Good

The St Albans Diocese of the Church of England, which covers Hertfordshire and Bedfordshire, are holding an event at Keysoe in Bedford to celebrate 100 years of the Diocese in its current form

This is a unique opportunity which will see the largest ever gathering of the Diocese on 25 August 2014 at the College Equestrian Centre, Keysoe. Coaches are already being booked by churches from places as far afield as Watford, Stevenage, Leighton Buzzard and Sharnbrook.

Plans are already in place to provide facilities for over 5,000 visitors to be accommodated safely as we know that this free event will attract many people who have little or no connection with churches but will be attracted by this free event, with no charges for parking.

Entitled Celebrate 100 the event will combine fun activities, such as the internationally famous Essex Dog Display Team and 'It's a Knockout'. Classic car displays will include cars from across the last 100 years, including a special display of vehicles from the entire history of MG. There will be a large outdoor stage and if weather is good we would expect that bands will continue to play into the evening. Hosted by Pam Rhodes of Songs of Praise there are many professional performers who have been booked to contribute to the entertainment. In the event of wet weather the event will not be cancelled but moved indoors into the equestrian arena.

This special day will start at 10.00am and run into the early evening. Please put this date in your diary and come and help Celebrate 100 execution. And in the shadow of the cross, it casts light on some of the women who Jesus stands alongside, sharing in their suffering. Echoing through time, it renews our expectations of the kingdom of heaven and who might share its inheritance.

Lent 2014

On Wednesday 9 April we will be hosting a performance of the Passion Play Inheritance by the Riding Lights Theatre Company at St Mark's. Tickets are free and available from Church offices. Inheritance will provide a communal experience of theatre and worship. The performance provides an opportunity to reflect on Christ's Passion and gives space for the audience to make their own response at the foot of the Cross for our Lent preparation.

Inheritance

On a dusty road leading to Jerusalem, a woman stumbles towards her judgement. Just weeks later, Jesus will take the same road, leading to the cross...

In Capernaum, the town they both call home, they are rejected. In the temple where they worship, they are condemned. The synagogue leader plots to destroy them both. Inheritance weaves the strands of the biblical Passion into a dramatic new narrative. It evokes the community where Jesus lived, the people who knew him best, the powers that brought him to

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.
